MIDWEST DROUTH AREA'S THIRD DAY OF INTENSE HEAT

RECORD READINGS AT SEVERAL POINTS

No Rain in Sight in Next 36 Hours, Weather Bureau Says—WPA Putting Farmers to Work.

CHICAGO, July 6.—Intense heat increased damage and distress in the midwestern drouth belt today, the third straight day of generally high temperatures.

Mitchell, S. D. and Phoenix, Ariz. were the hottest spots in the United States yesterday with 114 degrees, the Weather Bureau reported today. Even that temperature, however, was one degree lower than the 115 recorded at Mitchell July 4, an all time high for the city and the highest reading in the State.

Abnormal heat seared the prairie from the Rocky Mountains to western Kentucky yesterday. Marks were broken at Williston, N. D., and Rapid City, S. D., with readings of 110 and 106 degrees, and at Sioux Falls, S. D., with 109. A new record of 105 was established at Moline, Ill., and other high readings followed.

Miles City, Mont., and Pana, Ill., 108; Hastings, Neb., 107; Bismarck, N. D., 106; Grand Island, Neb., 105; Des Moines, Ia., and Dickinson, N. D., 104; Havre, Mont., 102; Huron, S. D., 100.

Little relief in sight. Scattered showers fell in Southern and Atlantic states. Light precipitation was indicated for tomorrow in some parts of the Dakotas, Wisconsin and Indiana but the general prediction was for hot, dry weather.

Thousands of Catholics in Nebraska knelt at special masses yesterday to pray for rain. In an episcopal letter on "these days of alarm and distress," Bishop L. E. Rucera of Lincoln said:

"In view of crop failures in our territory during the past several years, the present situation gives rise to a most acute problem. Human ingenuity fails completely. Poisoned marsh may conquer the grasshopper plague but what shall we do to move those things which only God can control? There is but one answer. We must pray."

In Arizona the Navajo Indians chanted supplications in a "rain-making" ritual.

WPA Calls Farmers to Work. About 3,000 drouth-stricken farmers in Wyoming, North Dakota and Montana were called to work on WPA relief projects. Administrators planned to employ at least 50,000 in building water conservation dams and farm-to-market roads in those states and South Dakota and Minnesota.

In North Dakota, where week-end temperatures were 100 degrees and above, 2119 men prepared to shift from farmer-producers to labor-consumers today. Hundreds were to be added to relief projects as the week progressed until the State's quota of 10,000 was filled.

AAA spokesmen said buying of distressed cattle in the North Central states would proceed but that there would be no immediate heavy purchases.

White House Conference Held on Situation in West. WASHINGTON, July 6.—Three administration officials discussed the severe Western drouth with President Roosevelt today. They were Rexford G. Tugwell, Reclamation Administrator; Aubrey Williams, Assistant Works Progress Administrator; and J. B. Hudson, acting Administrator of the AAA.

Reporting record temperatures ranging from 100 to 110 degrees in Western drouth states, the Weather bureau said today no rain was in sight for the grain states during the next 36 hours. A Weather Bureau bulletin said the last three days, with extremely high temperatures between the Mississippi Valley and the Rocky Mountains, continuing period of the drouth so far.

The bureau predicted continued high temperatures in the North Western area today and tomorrow. Since July 3, the bureau said, additional showers have fallen in much of the South and the drouth generally from Mississippi, Louisiana, Central Texas and Southern Missouri northward over the

TWO ST. LOUIS TRAINS CRASH IN OHIO, 4 HURT

Second Section of Missourian, Eastbound, Runs Into First in Fog Near Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, July 6.—Four persons suffered minor injuries early today when the second section of the Big Four train, the Missourian, ran into the first section near North Easton, O.

The injured train was New York-bound from St. Louis, with 11 cars in the first section and four in the second. The injured were taken to a Cleveland hospital.

D. A. Fawcett, trainmaster at Bellefontaine, said the crew of the first section stopped to investigate whether some object of Louisville, Ky., sprained back, and Mrs. E. E. Kuppelink of Lynn, Mass., scalp wound.

Mrs. Whitehead was asleep when she heard a crash and found herself on the floor of the sleeping car.

Four major league baseball players and an umpire, on their way from St. Louis to Boston for an all-star game, were on the train but not injured. They were Leon (Goose) Goslin, Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe and Charley Gehringer of the Detroit Tigers; Rollie Hemmley of the St. Louis Browns and Umpire Bill Summers of the American League. Umpire Brick Owens, who was on his way here for the Cleveland-St. Louis Cardinal exhibition game, also was on the train.

ICE CREAM FIRM'S PRESIDENT ROBBED OF $300 IN AUTO

Holdup Man Enters Machine of Michael Miller After It Was Forced to Curb.

Michael Miller, president of the Spirit of St. Louis Ice Cream Co., 4857 Easton avenue, was held up and robbed of $300 about 1:15 p. m. today by a man armed with a revolver who entered his machine after it had been crowded to the curb by another car at Euclid and Cote Brillante avenues.

After taking the money, the man forced him to drive to Geraldine avenue and Penrose street, where he left the car and fled.

Miller was on his way from his place of business to deposit the money at Mound City Bank & Trust Co., Union boulevard and St. Louis avenue. Another automobile had followed him, apparently from the bank and when it forced him to stop the robber quickly got out and entered Miller's machine, flourishing his weapon. The man ran west on Penrose street, disappearing at Union boulevard after he left Miller's machine. The money was insured.

By the Associated Press. TOKIO, July 7.—(Tuesday)—A special court-martial early today sentenced 17 leaders of the Feb. 26 rebellion to death and five others to life imprisonment.

The court also convicted 44 non-commissioned officers and eight civilians, ordering them imprisoned for terms ranging from 18 months to 15 years.

The charges against them included murder, rebellion and disobedience to the commands of the Emperor.

It was in this rebellion that the Premier, Admiral Katsuo Okada, narrowly escaped assassination. Three other statesmen were killed.

Those sentenced to death are: Capt. Teruzo Ando, Third Infantry regiment, who shared command of the Tokyo rebellion with Capt. Shiro Nonaka. Nonaka committed suicide Feb. 29. Another rebel who killed himself was Flight Capt. Hishashi Kono. Ando shot himself but recovered. Capt. Kiyosada Koda, First Infantry regiment. Infantry First Lieutenant Masaru Tanaka. Infantry Second Lieutenant Hachiro Hayashi, and Taro Takahashi. Infantry Second Lieutenant Yu Yasuda. Engineer Second Lieutenant Kanji Nakajima. Asachi Isobe, former Quartermaster Captain. Zensuke Shibukawa, graduate of the army cadet school. Yoshaki Nakamura, former Communist, active in labor organizations. Genji Minakami, army officer retired Feb. 26.

Those sentenced to life imprisonment are: Infantry Second Lieutenant Kiyoshi Mugiya, Minoru Tokiwa, Kohji Kiyohara, Kenji Suzuki and Toshihiko Ideeda.

The court also sentenced Yu Yamamoto, former Infantry Lieutenant, to 10 years in jail.

Since there is no appeal from the court's judgment it is considered likely the death sentences will be carried out in a day or two.

Shortly after midnight Feb. 26 the officers leading the rebellion ordered 1400 men under their command out of barracks in Azabu ward and marched them to the heart of the capital.

Assassins Enter Home. Before dawn small groups of officers armed with pistols, machine guns and swords, and riding in automobiles, descended on the residences of the empire's leading statesmen in Tokyo intending to paralyze the existing Government by assassination. Three men were killed in their homes.

Three of the victims were Admiral Count Makoto Saito, Lord Keeper of the Privy Seal and former Premier; Gen. Jotaro Watanabe, Inspector-General of Military Education; and Kuroki Takahashi, Minister of Finance.

Premier Okada escaped when the assassins who invaded his official residence killed instead, his brother-in-law, Col. Denzo Matsuo, who resembled the Premier in appearance.

Besides these murders the rebel officers were accused of killing five policemen. Assassins also attacked and seriously wounded Admiral Kanto Suzuki, Grand Chamberlain of the Imperial Court.

Rebel leaders made unsuccessful attempts outside of Tokyo to kill Count Nobuaki Makino, former Lord Keeper of the Privy Seal, whose home they actually attacked, and Prince Kinmochi Sojinji, last of the Genro, or elder statesmen, but these two were forewarned and escaped.

After the assassinations the rebel officers, with their enlisted men, most of whom were entirely ignorant of their leaders' purposes, occupied for three and a half days the Nagata-cho district in the heart of the capital; including such Government buildings as the Premier's official residence, the new Parliament Building, the Home Ministry, the War Ministry and the general staff offices.

The rebels defied the Government and broke several agreements to surrender. The rebellion finally collapsed when the 1400 enlisted men heeded the Government's appeals and promises of leniency and laid down their arms.

The officers were arrested, and since Feb. 29 most of them have been lodged in the military prison at Shibuya, on the outskirts of the capital.

ROOSEVELT TALKS TO FARLEY

President Will Discuss Aid's Future Publicly Tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—A two-hour conference between President Roosevelt and Postmaster-General Farley ended today with no announcement whether Farley would retire or take a leave of absence to devote his exclusive attention to the post of chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

INQUIRY ORDERED IN DEATH ON IOWA TREASURE FARM

$213,500 FOUND; MORE IS SOUGHT

Man Named Heir to Real Estate Stands Guard in Effort to Keep Out Other Claimants.

TIPTON, Ia., July 6.—The Cedar County Board of Supervisors today authorized exhumation of the body of Henry Iwers, whose hidden fortune lured treasure seekers to the Iowa farm near here. Already $213,500 had been found on the farm.

The board said it passed the resolution after receiving "orders from the State Department of Health and advice from the Attorney General's office."

Iwers was buried in the Durant (Ia.) cemetery.

At Des Moines, Glen Schmidt, State Investigation Bureau chief, said an attorney for relatives of Iwers had asked the Bureau to investigate circumstances of the farmer's death.

"Now there is nothing for us to do but await results of the autopsy," Schmidt said.

Iwers died May 30, 1936. Schmidt said he was informed the death certificate said the cause was double pneumonia.

Yamamoto and Margaret Voss of Limburg, cousins, were named heirs to the farm. Voss guarded the property today against claimants desiring to search the premises for additional hidden wealth. "Some of the claimants have engaged a lawyer to contest the will on the charge that Voss and his wife did not take proper care of Iwers."

Iwers was the last of three bachelor brothers who amassed the fortune. The Vosses discovered the treasure last week after stories had been current for some time. An iron box dug up on the property yielded $88,000 in securities which were taken to a Davenport bank. A second search uncovered a second box containing $112,000 in gold and silver certificates, bonds, undivided dividend checks. The same $35,000 was found in the house.

Belief that there is much more money somewhere around has foundation in the fact that the currency found has been of the old type, and that the brothers handled large amounts since the smaller new bills were issued five years ago.

BRITAIN GIVES UP QUERYING GERMANY ON WORLD PROGRAM

Eden Tells Commons That Ambassador to Berlin Has Reminded Hitler Several Times.

LONDON, July 6.—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden made it clear to the House of Commons today that the British have given up asking the Reichsfuehrer Hitler for an answer to the questionnaire concerning Germany's international ambitions.

Said Eden: "I am not prepared to ask for an answer any more." The members of the House cheered him.

An announcement came in answer to a query by Arthur Henderson whether the foreign secretary would consider making representations to Germany to hurry up the answer, awaited approximately six weeks.

Eden said Sir Eric Phipps, British Ambassador to Berlin, "had reminded the German Government on more than one occasion" of the British desire for an early reply.

Eden stated the British still were hopeful of general negotiations with Germany and rejected a member's request for an inquiry into whether Germany was building fortifications in the Rhineland.

"I do not think it would be appropriate to raise this individual question separately at this moment."

AMERICAN SPY FOR JAPAN GETS 15-YEAR TERM

Harry Thomas Thompson, Former Yeoman in Navy, Convicted in Los Angeles, Sentenced.

FIVE YEARS SHORT OF THE MAXIMUM

Judge Takes Prisoner's Youth Into Consideration, but Denounces Him for Betrayal of His Country.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 6.—Harry Thomas Thompson, former United States Navy yeoman, was sentenced today by United States District Judge Leon Yankwich to 15 years in Federal prison for conspiracy to sell secret navy information to an agent of Japan. The judge said he took into consideration the youth of the defendant in failing to impose the maximum sentence of 20 years for espionage. He said also that Thompson was not of "the criminal type."

The court, however, severely denounced the convicted spy, declaring: "The highest quality of man is loyalty and we have the right to expect loyalty to all human associations. That is why the name of Judas Iscariot has been execrated through the ages. He betrayed for silver."

"You have been convicted of a most serious offense which strikes at the very foundation of the nation, espionage in matters relating to the national defense. Your betrayal was of a type which any intelligent jury would and which this jury did consider puerile."

"You were paid to secure information—secret information—as to naval matters and movements which would help the kingdom of Japan."

Thompson replied in the negative when asked if he had anything to say.

The convicted man's attorney, R. George O'Hannesson, asked the Court to show as much leniency as possible.

"He will be branded forever with the mark of Cain—the mark of a traitor," said O'Hannesson in asking for leniency.

The Government called witnesses to prove Thompson, in the uniform of a naval officer, boarded war vessels here and at San Diego and obtained confidential information concerning their equipment and movements which he sold to an agent of the Japanese Imperial Government.

Lieutenant-Commander Toshio Miyazaki, alleged Japanese agent who was indicted with Thompson, is reported to be serving as an instructor in the Tokyo naval college.

Thompson, the only witness for the defense, testified he received $700 and $800 from the Japanese officer, but declared he acted only as a "clipping bureau" and forwarded to the Japanese articles taken from newspapers and navy magazines.

SPARK FROM GRINDING WHEEL STARTS $3500 FIRE IN GARAGE

Pan of Gasoline Ignited in Building at 4750 Easton Avenue.

Fire when a spark from a grinding wheel fell into a pan of gasoline, started a fire which burned for an hour today at 4750 Easton avenue.

The flames swept quickly through the first floor of the building and burned about an hour. Two alarms were sounded. Traffic on Easton avenue was blocked for an hour during the fire, which started at 11 a. m. Two firemen were overcome by smoke and after treatment at De Paul Hospital, were sent to their homes.

Two other firemen were overcome by heat while fighting the blaze and were removed to hospitals for treatment.

A. C. Reid, owner of the business, who occupies quarters above the garage with his wife and mother-in-law, left the apartment safely. About 20 employees got out of the building without injury.

Louis Epstein, an employee, told police a man whom he knew only as Pete was grinding a tool when the spark fell into the gasoline, used for cleaning purposes.

SURVIVOR'S STORY OF ARCTIC TRAGEDY OF RUSSIAN PARTY

Youth Picked Up in Small Boat With Bodies of Ten Companions.

ARCHANGEL, U. S. S. R., July 6.—Twenty-year-old Ivan Krukoff told his story yesterday of a voyage through the wild waters of the White Sea with a cargo of 10 dead men. He is the only survivor of a party of 12 on a scientific expedition and reached safety in a lifeboat. The eleventh body was not recovered.

Thousands of persons attended a mass funeral yesterday for the victims.

The 12, headed by the hydrographer, G. Bardinoff, left the expedition's steamer Toros on June 27 in a small boat to make a study of the depth of the sea between Archangel and Kandalaksha Bay, on a route crossing the Arctic Circle.

"After three days' work," said the youth, "we decided to return to the ship. We were caught by a storm. Mountainous waves capsized the boat and swept away the oars, equipment and our comrades, Nikolai Fedoseyev."

"Struggling in the water, the rest of us with great difficulty managed to right the boat and climb in. Then for a day and a night we were the prey of a furious sea. We had no oars and we tried frantically to row with our hands."

"The boat constantly shipped water. We scooped it out with our hands and our caps. It was horribly cold. One after another my companions died of exposure and exhaustion until I was left alone with 10 bodies."

"The sea grew rougher and it was only by tying my right wrist to the oarlock that I was able to stick to the boat. The bodies of my companions remained in the bottom of the boat where I had placed them, but I was several times washed overboard, being held fast only by my lashed wrist."

When picked up by the Toros, the boat still held the bodies and the unconscious survivor.

The dead men were buried in the same grave. The Government will build a monument over it and give to each family $1000.

12 KILLED IN EARTHQUAKE

50 Injured in Shocks at Bamroud, Persia.

TEHERAN, Iran, July 6.—Twelve persons were killed and more than 50 injured today in an earthquake in Bamroud.

119 Recorded in South Dakota. KENNEBEC, S. D., July 6.—An all-time heat record for this section of South Dakota—119 degrees—was established yesterday. The mark is official, having been recorded on the Guffey act. Congress, the board said, has power to "protect commerce" by removing the causes of strikes.

LABOR BOARD ASKS FOR REHEARING ON THE WAGNER LAW

Petitions Appeals Court at New Orleans Again to Enforce Act Against Jones & Laughlin.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The National Labor Relations Board announced it was petitioning the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans today for a rehearing in a new effort to enforce the Wagner Act against the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation.

The petition said "the need for remedial legislation such as this act is now being amply illustrated by the threatened strife in the steel industry which will by its nature directly burden interstate commerce."

The act guarantees the right of collective bargaining, seeks to outlaw employer-dominated unions and lists unfair practices "for which employers could be penalized."

The Labor Board had issued an order directing Jones & Laughlin to cease alleged interference with its employees' attempts at self-organization and to take back 10 discharged employees at its Alliquippa (Pa.) plant.

The board asked the court to New Orleans to enforce this order. The court refused, declaring that the steel laborers were engaged in manufacture, not interstate commerce, and that the Constitution gave the Federal Government no power to regulate labor relations in manufacture.

The court cited the Supreme Court decision which knocked out the labor provisions of the Guffey coal control act on the ground that they were an invasion of state's rights.

The labor board, in its petition for a rehearing, argued that the type of regulation provided in the Guffey Act "is different from the employment of means to protect commerce itself provided in the (Wagner) National Labor Relations Act."

Unless "the threat of industrial warfare is alleviated," the board argued, workers may "directly and substantially interrupt interstate commerce."

It said the "express purpose of Congress to prevent such direct and intentional burdens to commerce itself, and to provide a means of settling disputes which lead thereto, distinguishes this statute" from the Guffey act. Congress, the board said, has power to "protect commerce" by removing the causes of strikes.

Steel Organization Drive. The board's move was the latest major development bearing on the struggle over unionization of the steel industry. Delegates from steel centers met

PLANS TO END SANCTIONS JULY 15 PUT UP IN LEAGUE

Co-ordinating Committee Fixes That Date in Recommendation, Sent to Assembly for Final Formal Vote.

HAILE SELASSIE LEAVES FOR PARIS

Geneva Group Being Formed to Consider Basis for Juridically Eliminating Ethiopia as Member Before September.

GENEVA, July 6.—The League of Nations Co-ordinating Committee adopted a resolution today fixing July 15 as the date on which to suspend economic and financial sanctions against Italy. The vote on the motion was unanimous.

The recommendation will be placed before the League assembly for final action.

"The Co-ordination Committee set up in consequence of the assembly recommendation of Oct. 10, 1935, with regard to the dispute between Ethiopia and Italy proposes the Governments which are members of the League should abrogate July 15 the restrictive measures taken by them in conformity with its proposals."

Debate Reviews Sanctions Efforts. War sanctions against Italy have been "by no means negligible," Augusto Vasconcellos of Portugal told the co-ordinating committee today. Vasconcellos, president of the committee, opened the session to remove of the League's first attempt to apply "punitive" measures against an aggressor.

He said it was obvious from the outset sanctions "could not be complete" because important countries are still outside the League. However, he cited extensive trade losses and decrease of Italian gold reserves as substantial results.

"Another attempt in the future might be even more successful," Vasconcellos added.

League delegates looked toward fresh discussions of reform of the League system of collective security.

Debate on the Italian-Ethiopian war question was ended by the Assembly's action Saturday in accepting a special committee's recommendation on the sanctions issue.

Plan to Ease Ethiopia Out. In the process of formation also was a League group to consider a possible basis for juridically eliminating Ethiopia from the membership list before the September meeting of the Assembly.

Former Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, defeated on the battlefield and the diplomatic front, left Geneva last night. The cheer, "Long live the Emperor," went up from a group of 20 persons at the railway station as his train pulled out for Paris.

Ras Kassa and Ras Nasibu, two of his Generals, waved farewell. They were left behind to represent him before the League.

Members of Haile Selassie's entourage said he was "a sick man, affected physically by the strain of the last few weeks." From Paris he will go to London to spend some weeks on the English seacoast under the care of physicians.

WHEAT AND CORN PRICES ADVANCE TO FULL LIMITS

Result of Reports of Serious Losses to Grain in U. S. and Canadian Drouth Areas.

CHICAGO, July 6.—Wheat and corn prices shot up the full limits provided by trading rules at the opening of domestic grain exchanges today. Wheat advanced 5 cents a bushel and corn 4 cents.

Reports of serious losses to wheat in drouth districts on both sides of the Canadian border influenced the broad wave of speculative buying that deluged the markets. Oats also went over the 2-cent limit placed on daily fluctuations in that market.

July wheat closed at 1.05½. Wheat prices have advanced more than 12 cents in two weeks and were now 23 to 25 cents higher than they were a year ago. July corn closed at 76½. July oats at 35½ and July rye at 73½. Wheat in Minneapolis sold as high as $1.21½ a bushel. On the Chicago market No. 1 hard wheat cash sold as high as $1.11 a bushel and the best grades of corn sold at 81 cents a bushel, the highest in more than a year. Soy beans gained 3½ cents being quoted today at $1.07½, the highest in two years.

LONDON RETURNS TO KANSAS, TAKES UP SECURITY ISSUE

To Address Special Session of Legislature Tomorrow on Question of Obtaining Federal Aid.

CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGE PROPOSED

Opposition Develops to Plan for Putting State Social Program in Line With National.

By the Associated Press.
TOPEKA, Kan., July 6.—Opposition to a proposed constitutional amendment to permit Kansas to comply with the Federal Social Security program developed in Democratic quarters today on the eve of a special legislative session called by Gov. Alf Landon, Republican Presidential nominee.

As the Governor opened conferences with legislative leaders on the proposed amendment, Senator Joseph McDonald, Democrat, of Kansas City, Kan., told reporters he would fight it.

"No constitutional amendment is necessary for Kansas to comply with the security program," McDonald said.

Home from his 10-day vacation at Estes Park, Colo., Landon put Presidential campaign plans aside for State problems.

The Advisory Legislative Council and the Judiciary Committee of the House and Senate were to meet to put the finishing touches on a proposed amendment, drafted by the council at a meeting in May. They hoped to have it in shape before the session opens tomorrow, so that its enactment might be expedited, and the session concluded by Friday.

Address Set for Tomorrow.
Tomorrow, Gov. Landon will appear before a joint session of the two houses to deliver a message on social security.

Informed at a press conference that opposition had developed to the amendment, Landon smiled and said: "I wouldn't be surprised if there is some difference of opinion."

Majority members of the Legislative Council have held that inasmuch as the State Constitution places responsibility for caring for the aged, infirm and unfortunate on the counties, the State cannot receive Federal assistance unless the Constitution is changed. The Federal program requires State supervision and administration as well as State financial participation.

Likewise, the council has held that a constitutional amendment is needed before the State can levy payroll taxes to finance the unemployment compensation phases of the program.

Conferences This Week.
Besides his special legislative session, Gov. Landon faces two important conferences here this week. Tomorrow he will confer with Representative Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, the Republican party's Eastern division campaign manager, and Thursday with former Gov. Lowden of Illinois on the farm problem.

Landon is expected to emphasize the farm issue in his speech of acceptance of the presidential nomination here July 23.

The Governor found Topeka busy preparing on a large scale for the notification ceremonies. He made several platform appearances as his train moved back through Kansas towns where crowds gathered to welcome him home. They wanted to know how many trout he caught and how he felt.

"They didn't all get away," was his answer.

235 WHITE ITALIAN SOLDIERS DIED IN EAST AFRICA IN JUNE

230 of Fatalities Due to Accidents and Illness; 50 Workmen Also Succeeded.

By the Associated Press.
ROME, July 6.—The announcement that 235 white Italian soldiers died in East Africa in June was published today. This makes an official total of 2555 white men, exclusive of workmen, lost in the Ethiopian war.

Sickness and accidents caused 230 of the casualties. Fifteen men were killed and five were reported missing in "police operations."

The sickness and accident total was by far the largest of any month since the operations began. Added to it were the deaths of 50 workmen.

Denials have been issued of reports published abroad that the troops are suffering from epidemics, particularly of dysentery.

U. S. TO GET TITLE TO 'NO MAN'S LAND' IN THE ROCKIES

Strip in Colorado Not Included in Any Cession, Through Surveyor's Error.

By the Associated Press.
DENVER, July 6.—Colorado's strip of "no man's land" officially comes into possession of the United States next month.

A mountainous area roughly 30 by 70 miles in Grand and Summit Counties in the northwestern part of the State will be formally claimed for the United States by Gov. Ed C. Johnson on Aug. 8, one week after Colorado's sixtieth anniversary of statehood.

Officials of the Federal Land Office in Denver several years ago discovered the United States had nothing to show its official title to the land because of a surveying error of many years ago. The land was not a part of the Louisiana Purchase of 1803, nor was it included in the land ceded by Spain in 1819. It lies beyond the boundaries described in both treaties.

In a letter to Representative Taylor recently, the Interior Department admitted the area was technically a "no man's land" as far as title goes, but said title to it was vested in the Government through acts of sovereignty.

Gov. Johnson will unfurl the United States and Colorado flags and take possession of the land in the name of the United States.

at Chicago to receive from Van A. Bittner, regional director for the organizing committee, their "first lesson" on plans for the campaign. One matter discussed was the opposition of employers to the John L. Lewis organization drive.

William A. Irvin, president of the United States Steel Corporation, recently issued a statement saying the concern "always has stood for the open shop and will continue to do so. It will never require employees to belong to any union to gain employment. On the contrary, it will defend their right to work free from outside interference and coercion." Other steel leaders have made similar statements.

After yesterday's conference Bittner said we will proceed with our plan to "mobilize steel workers regardless of the action taken by steel officials."

A. F. of L. Meeting Thursday.
The Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor will meet Thursday to decide whether to press charges of "dual unionism" against Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and his associates in the campaign to organize all steel employees.

By a "dual union" is meant a union outside the federation that takes in members eligible to a union belonging to the federation.

An attack on the industrial form of organization as historically impractical was made by John P. Frey, president of the Metal Trades Department of the federation.

Such unions, he said at Chicago, have been tried many times in the United States, and collapsed when put to the practical test years ago by Eugene V. Debs and the American Railway Union; by Daniel de Leon and his Socialists; Trades and Labor Alliances; by John Sherman and his Allied Mechanics; and by the Western Federation of Miners.

He said that "to mingle highly skilled and lower skilled (labor) into one organization is as impractical as endeavoring to mix oil and water, for the oil will persistently seek the higher level."

Industrial unionists contend that under modern conditions and mass production, workers in many big industries can exert their full power only when organized into one union.

COURT WRIT HALTS AUTO LABOR HEARING

Chevrolet and Two Other Firms Get Temporary Order From Appellate Judges.

A temporary restraining order to halt a hearing here by the National Labor Relations Board of a complaint of unfair labor practices against General Motors Corporation, Chevrolet Motor Co. and Fisher Body Corporation was issued at St. Paul, Minn., this afternoon by two judges of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

Charles A. Wood, trial examiner, before whom the hearing had been resumed today at the New Federal Building, announced that he would suspend the hearing on receipt of official notification of the Court's action.

The order was obtained by counsel for the respondent corporations, in connection with the appeal from the refusal of District Judge Charles B. Davis to enjoin the hearing by the NLRB.

Fred Bensing, former production superintendent at the local Chevrolet plant, was cross-examined this morning by Harold Hecker of respondents' counsel, on details connected with the assembling of an automobile.

Hecker tried to show through the examination that motor cars were "manufactured" rather than "assembled" at the plant. The interstate commerce phase of the case, as Government counsel seeks to develop it, is that the St. Louis plant is merely a link in the General Motors system, and that materials "flow" through the plant and are shipped out of the State in interstate commerce.

HOLMES HALL ORDERED TO REPAY $44,700 IN FEES
Attorney Gets 60 Days to Give Money Back to Two Oil Firms.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 6.—United States District Judge Albert L. Reeves today ordered Holmes Hall, former Sedalia attorney and once a member of the Missouri Legislature, to repay $44,700 in fees he received from two oil companies for serving as special master in a patent dispute.

The order, in accordance with a mandate from the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, directed Hall, now living in Virginia, to repay $22,350 to the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana and a like amount to the Universal Oil Products Co. of Chicago.

Hall's fee in the patent dispute between the two companies totaled $99,900. In 1931 he asked for an additional fee. At that time attorneys for the oil companies appealed, charging Hall had attempted to engineer a compromise between the litigants which would have enriched him by about $250,000. Hall appealed to the Supreme Court after the Circuit Court ordered him to repay the $44,700, but the Supreme Court dismissed his plea.

The bureau reported these maximum temperatures for July 3, 4 and 5, respectively: Des Moines, Ia., 102-108-106; Omaha, Neb., 110-110-104; North Platte, Neb., 104-106-102; Valentine, Neb., 106-108-108; Rapid City, S. D., 104-100-106; Sheridan, Wyo., 102-102-104; Miles City, Mont., 106-100-108.

Serious Damage Ahead for Illinois Corn Unless Rains Fall This Week
By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 6.—Agricultural officials said the threat of less drought conditions are relieved by rains this week, the corn crop will be seriously damaged. Drought and withering heat caused serious damage in many counties, especially in the upper and east central areas, said A. J. Surratt, agricultural statistician in the weekly report of the Illinois and Federal agricultural departments.

"Spring sown grains, pastures, garden crops and new seedlings of grasses showed a further decline in conditions under the withering heat," Surratt said.

Corn has reached a critical stage in the drier areas where serious damage will result unless drought conditions are relieved by rains this week. The major portion of the State corn crop is well rooted and plant growth unusually well advanced for this time of year and it has withstood the drought remarkably well.

"Local grasshopper damage is reported at widely scattered points although no serious damage is reported as yet. Chinch bugs represent the more serious threat of later damage to the Illinois corn crop. Cut worms and wire worms have also caused spotted damage in some areas."

New Heat Wave Damages Wheat in Western Canada.
WINNIPEG, Man., July 6.—A new heat wave swept Western Canada today, damaging wheat in South-Central Saskatchewan and across a wide stretch of Southern grain belt territory. Crops in parts of Southern Saskatchewan were said to be damaged beyond hope of recovery. Moisture reserve in other areas was rapidly being depleted.

Weather Department observers offered little hope for relief from heat which registered 110 degrees at Estevan, in Southern Saskatchewan, yesterday. Broadview and Moosomin recorded 104. In Manitoba 100 was reached at Brandon, Person and Virden.

Serious conditions were reported from the Kindersley area, in Southern Saskatchewan. Deterioration from drought has resulted in permanent damage to wheat in that area. In the North prospects were estimated at 75 per cent normal. Late-sown grain was holding up well.

Scattered showers in Alberta late last week improved conditions in that province, but moisture was still needed in the South. Good yields were reported in the northern portion, where late-sown grain received the benefit of late snow and greater rainfall.

Small Grain Crop a Failure in Western Minnesota.
NEW YORK, July 6.—Crop advisers received today at the local office of the Northern Pacific Railroad reported a further reduction of 15 per cent in the outlook for small grain in Western Minnesota. The crop in territory through which the main line runs in North Dakota was described as a failure. In another section farther west small grains are damaged beyond recovery.

Irrigated areas in Eastern Montana, the advisers said, are in good condition. Reports covering Washington, Oregon and Idaho were favorable.

WILLING TO LOOK INTO INSURANCE CODE INITIATIVE

Attorney-General McKittick Says He Is Ready to Investigate If Fraud Is Shown.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 6.—Attorney-General McKittick said today that if evidence should be presented to him tending to show fraud in the circulation of the initiative petitions under which Democratic newspapers will receive approximately $275,000 for official printing of the proposed insurance code, he would assign an assistant to make an investigation and take any action justified by the law and facts.

"Information has reached me," he said, "that representatives of several small mutual insurance companies are conducting an inquiry based upon the suspicion that there was fraud in the inception of the plan to circulate the petitions, and in the certification of some of the petitions to the Secretary of State."

"So far no facts have been laid before me. If evidence is presented and appears to justify a belief that there was fraud, I shall assign an assistant to make an official investigation. I would be governed by the law and facts in deciding whether action should be taken in the matter."

Mrs. Avie Capps, 6509 Easton avenue, said her son, Homer Capps, listed as a circulator of the petitions, had been in California since January. His address was given on the petitions as 6325 Easton avenue. At 3943A St. Louis avenue, given as the address of Walter Getty, a circulator of the petitions, Mrs. Mary Culliton, who operates a rooming house, said Getty had not lived there for about two years.

Apparent Irregularities, in Circulation of Petitions.
Several St. Louisans whose names appeared on the petitions as the persons who circulated them have denied that they had anything to do with the circulation of the petitions, and there have been other apparent irregularities.

Charles Siesennop, a notary public at 3861 Easton avenue, told the Post-Dispatch he notarized the signatures of "50 or 60" men who were introduced to him as circulators of the petitions about a month ago by State Representative Andrew F. Blong. Blong paid him about $15 for the work, Siesennop said. Blong could not be reached.

Austin O'Toole, 4115 Evans avenue, whose name was used as that of a circulator, said he had never seen one of the petitions, and had nothing to do with their circulation. Joseph Brown, 4262 W. Evans avenue, another whose name was used as that of a circulator, said he knew "absolutely nothing" about the petitions. He said he had never seen one, and had no idea of what they looked like.

One block of the petitions bears the name John O'Connor, 4056 Easton avenue, as that of the circulator. The address given is a garage. It was said there that O'Connor was not known.

Some of the petitions were circulated by Harry Carroll, 3848 Evans avenue. He was not at home today, but his mother, Mrs. Mary Carroll, told a reporter her son had obtained signatures to the petitions at the 60 Nationalists and 31 Gendarmes Hurt After Demonstrators Charge Police Line of 1000 on Champs Elysees.

91 INJURED IN PARIS RIOT AGAINST BLUM GOVERNMENT

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, July 6.—Thirty-one policemen and more than 60 Nationalists were injured in street fights last night after the demonstrators attempted to break through the ranks of 1000 gendarmes in the Champs Elysees.

The disorders followed a memorial ceremony at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, led by Col. Francois de la Rocque, chief of the dissolved Croix de Feu League, now transformed into the Social party, a political party, instead of a combat league.

Rightists, estimated at 15,000, crowded the area about the Arch of Triumph and cheered De la Rocque as he placed a wreath on the tomb. After the ceremony, the Nationalist leader went home but his followers began their daily demonstration against the People's Front government of Premier Leon Blum.

Police Drive Rioters Back.
Seeking to break through the police line, the demonstrators attacked the ranks in the Champs Elysees. The line held, then police began to move slowly toward the rioters, whose forces scattered in disorder.

Cafes and shops were closed by their owners, but hundreds of the Rightists took refuge in the establishments before the doors were shut. They hurled chairs, canes and bottles at pursuing police. Sixteen Nationalists were arrested in clashes between small groups.

Newspapers, including Blum's Le Populaire, found a similarity between the daily demonstrations over dissolution of the Rightist combat leagues and those preceding the bloody riots of Feb. 6, 1934. Le Populaire called the demonstrations "training maneuvers" and asked if "Fascists are not preparing for trouble July 14, which is Bastille day."

Similar Scattered Incidents.
The demonstration in Paris followed similar incidents in scattered sections. One person was injured at Douai. Fighting broke out after a veterans' meeting at Nimes. Shots were fired at Aix-en-Provence in which eight persons were wounded.

Blum called for political factions to bury the hatchet in a speech at Ancey, in which he warned his audience of the troubled European situation.

"To keep our friendships and alliances and to play peacemaker in drifting Europe," he said, "France, more than ever, needs order and discipline within; prestige and authority without."

Other officials, among them Roger Salengro, Minister of the Interior, and Raoul Aubaud, undersecretary to Salengro, warned against domestic disorder.

Strikers' Numbers Decline.
The number of strikers in the nation continued to decline slowly, Salengro estimating the "folded arms" walkout still holds 113,000 workers from their jobs.

Police assistance to eject striking gardeners was asked for at Nice by Simon Patino, Bolivian Minister to Paris. The discharge of three gardeners, Patino said, caused a protest walkout of the remaining 10 who "occupied" the lawn.

Speaking at Creil, Minister of the Interior Roger Salengro told a Socialist meeting of "reports" that industrialists had raised a "war chest" in an effort to topple the People's Front government.

Declaring he did "not wish to believe it true," Salengro promised, however, the Government would not be caught napping if the employers signed a blanket agreement with the General Confederation of Labor, that the industrialists were resolved to "make an effort and do nothing which might interfere with the Government's program."

He added: "But now strange maneuvers are reported. The Government is resolved to begin a fight which will end in our victory."

A son of Samuel Rosen, who lives with his father at 4225W A Page boulevard, told a reporter his father's name had been used as that of a circulator of the petitions, but his father had nothing to do with them.

At 4041A Easton avenue, given as the address of another circulator, Dan Duffy, James T. Brennan, who occupies that flat, said Duffy occasionally spent some time there. It was said there that O'Connor was not known.

Among the signers of the petition were Martin and Anne Simon whose address was given as 3511 North Ninth street, a vacant flat.

His Business Connections.
Mr. Faust, son-in-law of Adolphus Busch, founder of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., was president of that concern, Anheuser-Busch Brewing Union, up to 1914, when he was formerly had general management of the company's Texas business. He established a downtown office in the Bank of America building. In recent years he was vice-president of the Missouri-Louisiana Roofing Co., a downtown grocery business, and of the St. Louis and Engineering Co., and of the Bank and Trust Co. and of Sulzer Bros. Diesel Engine Co.

Mr. Faust was the son of a St. Louis family, known as the Fausts, who operated a restaurant at the corner of Broadway and Market streets in 1914 after the death of Faust Jr., who operated it.

Married Anna Louise.
He was born in St. Louis and was educated in Smith and in a New York school. He married Anna Louise Faust in 1897. During the period of her husband's active career in the brewing industry, Mr. Faust was an important factor in the business. In his will, Adolphus left his son, August A. Busch, full control of the brewing business. Mr. Faust should be president. He also named Charles Nagel, an executor of the estate.

The Faust residence, built by the work of the late Barnett, architect, with Mrs. Faust as active collaborator in the non-technical parts of the design. It is in Italian style, broad terrace, and the walled Kingfisherway, lined with vines, was suggested by the husband. The Villa Borghese in Rome, open loggia, with colonnade pillars and reflecting at the east end.

Some of His Art Works.
Some of the costliest of works acquired by Mr. Faust were a Murillo canvas, Faust and Infant Christ, and a "Holy Family," and a century Flemish tapestry of a scene in the life of King David. The most valuable of the art works included in the estate of Faust, who died April 16, 1935, some of them passed into the hands of the son and daughter.

Mr. Faust was a regular participant at concerts of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, and for several years a member of the orchestra's executive committee. He was an honorary Colonel of Park's staff.

Of striking personal appearance with heavy dark hair and a high forehead, Mr. Faust was a notable figure at business and civic gatherings.

'EDDIE' OF MURDERED WOMAN'S DIARY FOUND

Edward Freed, Chicago Night Club Manager, Says She 'Pestered' Him.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 6. — Edward Freed, 32 years old, manager of a north side night club, admitted today, Police Capt. Andrew Barry said, that he was the "Eddie" mentioned in the diary of Audrey Vallette, murdered night club entertainer, who formerly resided in St. Louis.

Freed surrendered earlier today for questioning in the case. He denied he knew the whereabouts of his wife, Ruth, who has been hunted by police since the killing of Miss Vallette. Photographs of Mrs. Freed have been pointed out as resembling those of the woman who left from Miss Vallette's north side hotel soon after the wounded woman gasped into her telephone: "I've been shot."

Barry said Freed told police that Miss Vallette "used to pester him, calling him up, and so on. He denied he was ever out with her."

Barry said Freed would be held as a material witness.

"When I am released," Freed said, "I will try to get in touch with my wife and do what I can to clear up this situation."

"When did you last see your wife?" Capt. Barry asked him. "At home last Thursday morning," Freed replied.

"Did you leave home first then or did she?" "I did," Freed responded. "I had an early business appointment and left her still at home. I haven't heard from her or seen her since then."

Funeral services for Miss Vallette were held today from a Gary, Ind., mortuary.

EDWARD A. FAUST DIES; FUNERAL AT 10 A. M. TOMORROW

Business Executive and Art Connoisseur Succumbs to Heart Disease — 67 Years Old.

SON-IN-LAW OF LATE ADOLPHUS BUSCH

Son of Tony Faust, Noted Cafe Operator — Had Various Connections With Commercial Enterprises.

The funeral of Edward A. Faust, business executive and art connoisseur, who died yesterday in Barnes Hospital, will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow at his home, 1 Portland place. Burial will be in Bellefontaine Cemetery, where his wife, Mrs. Anna Louise Faust, was buried last April.

Mr. Faust, who was 67 years old, died of heart disease after a week's illness. His son, Leicester Busch Faust, and daughter, Mrs. Mahlon B. Wallace Jr., survive.

His lifelong interest in art was shown in the design of his home, a show place of the Portland-Westmoreland residence tract, and in the acquisition of valuable art works, which have been displayed at loan exhibitions. He had been chairman since 1930 of the Municipal Art Commission, established to advise on designs for municipal and other publicly displayed art works. He was vice-president of the Art Museum's Board of Control.

His Business Connections.
Mr. Faust, son-in-law of the late Adolphus Busch, founder of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., was first vice-president of that concern, then the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association, up to 1934, when he resigned. He formerly had general oversight of the company's Texas business.

He established a downtown business office in the Bank of Commerce building. In recent years this was the office also of the Missouri National Roofing Co., of which he was president. He was president of Faust's Fulton Market, a downtown grocery establishment, and of the St. Louis East Engineering and contracting firm. He was also president of the Mercantile Commerce Bank and Trust Co. and of Busch-Selzer Bros. Diesel Engine Co.

Mr. Faust was the son of Anthony E. Faust, internationally known as Tony Faust, proprietor of Faust's Restaurant at Broadway and Elm street, which was closed in 1914 after the death of Tony Faust Jr., who operated it after the elder Faust's death.

Married Anna Louise Busch.
He was born in St. Louis and was educated in Smith Academy and in a New York school. He married Miss Anna Louise Busch in 1897. During the period of Adolphus Busch's active control of the brewing company, Mr. Faust was an important factor in the management. In his will, Adolphus Busch left his son, August A. Busch, in full control of the brewery and other Busch business interests, but provided that if for any reason August A. Busch should be unable to serve, Mr. Faust should be elected president. He also named Mr. Faust, with Mrs. Lilly Busch and Charles Nagel, as executor of his estate.

The Faust residence, built in 1914, was the work of the late Tom P. Barnett, architect, with Mr. and Mrs. Faust as active collaborators in the non-technical parts of the design. It is in Italian style, with broad terrace, and the wall along Kingshighway, lined with vines, was suggested by the balustrade of the Villa Borghese in Rome. An open loggia, with columns of white pillars and reflecting pool, is at the east end.

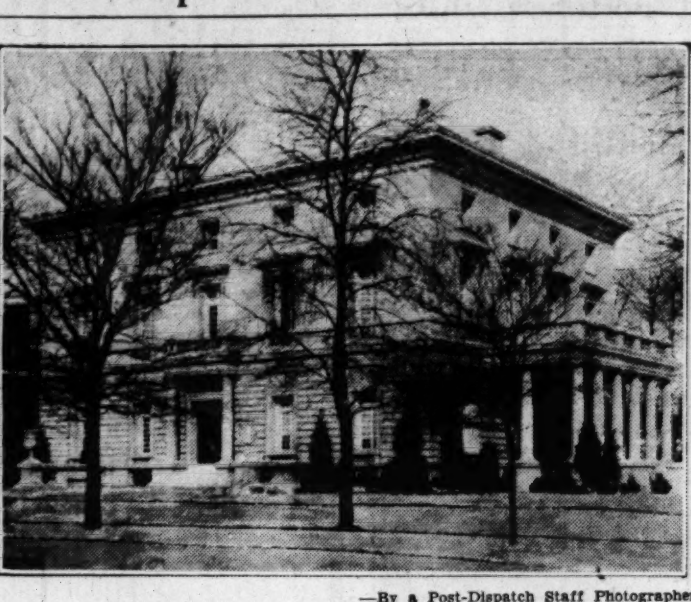

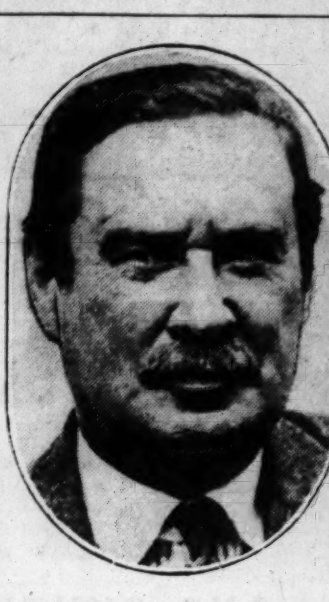

Some of His Art Works.
Some of the costliest of the art works acquired by Mr. and Mrs. Faust were a Murillo canvas, "St. Joseph and Infant Christ," a Rubens "Holy Family," and a sixteenth century Flemish tapestry depicting a scene in the life of King David. TRIES TO KILL SELF AND TWO CHILDREN Workman, Son and Daughter Found Unconscious From Auto Fumes.

Fred Eggert, a steam shovel operator, and his two children, Beale, 8, and Noel, 10, were found unconscious this morning in Eggert's automobile from exhaust fumes which were piped into the car with a garden hose.

The automobile was found in the weeds off the Old Jamestown road near Cold Water Creek, in the northern part of St. Louis County by a bakery driver who passed the spot shortly after 7 a. m. The driver switched off the motor, which was running, and opened the doors of the automobile.

The three were taken to Dr. Luke B. Tiernan's Hospital in Pine Lawn. The children had recovered sufficiently to leave the hospital at noon, and their father was transferred then to County Hospital. He said he was "tired of living" and thought the children were "not treated right."

Eggert and his wife, Mrs. Jessie Eggert, have been separated for about a year. They quarreled last night at her home, 414 Christian avenue, and Mrs. Eggert had him arrested on a charge of disturbance of the peace.

Eggert, who is 37 years old, lives at 4555A South Compton avenue. After making bond on the peace disturbance charge last night he got the children at the homes of relatives and took them to his mother's home on Jamestown road near Florissant, about two miles from the place where the car was found in the weeds.

MAN HELD FOR GRAND JURY IN FATAL BEATING OF WOMAN Coroner's Jury Returns Verdict of Homicide Against Peter Riskevick.

A verdict of homicide was returned by a Coroner's jury today against Peter Riskevick, 48-year-old laborer, who admitted beating Mrs. Helen Novakal, with whom he lived at 1428 (rear) North Ninth street, within 24 hours before her death from internal injuries Saturday. He was held under $10,000 bond for the grand jury.

Testimony of neighbors was to the effect that Riskevick beat and kicked Mrs. Novakal for an hour and a half Friday afternoon after he had accused her of failing to turn over to him $1.50 of her wages from the factory where she worked.

Mrs. Novakal, 48 years old, was treated at City Hospital for abrasions and contusions of the arms, back and body Friday afternoon. On Saturday neighbors found her dead on the floor in her kitchen. An autopsy showed she had suffered from peritonitis and internal injuries.

U. S. BOOTLEGGING WARRANT ISSUED AGAINST KELLY FLORITA
He Is Accused of Sale and Possession of Liquor on Which No Tax Was Paid.

A warrant charging sale and possession of liquor on which no tax had been paid, was issued today by United States Commissioner John A. Burke against Kelly Florita, 53 years old, who had been arrested several times under the old prohibition statutes.

Florita was arrested Friday by agents of the Federal Alcohol Tax Unit at his home at 4045 McPherson avenue, where 11 gallons of whiskey were seized. Agents reported that Florita was selling the illicit liquor at 15 cents a half pint and 5 cents a drink.

$10,000 LOSS; FIRE DESTROYS HOUSE IN PASADENA HILLS

Brick Residence Being Built for Realty Man Ignited in Undetermined Manner.

A 12-room brick house nearing completion at 3931 Canterbury drive, Pasadena Hills, was destroyed by fire last evening with a loss estimated at $10,000. The cause was not determined.

The fire was discovered at 5:30 p. m. by a passerby after the flames had spread through most of the two-story house. The Pine Lawn Fire Department poured water into the burning structure for about two hours. Only a part of the exterior walls remained standing when the fire was extinguished.

An officer of the Modern Construction Co., which was building the house for Carl G. Stiff Realty Co., expressed the opinion that the fire was started accidentally by someone who had been inspecting the dwelling. The company is building three other houses in the same vicinity.

A crowd of several hundred persons was attracted by the dense black smoke and flames, which leaped high into the air.

A residence in the same subdivision which the Modern Construction Co. built last year was bombed on Aug. 2. Damage was estimated at $500.

X-RAY COMPANY SEEKS WRIT AGAINST CITY OVER LOW BID
Standard Co. Tries to Force Award of Contract to New Hospital.

An order for the City of St. Louis to show cause why a writ of mandamus should not be issued forcing the city to give the contract for the X-ray equipment and furnishings for the new Homer G. Phillips Hospital for Negroes to the Standard X-ray Co. was issued today by Circuit Judge Eugene L. Padberg. The order was made returnable July 16.

In its petition, filed Friday, the Standard company alleged that it was the lowest bidder for the contract with a bid of $28,400. The contract was awarded to the Dick X-Ray Co., which had in a bid for $35,282.

The petition stated that the city officials had "falsely represented" that the Standard company's equipment was inferior and unsatisfactory, which was the reason given by the city when the bid was awarded to the Dick company, which was the second lowest bidder. The Standard company stated that its equipment was in use in some of the largest hospitals in the country.

ANTI-TRUST INDICTMENT AGAINST MOVIE MAN DROPPED
Abel Carey Thomas Not to Be Prosecuted; Other Defendants Acquitted.

The Federal indictment charging Abel Carey Thomas, general counsel for Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., with violation of the Sherman anti-trust act, in connection with the Warner firm's dealings with RKO and Metro, St. Louis theater owners, was dismissed today. Harry C. Blanton, Assistant United States Attorney, filing the motion of dismissal with Judge Moore, stated that he acted at the direction of the Attorney-General's office.

Thomas was ill when the other defendants in the case were placed on trial in Federal Court here last November. A severance was taken in his case, and the other defendants, after a hearing of the evidence, were acquitted.

KILLED IN AUTO CRASH NEAR WENTZVILLE, MO.

Samuel Topping, 21, Fatally Injured in Collision With Truck at 61-40 Junction.

Samuel Topping, 21 years old, 14 Lewis place, was injured fatally at 2 a. m. today when the automobile he was driving collided with a truck at the junction of Highway 61 and 40, at Wentzville, Mo. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital at St. Charles where he died three hours later of skull and chest injuries.

Miss Dorothy Richards, 18, 5950 Plymouth avenue, riding with him in the front seat of the car, suffered lacerations of the face and scalp, and remained at the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. George Lyons, 1232 Oakley place, also passengers in the automobile, escaped with minor injuries and were sent home.

According to Sgt. Frank Hagan of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, witnesses said that Topping, driving south on Highway 61, failed to stop at the junction. His automobile was struck by a truck, westbound on Highway 40, and turned over. The truck was driven by William Alberson of Moberly, Mo.

The motorists were returning from a holiday outing when the accident occurred. An inquest will be held tomorrow at St. Charles.

FRANK G. HORTON, VETERAN PRINTER, DIES AT AGE OF 68
Funeral Services Will Be Held at 2 p. m. Wednesday; Burial in Valhalla.

Frank G. Horton, formerly foreman of the advertising composing room at the Post-Dispatch, died today of heart disease at his home, 1429 Bellevue avenue, Richmond Heights. He was 68 years old and had been employed as a printer in the Post-Dispatch composing room for the past 36 years. He also served two terms as alderman in Richmond Heights.

He had been ill since last January. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ida M. Horton; two sons, Frank Jr. and James, and a daughter, Miss Grace Horton, all of St. Louis.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 p. m. at the Robert J. Ambuster undertaking establishment, Clayton road and Concordia lane, Clayton. Burial will be in Valhalla cemetery.

BRANCH POSTOFFICE CLERK ACCUSED OF $84 SHORTAGE
Warrant for Man in County; False Report on Money Orders.

A warrant issued today by United States Commissioner John A. Burke charges Arthur Jenkins, 37 years old, proprietor of the Velda Village Market, 2628 Lucas and Hunt roads, St. Louis County, and clerk in charge of a contract postoffice station at the market, with an $84 shortage in postal funds.

According to the information issued by the District Attorney's office, postal inspectors, making a routine check of the station, found that Jenkins had issued two money orders for a total of $119 and had reported them as $35, depositing the $84 difference in his own bank account.

Victim of Stabbing Dies.
Lorraine McCormick, 29 years old, a Negro, died yesterday at City Hospital No. 2 of a stab wound in the abdomen she suffered June 27 at her home, 222 Carroll street, during a quarrel with Rosetta Allen, also a Negro.

WOULD HOLD UP FEES OF COUNTY ASSESSOR

Accountants Suggest Partial Payment Until Annual Report Is Audited.

A recommendation that part of the fees due the Assessor of St. Louis County be withheld until he has filed his annual report and the report has been audited was contained in a supplementary report filed with the County Court today by Schuessler, Keller & Co., accountants employed by the Court to audit the books of George M. Herpel, Assessor for 12 years prior to May 31, 1933.

The accountants' recommendation was not based on examination of the records of the present assessor, Martin L. Neaf, but the suggestion was made with a view to changing the method with which accounts of the office customarily have been handled.

Herpel is under indictment on a charge of embezzlement for withholding $2618 in fees received while in office, in excess of the amount he was permitted to retain. He later received the money to the portion. His indictment followed a partial report by the auditors last October, in which the shortage was disclosed and also his failure to file a report for his last year in office. He filed the report last Nov. 13.

The accountants' report filed today points out that customarily the Stays pays the Assessor one-half of State pays the Assessor one-half of the amount due until such time as the Assessor has filed his report and the County Auditor has had an opportunity to thoroughly audit the figures. With such an arrangement proper consideration can be given to payroll classifications, time expended on income tax work, etc.

Last May Herpel filed suit to collect $3626 which he said represented fees for handling State income tax returns, and which he turned over to the County Treasurer by mistake. His petition said the $2618 he had retained in his last year in office was to offset the overpayment to the Treasurer.

MAN WHO ESCAPED IN 1924 FROM WORKHOUSE CAPTURED
Ernest Behagen, Caught in West, Was Convicted of Practicing Medicine Without License.

St. Louis police have been notified that Ernest Behagen, who escaped from the Workhouse in August, 1924, while serving two years for practicing medicine without a license, is under arrest in Los Angeles.

The information came from New York City police who said they would seek to have Behagen returned to New York to face a charge of attempted extortion. Prosecuting officials here told the police they would not ask for his extradition.

Behagen, in April, 1924, was sentenced to two consecutive one-year terms at the Workhouse. He admitted practicing medicine in St. Louis 18 months without a license, but said he was a graduate of a medical school in Denmark. He was arrested after one of his patients lost the sight of an eye on which he had operated.

457 PERSONS TREATED FOR FIREWORKS BURNS

Most of the July 4 Casualties in This District Are Children.

Four hundred fifty-seven persons were treated for fireworks injuries at the St. Louis City Hospitals and hospitals in St. Louis County and East St. Louis over Saturday and Sunday. Most of those treated were children, and, with few exceptions, the injuries were of a minor nature.

At City Hospital No. 1 71 patients received treatment for burns suffered in handling fireworks yesterday. A total of 398 burn cases have been treated there since last Wednesday.

Twenty-eight Negroes applied for treatment at City Hospital No. 2 yesterday. On Saturday 65 burn cases were received there.

In St. Louis County 13 persons applied at County Hospital and one at St. Joseph's Hospital. East St. Louis reported three burn cases Sunday.

TAVERN OWNERS TO RESIST PAYING COUNTY LICENSES
Head of Association Says State Liquor Law Makes No Provision for Them.

Roy Gibson, president of the St. Louis County Tavern Owners' Protective Association, appeared before the County Court today and announced that the association would advise its 350 members not to purchase county liquor licenses. He contended that the State liquor law had no provision for the collection of the license fees.

On June 1, County Auditor Edwin O. Harper reported to the County Court that while more than 1100 State liquor licenses had been issued in the county, only 358 county licenses had been issued. Following the report, the court announced in letters to the delinquent tavern owners that unless county licenses were obtained the court would ask the State Supervisor of Liquor Control to revoke their State licenses. Since then 312 additional county licenses have been issued.

FINE FOR SPEEDING IN PARK STAYED ON 'SPEED TRAP' PLEA
Assistant City Counselor Reproaches Woman Motorist's Lawyer for Assertion.

The fine of $5 and costs against Miss Susan Greer, 502 S. Calhoun avenue, assessed today by Police Judge Charles Budzinski for driving 35 miles an hour in Forest Park, was stayed on good behavior after her attorney, John Walsh, employed by the Automobile Club of Missouri, characterized the park drive as a "speed trap."

Several motorists have been arrested in recent weeks since police began a campaign to enforce the 20-mile an hour limit in the interest of safety of children and others who are playing and walking in the park. Assistant City Counselor Francis Motherway reproached Walsh for using the term "speed trap," and said pedestrians were entitled to a reasonable degree of safety in city parks.

36 Drink Permits Revoked.
JEFFERSON CITY, July 6.—The State Liquor Control Department revoked nearly twice as many licenses in the first six months of 1935 as it did in the 12 months of 1934. The Department announced today it had issued 36 revocation orders in the first half of the year as compared with 19 last year. Only one revocation was made in the first half of 1935.

KILLED IN BRAWL

GEORGE ICIDE JR.

Two deaths here Saturday and yesterday were attributed to heat prostration. Three persons were treated yesterday at City Hospital for heat exhaustion. The temperature reached 100 degrees Saturday and 101 yesterday.

John Fuerst, 81-year-old janitor, died Saturday afternoon while cleaning an automobile at an apartment house at 4354 Lindell boulevard, where he was employed.

John Foley, 71, a resident of Ozanam Shelter, died yesterday morning while seated on a bench in St. Louis Park, Twenty-first street and St. Louis avenue.

Those taken to City Hospital were: Joseph Werner, a laborer, 5451 Odell avenue; Edward Larsen, janitor, 410A Market street; Patrick Rooney, janitor, 905 Market street.

Girl Injured in Bicycle Crash.
Georgine Hubert, 17 years old, 3833 McDonald avenue, suffered a skull injury when thrown from a bicycle to the pavement in a collision with another bicycle operated by a young man with whom she was riding, a block from her home last night. She was taken to City Hospital.

7 HELD FOR INQUEST IN TAVERN KILLING

Inquiry to Be Held Tonight Into Death in East St. Louis Brawl.

Seven men are held by East St. Louis police pending an inquest tonight in the fatal shooting of George Icide Jr., 20-year-old East St. Louis packing house worker, who died Saturday of shotgun wounds suffered in a street brawl when James Zitta, 16, fired at him in front of the Zitta saloon at 1133 North Second street, East St. Louis.

One of Icide's five companions and participants in the fight, Howard Barnhart, Granite City steelworker, was wounded in the groin by young Zitta and is in a serious condition at St. Mary's Hospital.

Those being held are Zitta's brother, Frank Jr., who fired a revolver during the brawl, and their father, Frank J. Zitta Sr., proprietor of the saloon, who joined in the fight after Icide, Barnhart, Walter Novack, 329 Bowman avenue, Robert Davis, 818 North Second street, Patrick O'Reilly, 926 North Seventh street, and Walter Crow, 802 Exchange avenue, all of East St. Louis, had exchanged blows with the younger Zittas and their uncle, James Haney.

The men agreed that Icide and his five companions stopped their automobile in front of the saloon when a woman standing outside made a remark which they resented. Icide, it was said, remarked, "I won't slap a woman," and Frank Zitta Jr. replied: "Well, I'll take it up." The men exchanged blows and the others soon joined in the fight. The Zittas youths rushed into the saloon for weapons, and his companions retired. Icide had paused to retrieve his shirt from an automobile at the curb, when the firing began.

He and Barnhart fell and their friends assisted them to their machine and drove to St. Mary's Hospital, where Icide was pronounced dead.

Man Found Dead in East St. Louis.
A man about 50 years old was found dead today, apparently from natural causes, in a shed at the rear of 400 South Fourth street, East St. Louis. Neighbors reported seeing the man at the shed Saturday and yesterday. The body was tentatively identified as that of a St. Louisan, who resided on South Tenth street.

TWO DANVILLE MEN CONVICTED OF TRYING TO ROB MESSENGER

Arrie Tender and Alfred Del Valley Found Guilty in Federal Court.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 6.—Arrie Tender and Alfred Del Valley, both of Danville, were found guilty by a Federal Court jury Saturday of the attempted robbery of a bank messenger in front of the Federal Building here March 6. Both men are liable to a sentence of not over 25 years in a Federal penitentiary.

The pair were alleged to have attempted to rob Roeder Tietze, First National Bank messenger. In an exchange of shots between the bandits and Walter Hagler, a bank guard, Alphonse Del Valley, brother of the convicted man, was fatally wounded and the money, snatched from Tietze's hands, was recovered.

Both Tender and Del Valley denied from the witness stand that they knew of the robbery or that they participated in it. Del Valley testified he was in or near Danville the day of the holdup while Tender said he was walking by the Federal Building when the holdup occurred and that he was caught by circumstances. After his arrest, he testified, he was beaten with a rubber hose and fists, knocked down and kicked.

FERRARI-FONTANA DIES; SINGER, VOICE TEACHER

He Suffers Heart Attack at Home in Toronto—58 Years Old.

By the Associated Press.
TORONTO, July 6.—Eduardo Ferrari-Fontana, 58 years old, Italian born opera singer, died at his home here Saturday night.

He had taught in New York Saturday morning, but returned to Toronto where he suffered a heart attack. He had been a resident of Toronto since 1926 when he came here to open a studio of voice training, but had recently been spending most of his time in New York.

The singer is survived by his widow, Maria Esther Tellez y Pastor and six children.

Ferrari-Fontana studied to be a doctor but entered the Italian consular service in South America in 1902, returning to Italy to take up an operatic career in 1906. He made his debut as Tristan in 1910. He sang in Milan, Paris, Buenos Aires and New York. During the war, he organized a regiment of Italian-Americans from New York and was given the rank of Commandatore.

Dower Claim to Oil Fortune Denied

MRS. PAULINE V. ROGERS

ROGERS' WIDOW FAILS TO SET ASIDE WAIVER

Surrogate Rules Against Her in Fight for Dower Share She Signed Away.

By the Associated Press.

RIVERHEAD, N. Y., July 6.—A petition by Mrs. Pauline V. Rogers, widow of Col. Henry Huddleston Rogers, Standard Oil magnate, to have her dower rights in his $16,000,000 estate restored, was denied today in a decision by Surrogate Robert S. Pelletreau.

Soon after the decision was made public, C. Alexander Capron, counsel for the 42-year-old widow, announced in New York that Mrs. Rogers' fight would be carried to the Appellate division.

Mrs. Rogers, in attempting to obtain her one-third widow's share in the Rogers fortune, had asked the Surrogate to declare invalid a waiver of dower rights she signed in January, 1934.

The Surrogate's decision was filed with the clerk of the court and was not announced in open court.

Mrs. Rogers based her fight on the claim she signed the waiver without realizing what she was signing. Her bequest from the estate remains at $100,000 outright and about $125,000 as an annual income from the estate.

It was indicated last week during testimony on Mrs. Rogers' motion to set aside the waiver she signed in January, 1934, that the decision of the Surrogate, regardless of its character, would be appealed.

Basils of Mrs. Rogers' Fight. Mrs. Rogers' fight was based on her allegation that she signed the waiver without realizing what she was doing. The widow, who married Col. Rogers in August, 1933, testified that before she signed the waiver, her late husband's lawyer, Adrian H. Larkin, told her it would not jeopardize her rights. She signed the paper without reading it, she said, because she thought Larkin was a good friend and relied on what he told her.

The waiver was the second such paper she signed, the first having been drawn up at the time of her marriage to Col. Rogers. The widow testified she considered this first waiver only a temporary document.

The second waiver was drawn up when Col. Rogers made a new will in January, 1934, cutting his son, Henry H. Rogers Jr., out of a one-third interest in the estate. The new will gave him the income from a $500,000 trust fund.

Mrs. Rogers told the Surrogate that at the time she signed the second waiver she had been in bed recovering from injuries suffered in an automobile accident, and that she had to be carried in a wheel chair to the room where she signed the paper. She said she was completely exhausted after signing the paper.

Other Litigation. Present at the hearings before the surrogate was Mrs. Millicent Rogers Balcom, daughter of the late Col. Rogers, who was secretly involved in litigation growing out of her father's will. Her first husband, Count Ludwig Salm, sought to have her removed as co-guardian for the estate of their son, Peter, on the ground she is not acting in the best interests of the boy. The petition was dismissed by Supreme Court Justice W. T. Collins.

In answer to charge of the widow that she was duped into signing the waiver, Surrogate Pelletreau said: "In my opinion, same (the signature) was lawfully obtained without fraud, misrepresentation or mis-understanding, nor were any material facts withheld from the petitioner when she executed same."

Mrs. Rogers also had started an inquiry as to the legality of a $9-000,000 trust fund set up by her husband's father, Henry Huddleston Rogers Sr., pioneer Standard Oil magnate.

On this point, the Surrogate ruled that her late husband had been a resident of New York County and that the trust fund, over which he exercised the power of appointment, was under the jurisdiction of the Surrogate of New York County.

Part of Mrs. Rogers' income is from a one-third interest in the trust fund of Henry H. Rogers Sr.

Movie Man Admits Owing Taxes.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Edwin Carewe, motion picture director of Los Angeles, admitted in a stipulation filed today with the Board of Tax Appeals that he owed the Government $102,060 in additional income taxes for the period 1924-1929.

Carewe was charged by the Internal Revenue Bureau with a total deficiency of $119,559, a 50 per cent penalty of $59,929, and interest of $29,018, or a total of $208,506. The stipulation did not disclose the basis of the settlement.

Accused of Fraud In Chain Letter Scheme

By a Post-Dispatch Staff Photographer

HARRY I. SCHENBERG, who was arrested Friday on a Federal warrant charging him with using the mails to further a scheme to defraud. It is alleged that he sent out 150 mimeographed letters to war veterans furthering a chain letter scheme in which the name at the top of the list in each letter always had Schenberg's address, 3853 South Broadway.

Schenberg, who is 20 years old, is the son of Mitchell Schenberg, owner of South Side meat and vegetable markets.

TWO KILLED WHEN BOATLOAD OF FIREWORKS IS IGNITED

One Man Drowned, Other Burned to Death. Before Crowd at Michigan Celebration.

LEXINGTON, Mich., July 6. — A prematurely-exploding boatload of fireworks caused two deaths here Saturday.

Several thousand persons, gathered for a community celebration saw the pyrotechnic display in which Frank Sheldon Jr., 29 years old, and Earl Wintermute, 29, lost their lives several hundred yards off shore in Lake Huron.

"The whole boat seemed to be on fire at once," Robert Nimms, who escaped by diving into the lake, said. He and Wintermute's brother, John, 24, were picked up by the crew of a launch.

Neither of the victims could swim. Officers said Sheldon was drowned and Wintermute was burned to death and his body b'own into the water by the exploding fireworks.

FINDLAY, O., July 6.—Sixteen persons were injured Saturday night when a fireworks bomb exploded in a group of spectators at a community celebration. The bomb was supposed to explode at a height of 75 feet and again at 150 feet. Instead, it veered across the Blanchard River after the first blast and exploded the second time in the midst of spectators seated

RESCUES CHILD FROM RIVER, DIES LATER WHILE DANCING

William C. Paasch, Secretary of Haltosine Co., Apparently Victim of Heart Disease.

A few hours after William C.
Paasch, 31 years old, of 4175 Farlin avenue, secretary of the Haltosine Co., had rescued a child from drowning in Big River near Eureka, Saturday, he collapsed and died, presumably of heart disease, while dancing at a clubhouse where his family and friends were vacationing.

At the inquest yesterday at Cedar Hill, his wife and other members of the party testified he remarked:
"Now, watch me dance," just before he fell unconscious. He had been under a physician's care for a heart condition, it was said.

SON OF MURDERED MAN HELD IN DEATH OF KILLER'S FATHER

Gives Up at Zavalla, Tex., After Shooting in Dispute Over Burial of Condemned Convict.

By the Associated Press.

ZAVALLA, Tex., July 6.—M. H.
Cansler, son of a robbery and murder victim for whose death Glenn Warren awaits electrocution in the State penitentiary, was held in jail today in connection with the fatal shooting of Warren's father.

Cansler surrendered, police reported, shortly after Albert Warren, 60-year-old sawmill employe, was shot to death in an argument over the proposed site of Glenn Warren's grave.

Warren is to die in the electric chair at Huntsville State Prison
Friday for the murder of C. E.
Cansler Sr. during a robbery two

ONE-DAY AUTOMOBILE STRIKE

Swiss Walk to Protest Meetings;
Fuel 62c a Gallon.

By the Associated Press.

BERNE, Switzerland, July 6.—A one-day automobile strike kept private cars off Switzerland's highways yesterday.

The "strike" was in protest against the high cost of gasoline—about 62 cents a gallon—more than half of which is due to import duties. Motorcyclists joined in the protest. Only doctors' cars and commercial trucks operated, while automobile owners walked to meetings held at auto clubs.

STUDENTS INDORSE FR. COUGHLIN'S PLAN

High School Conference Sponsored by Sodality of Our Lady Adopts Resolution.

A resolution indorsing the social justice program of the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin was passed by better than a two-thirds vote yesterday at the closing session of the spiritual leadership conference sponsored by the Sodality of Our Lady and attended by about 800 students of Catholic high schools.

The meeting, at Hotel Jefferson, paralleled in purpose and form the convention of Catholic college students held the previous week. At that meeting a resolution indorsing Father Coughlin's program was tabled because it would have put the convention on record as favoring one presidential candidate, Congressman William Lemke.

St. Louis delegates raised the same objection yesterday at the high school meeting but received the support of only 20 of the 700 delegates from other cities. Supporters of Father Coughlin, led by the Chicago delegation, argued that he had done more than anyone else to awaken the "social consciousness" of the nation.

In another resolution the delegates pledged themselves to abstain from the use of liquor until they were 21 years of age. The drama
"Storm Tossed," by the Rev. Daniel
A. Lord, S. J., who served as general chairman of both meetings, was praised in a resolution passed not without some criticism. Some of the delegates thought the play, which deals with labor strife, presented an incorrect view of Catholic education and over-emphasized the effectiveness of Communistic theories.

Representatives of 121 schools in 27 states and the District of Columbia attended the meeting.

GOODYEAR BALLOON APPARENT WINNER

Pilot Reports Landing at Presho, S. D., 385 Miles
From Start in Denver.

By the Associated Press.

DENVER, Colo., July 6.—Frank A. Trotter, piloting the Goodyear entry from Akron, O., reported yesterday to the twenty-fourth annual National Balloon Race headquarters that he had landed at Presho, S. D., about 385 miles from Denver. This apparently left him the winner.

He was the only one of the five balloonists who took off here Friday night to find good fortune in variable winds which kept the others from drifting out of the state.

Maj. William J. Flood, Edgewood, Md., operations officer in charge of the race, said there was "no question" Trotter has won the race.

Logs and barographs of the balloonists must be checked in Washington by the Federal Bureau of Standards and the National Aeronautical Association, however, before the winner is announced officially.

Other Results in Race.

Second place apparently was won by the Great Lakes Exposition balloon from Cleveland, third and fourth by the United States Navy bags and fifth by the United States Army balloon from Scott Field, near Belleville, Ill., which exploded and burned in landing 37 miles south-east of Denver Saturday.

Paul Long of Sterling, Colo., said today that Trotter's balloon did not touch ground near Sterling, but that Trotter anchored his bag to Long's automobile 17 miles west of there.

Long said the pilot gave him messages to various places, then released his bag, dumped ballast and soared away. The bag hovered in the Sterling vicinity for several hours before floating away to the northeast. Long quoted Trotter as saying the time he was anchored to the car did not constitute a landing and that he was observing the rules of the race. Maj. Flood said an involuntary stop of 15 minutes was permitted.

He declined to discuss the matter at length, saying the race officials would have to study the matter and give a decision later on whether Trotter's flight distance would be to Sterling or into South Dakota.

Even if the distance is measured to Sterling, Trotter is still the leader.

Flood said the winners of the first three places in the race have the right to enter the James Gordon Bennett International race at Warsaw, Poland, Aug. 30.

Where Navy Balloons Landed.

The two United States Navy balloons landed within nine miles of each other near Deertrail, about 50 miles southeast of the takeoff. One, piloted by Lieutenant-Commander F. H. Gilmer, competing in his first race, settled on a ranch nine miles east of Deertrail.

The other, piloted by Lieut. R. F. Tyler, ended its flight three miles north of the village. Gilmer's balloon won third place and Tyler's fourth, unofficially.

Lieut. Tyler said he and his aid, Lieut. M. F. D. Flaherty, were calmed for several hours near Fort Morgan, 75 miles northeast of Denver, before drifting southward.

"We tried the winds at altitudes from 300 to 8000 feet, but the higher we went the more unfavorable the winds became," Tyler said.

"We decided it would be a good policy to stay low, but after we had drifted to a point near Deertrail, we had expended virtually all of our ballast and had to come down."

The balloonists asserted Denver's mile-high altitude had nothing to do with the results of the race.

Roosevelt Wires Trade Show

Says Exposition Is Evidence of "Resourcefulness."

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 6.—President Roosevelt said in a telegram to the International Home Furnishings Exposition today that he saw in such a venture "evidence that the resourcefulness of American businessmen... and will aid in the development of new markets and with the resultant stimulation of employment." The show opened today to run until July 18. The President said of the show, "this demonstration of faith in your own ability and confidence in the nation is particularly encouraging."

The exposition is being held at the merchandise mart.

DRY DENOUNCES MAJOR PARTIES

Dr. Colvin Blames Them "for Making Liquor Possible."

By the Associated Press.

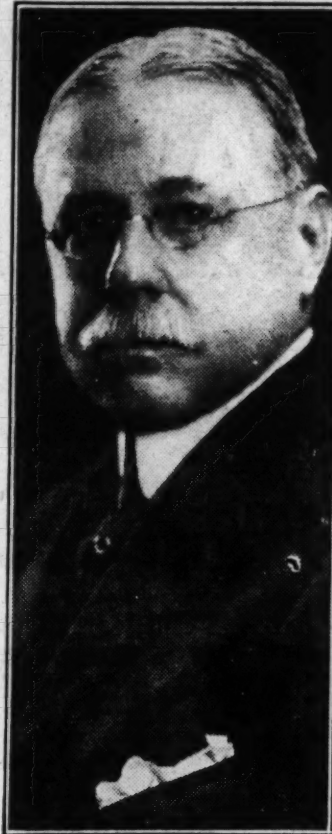

NEW YORK, July 6.—The Democratic and Republican parties were accused last night by Dr. D. Leigh Colvin, Prohibition Party candidate for President, of forcing Americans "to live in an alcoholized society."

Dr. Colvin, addressing a Methodist Episcopal Church congregation, said: "I don't believe any citizen can give his vote to either of the major political parties which were responsible for making liquor possible." He said the American public spends $2,250,000,000 annually for liquor as compared with $1,000,000,000 during prohibition.

Charles F. Bates, retired business man, died of the infirmities of age yesterday at the summer cottage of a daughter, Mrs. Arthur C. Hiemenz, at Atlantic City, N. J. He was 82 years old and had gone there Tuesday, intending to spend the summer.

Born at Erie, Pa., where he was educated at a private academy, he came here as a young man to work for a cousin, John J. Roe, president of the old National Bank of Missouri. Later he was connected with the merchandise firms of Henry Bell & Son and Sam C. Davis & Co. In 1879, at the age of 25, he became treasurer of the Catlin Tobacco Co., a position he held until the company was merged with the American Tobacco Co. in 1900.

For the next two years he was an officer of the American Tobacco Co. and thereafter retired from active business. However, for some time he held directorates and other interests in various concerns.

He was married to Miss Nancy Chouteau Maffitt in 1889. She died in 1928. Later he had resided at 4399 McPherson avenue. Surviving are a son, William Maffitt Bates, 5915 Lindell drive, a former State Senator, and two daughters, Mrs. W. Geoffrey Kimball, 11 Lenox place, and Mrs. Hiemenz, who resides on Ladue lane, Ladue.

The funeral will be at 9 a. m. tomorrow at the son's residence, with the Rev. John W. MacIvor of Second Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial, which will be private, will be in Calvary cemetery.

Posse Gets Companion.

By the Associated Press.

LUFKIN, Tex., July 6.—Five men were shot to death Saturday night and yesterday because of a dispute over the charge for a rented automobile.

Charlie Newberry, 49 years old, and his two sons, J. B. and Elmer, were fatally wounded Saturday night by two Negroes at their taxicab service station. Wounded, J. B. Newberry ran after the two Negroes, shooting and killing one, O. T. Boatright.

The second Negro, Willie Castle, was shot to death yesterday by a posse of ten officers.

Killed by Pitched Ball.
IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich., July 6.—John Carle, Goodman, Wis., outfielder, was fatally injured when hit in the head by a pitched ball yesterday during a Northern League baseball game at Merriam, Mich. Carle's skull was fractured by a fast ball thrown by John Constanti of Iron Mountain. He died in a hospital three hours later.

Ammonia Fumes Invade Hotel.
A leak in one of the ammonia pipes in the refrigerating unit in the Melbourne Hotel late yesterday afternoon caused ammonia fumes to be spread through the hotel lobby and coffee shop. Fire engines were called. O. P. Greenhouse, manager of the hotel, said the damage was negligible and that no one was injured.

ART DIRECTOR'S MURDER, SAYS

Accident or Suicide A ries in Case of Junius
at Redwood City

By the Associated Press.

REDWOOD CITY, Cal. Authorities are investigating circumstances of the Junius Cravens, 35-year-old rector of the stage and movies, whose body was found on the beach Saturday at the 100-foot cliff. Sheriff J. Grath suggested accident or suicide, but Coroner Crosby said he was convinced Cravens was murdered. The Coroner pointed out while Cravens' neck was and his face crushed, no bruises on other parts of body.

Cravens, who was at San Francisco newspaper found dead four days after he disappeared from his apartment in San Francisco. The day after his disappearance, he wrote Dr. James B. Sharp, WPA supervisor in San Francisco, before arriving in San Francisco about ten years ago, Cravens had worked for several wood movie productions that he engaged in stage production in New York and was associate editor of Vanity Fair magazine.

His disappearance was by friends, who called force entrance into his home after he failed to keep a date.

ART DIRECTOR'S DEATH MURDER, SAYS CORONER

Accident or Suicide Also Theories in Case of Junius Cravens at Redwood City, Cal.

By the Associated Press.

REDWOOD CITY, Cal., July 6.—

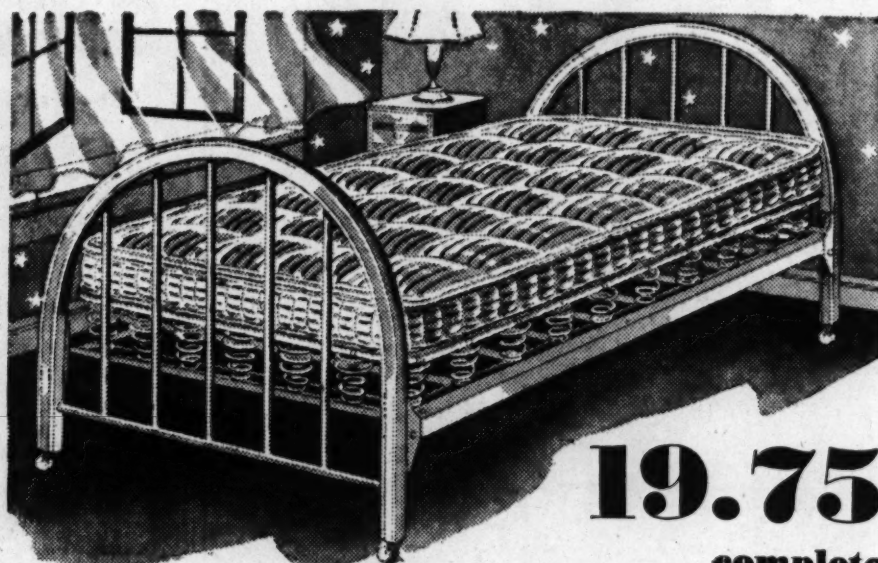

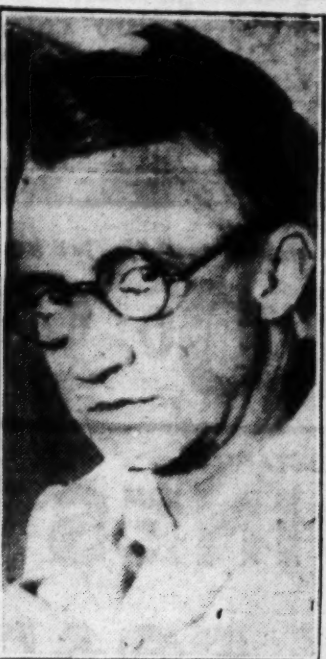

Authorities are investigating the circumstances of the death of Janius Cravens, 35-year-old art director of the stage and of the movies, whose body was found on the beach Saturday at the foot of a 100-foot cliff. Sheriff James McGrath suggested accidental death or suicide, but Coroner William Crosby said he was convinced Cravens was murdered.

Cravens, who was art critic for a San Francisco newspaper, was found dead four days after he disappeared from his apartment in San Francisco. The day before his disappearance, he wrote a letter to Dr. James H. Sharp, WPA co-ordinator in San Francisco, resigning as superintendent of an art project, and arriving in San Francisco about ten years ago. Cravens directed the art work for several Hollywood movie productions. Prior to that, he engaged in stage art direction in New York and was one time associate editor of Vanity Fair and Vogue magazines.

His disappearance was discovered by friends who called police to his apartment entrance into his apartment after he failed to keep an appointment.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 6.—Dr. Theodore Henry Nippert, 68 years old, one of the intermediaries in the $200,000 Edward G. Bremer kidnaping, was drowned Saturday in Big Sand Lake, eight miles east of Park Rapids, Minn.

The body was discovered by a grandson, Arnulf Ueland Jr., of Minneapolis, lying in less than two feet of water, about an hour after the doctor had left his summer home for a swim.

BOY STABS SELF TO DEATH

Commits Suicide in Milwaukee After Attack on Step-Aunt.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 6.—Russell Atkeson, 16 years old, committed suicide by stabbing himself in the heart last night after an assault on his step-aunt, Mrs. Loretta Kort Milne, 24.

Mrs. Milne said she had gone to bed and was awakened a short time later with the boy choking her. "I threw him off," she told Sgt. Albert Kornitz. She told of fighting the boy as he chased her from room to room until she reached the street. "He hit me several times with a screw driver," she said.

WARD SLATES BEING DRAFTED BY DEMOCRATS

Interest in Pre-Primary Selections Centers on Fight Between Mayor and Party Opponents.

Democratic ward organizations are preparing slates of candidates for various city offices in the primary election Aug. 4. Politicians are speculating as to the candidates most likely to receive the bulk of ward endorsements, considered all-important in a primary election where the organization vote is usually solid for the candidates it endorses.

While much of the interest among Democrats has been centered on the ward fights for election to the City Committee, mostly between candidates aligned with Mayor Dickmann and those opposing him, factional lines have been crossed in some wards where candidates are acceptable to both factions.

Some of the candidates are also members of the Democratic City Committee, which places them in a position to trade pledges of support with other committee members, and gives them the advantage of being well-enough acquainted with their fellow committeemen and women to bid for their support.

Fitzsimmons' Chances.

It is expected that James J. Fitzsimmons, Eighth Ward Committeeman and former committee treasurer, will receive most of the organization support for the nomination for Sheriff. He is now Chief Deputy Sheriff and a member of the anti-Dickmann faction, but most of the committee, Dickmann and anti-Dickmann, are friendly to his candidacy, although there may be some support for his two opponents, Fred J. Schmidt, Jr. and Louis G. Waldman, City Commissioner of Weights and Measures.

Waldman, an appointee of the Mayor, is relying on the support of the Mayor's faction, as well as the backing of various veterans' organizations in which he has been active. The Mayor, however, has declined so far to say whether he will have a slate of candidates in the primary.

Another city committeeman seeking nomination to a city office is John J. Sweeney of the Twenty-second Ward, candidate for Coroner. Sweeney, now Deputy Coroner, has been allied with the anti-administration faction in his ward with which Alderman Nick Reidy and William L. Igoe, president of the Police Board, are associated.

Alderman John A. Genteman of the First Ward, an undertaker and member of the administration faction in the Board of Aldermen, is opposing Sweeney as are Dr. Louis R. Padberg, former Coroner, and William E. Rubenstein. Padberg has a strong following in South St. Louis, his supporters say, while Genteman's principal strength is in his own ward, the First, and other North St. Louis wards.

Other Candidates.

Six candidates are in the race for the party nomination for Public Administrator, with Sheriff Thomas R. Madden, Walter F. Sheehan, the incumbent, and Aldermen Joseph B. Schweppe of the Sixth Ward, and Phelim O'Toole of the Thirteenth, all in line to receive organization support. Madden, however, is understood to be a slight favorite. Other candidates for the nomination are J. E. Wall and Bernard Robbe.

In the contest for the nomination for Public Administrator, Aldermen O'Toole and Schweppe and Administrator Sheehan are all aligned with the administration, whereas Madden is supported by the anti-Dickmann group. To avoid splitting the administration vote among three candidates and giving Madden the advantage, some politicians think that two of the three may withdraw.

For City Treasurer, Henry C. Menne is opposed for renomination by Sam Ben Payne, several times an unsuccessful candidate for the party nomination for Mayor. Politicians think Menne will be renominated. He lives in the Mayor's ward, the Fourteenth, but has had several disputes with the administration faction in the ward. Circuit Attorney Franklin Miller who led the party ticket in 1932 is unopposed for renomination.

For Circuit Judgeships, considerable speculation has arisen over the candidates for the six nominations for Circuit Judge most likely to be slated in the various wards. A candidate who has considerable support among both factions of the party is Assistant Circuit Attorney William B. Flynn. Flynn has been endorsed by the Third Ward organization of State Senator Joseph H. Brogan, allied with the Mayor's faction, and also has the backing of Igoe, an anti-Dickmann leader.

Supporters of Thomas J. Rowe Jr., who had considerable committee support in his last race for Circuit Judge two years ago say that he will have a majority of the committee behind him. He failed of the nomination in 1934.

Flynn and Rowe were not included in a list of eight candidates for Circuit Judge, said to have considerable support among the ward organization, published in the Post-Dispatch June 28.

Two other candidates for the nomination for Judge of the Court of Criminal Correction, Division No. 2, City Judge Joseph L. Simpson, John M. Holmes and Joseph F. Schmitt. Supporters of Simpson think he will get most of the support of the administration faction, but the position of the ward organizations on this office has not yet been definitely determined.

Two other candidates for Circuit Judge, not mentioned in the list published previously, who apparently are gaining strength among ward organizations, are Herman Willer, an Assistant Prosecuting Attorney, and Clyde H. Snider, a lawyer with offices in the same suits as Samuel W. Fordyce, former chairman of the Democratic State Committee.

Another candidate for the nomination of Circuit Judge, Morris A. Shenker, claims support in 12 wards.

FALSE TEETH CLEANED WITHOUT BRUSHING!

Miracle Powder Dissolves All Stains, Tartar, and Odors—in 5 to 15 Minutes—Like New

Put your plate—or removable bridge—in a solution of water. Then add a little Polident powder—and watch all food deposits vanish like magic! Absolutely harmless. Your plate gleams. It's sweet and clean as new. No more denture breath. No more dangerous scrubbing and scouring.

Your dentist will tell you that Polident is a great scientific miracle.

It is made and guaranteed by the famous Wernet Laboratories. And users say it is wonderful the way it makes teeth look like and natural—ends that "false" look. Just try it—ask your druggist for a 30-cent can of Polident. It will last a long time—and you'll be delighted. Or write for a free sample. Send name and address to Wernet Dental Co., Dept. C, 882 Third Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Make Hair Grow while the sun shines"

"It is a well known phenomenon that in the summer the growth of hair is more rapid," says Dr. Arnold Lorand, Vienna Dermatologist.

THAT Hair grows faster in the summer than at any other season is an established scientific fact. You can take advantage of this seasonal peculiarity by starting Thomas' hair and scalp treatment at once.

Your hair will respond more quickly to this famous proved method of treatment now than at any other time. Within an unusually short time your dandruff should disappear, excessive hairfall stop—your scalp should be in a healthy condition. Call at the Thomas' office and talk your problem over with the specialist in charge. He will gladly examine your scalp without charge or obligation and frankly tell you what Thomas' treatment can do for you.

Found Dead in Bath Tub.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Partly submerged in a drawn bath, Arthur F. Ferguson, 62 years old, Government textile expert, was found dead at his home here last night. The body was found by a roomer, Ray W. Olson, who told police Ferguson's head and shoulders were under water. Coroner A. Magruder MacDonald said death apparently was not caused by drowning. He ordered an autopsy.

McNair Not to Seek Re-Election.
By the Associated Press.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 6.—Mayor William W. McNair said last night he would not be a candidate for re-election next year. The statement followed decision of Allegheny County candidates for the General Assembly that they would support a City Manager plan for Pittsburgh. McNair, a Democrat, broke with the organization shortly after his election in 1933.

FARMER'S FIFTH WIFE FOUND SHOT TO DEATH IN OHIO HOME

Discovery of Second Wound Upsets Theory She Was Hit by Hunter's Stray Bullet.

MARIETTA, O., July 6.—Mrs. Bartmess, 59 years old, the fifth wife of Ben Bartmess, a farmer, was found shot to death on the kitchen floor of her home, about 12 miles north of Marietta, Saturday.

Sheriff Arthur Mackey at first thought she might have been shot by a hunter's stray bullet, but examination yesterday disclosed that in addition to a rifle bullet wound in the center of her forehead, Mrs. Bartmess had been shot in the left side. Both bullets were of .22 caliber.

Bartmess told officers he had worked in the field until noon, and discovered his wife's body crumpled on the floor near an open window when he went in the house to get out of a rainstorm.

Sheriff Mackey said Bartmess told him he had been divorced twice and widowed twice.

Woman Golfer Sues for Divorce.

CHICAGO, July 6.—A suit by Mrs. Virginia Viles Norton for a divorce from David W. Norton Jr. was on file in Superior Court today. Mrs. Norton, Illinois women's golf champion, asked for custody of their 1-year-old son. Norton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Norton, Peoria. They were married in 1932.

INVESTIGATORS QUESTION VICTIMS OF NIGHT RIDERS

North Carolina Inquiry Shifts to Town Where Paralytic and 3 Daughters Were Flogged.

By the Associated Press.

WHITEVILLE, N. C., July 6.—A committee of Clarendon citizens pledged support yesterday to solicitor John J. Burney of Wilmington, and Sheriff John W. Hall in efforts to rid their community of white robed night riders. Burney and Hall continued their investigation into the activities of the terrorists accused of flogging four women and six men because they violated a code of moral conduct prescribed by the self-appointed rural cops.

Grover C. Hinson, a well-to-do farmer, reported to authorities that a group of 100 citizens of Clarendon held a mass meeting and pledged support to the forces of law and order. Hinson told authorities that if the matter is cleared up, he believed it would be found two factions were operating against each other and that none of the best citizens of Clarendon were night riders.

Solicitor Burney, who announced a few days ago he would "war to the death" on the night riders, spent yesterday in the community questioning several of the alleged victims, but did not disclose what he learned. He talked with Lihue Fowler, 65-year-old paralytic, who said he and his three daughters were beaten by the hooded band. Burney said he planned to return Wednesday with Sheriff Hall and pursue the questioning further.

Meanwhile, the Rev. George R. Hune, a rural Baptist preacher, expressed delight over what he said was an implication he led the riders. He denied he was connected with the terrorists, but said the accusation was "the most honorable thing that has ever been bestowed on me."

In his Sunday sermon, amid many "amens," he exhorted his hearers to cleanse the community of "undesirables."

It was the Rev. Mr. Hunt who wrote the Wilmington Star-News last week criticizing the Columbus County Grand Jury for going the floggings without investigating moral conditions he said were responsible for the whippings.

He told his congregation yesterday: "I don't believe any law is stronger than the sentiment of a community. When that sentiment says anything must go, it does. God help us, it is stronger than the law."

"Brothers, to make our presence felt, Moses had a house cleaning, and Elijah had a house cleaning, too. I told God in that song we sang awhile ago we were going to fight. Then if we go home and don't lift a hand to make this community a fit place to raise our children in, it's terrible."

DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S AID, FACING RETRIAL, RESIGNS
W. W. Kleinman Was Accused of Obstructing Justice in Drukman Case, But Jury Disagreed.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., July 6.—William W. Kleinman, who faces retrial on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice in the Drukman murder case, resigned today as an Assistant District Attorney of Kings County.

Kleinman resigned soon after District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan announced he planned to reorganize his staff.

Geoghan said Kleinman was one of six assistants he had planned to drop from his staff and supplant with men recommended by the Brooklyn Bar Association.

Kleinman, who has been on leave of absence without salary since March 15, was one of five men tried by a Kings County jury. The jury convicted three co-defendants but disagreed in the cases of Kleinman and Giuseppe F. L. Dardis, a detective.

WEDS BEFORE INQUEST JURY WHICH FREED HIM IN KILLING

Man Who Shot Another Marries Woman Who Figured in Attack.

WINNEMUCA, Nev., July 6.—When a Coroner's jury cleared Ray Dickenson of Burns, Ore., here Saturday in the killing of Thomas Penn, Justice James Ritchie commanded the jurors, witnesses and spectators to stand, produced a marriage license and married Dickenson and a woman, who figured in the shooting.

Penn died Thursday night in a hospital of three bullet wounds inflicted by Dickenson Tuesday night. Witnesses said Penn went to a tent occupied by Dickenson and the woman, opened the flap and fired several shots, slightly wounding Dickenson and his companion. Dickenson seized the weapon and shot Penn.

Shot by Unidentified Person.

George Peters, 4105 Minnesota avenue, was shot and superficially wounded in the right leg below the knee by an unidentified person, while he was seated on a bench at a farm near Spanish Lake, St. Louis County, where he was visiting friends. The shot, from a .22-caliber rifle, was thought to have been fired by a hunter in the neighborhood. Peters was treated at City Hospital.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, July 6. (AP)—The Olympic Games, the most important athletic event in the world, is now in progress at the St. Louis Exposition grounds.

So closely matched are the contestants and so packed with events that the possibilities in the six days that few observers forecast the outcome.

This applies especially to the 800 and 1500 meter runs, the meter high hurdles, the pole vault and the high jump, all of which will swing into action formidable rivals.

Otherwise pronounced favorites have developed in the quarter-finals.

About 300 athletes, picked for the final trials, will compete in the six days that few observers forecast the outcome.

Ten Already Selected. Already 10 Olympians have been named as a result of final trials.

Four events, the marathon, the 100-meter run, the 50,000-meter walk, and the 100-meter dash, are scheduled for Saturday.

Whether the U. S. A. sends three entries in each event in competition, depends on the results for the final trials.

The National A. A. U. championships, completed Saturday afternoon, demonstrated that most Olympic favorites, along with a number of newcomers to the sport, are ripe for another record-breaking battle.

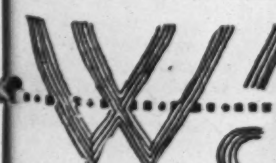

Such stalwarts as Jesse Owens, Ohio State, Don Lash of Forrest (Spec) Towns of Glen (Slate) Hardin of L. State and Glenn Cunningham of Kansas came through with title victories.

New Pole Vault Sensation. The latest pole vault sensation, 22-year-old George Varoff of the Olympic Club, San Francisco, edged himself over the bar at a world record height of 14 feet to make Uncle Sam that the previous record.

Yale's Keith Brown, isn't a Varoff heat two consistent winners, Earle Meadows and Bill of Southern California.

These three coast stars reckon with stylish Dave V. of Rice Institute and Bill of Southern California veterans.

Scarcely less terrific is the feat in the high jump. Five feet, led by Janky Cornelius of Los Angeles Negro, cleared 7 feet, in the national championships. Johnson and two others, Mel Walker and D. Britton of Ohio State, cleared and took shots at the world's Walter Marty, who holds world mark of 6-9 1/2, are

One More River to Cross

OUR tired heroes of the Olympic team of 1936 are now in the selection of Berlin—the final trials. The young men finally will have earned their trip abroad, for they have been campaigning for the last two weeks. That means long self-denial, tremendous perseverance, these athletes simultaneously on either their studies or their efforts to livelihood, as well as their training.

Since the outdoor season is that in a major way, all this effort and preparation will have been in vain.

WASHINGTON CREW TO REPRESENT U. S. IN OLYMPIC RACES

HUSKIES DEFEAT PENNSYLVANIA IN FINAL MORE THAN A LENGTH

California, Twice Winner of World Title, Third and New York A. C. Last at Lake Carnegie.

By the Associated Press.
PRINCETON, N. J., July 6.—Eight bronzed and brawny oarsmen from the University of Washington sped through Lake Carnegie's placid waters yesterday to a smashing triumph in the final tryouts and won the right to defend Uncle Sam's four-times won honors against the eight of the world in the Olympic games at Berlin next month.

With their bulging muscles rippling in the sunshine, the six-foot-three-inch giants from the Far West spiked a valiant and desperate bid by Pennsylvania's Red and Blues in the last 400 meters of the 2000-meter Olympic distance pull, and rowing 40 strokes a minute, led Penn across the finish line by one and one-quarter lengths.

In the fourth and last place for the first 1000 meters, trailing California's Golden Bears, the New York Athletic Club and Penn. in that order, Al Ulbrickson's sky-scraping sweepstrokes riding in the "Huskies' Clipper," passed their rivals after 1800 meters and on the night of a back-breaking drive the rest of the way finished in 6:04.45—the fastest time of the two-day trials.

New York A. C. Crew Quits.
Penn coached by Rusty Callow who was Ulbrickson's instructor at Washington 10 years ago, was clocked at 6:08.35, good for a three-quarter length margin over the Berkeley Bears. Overwhelmed by the triumvirate's stretch battle and out of the running for the first place after the first half mile, the New York A. C. oarsmen stopped rowing a few meters before the finish.

No times are announced for either California or New York A. C. It was a heart-breaking defeat for both Penn and California. Penn now undisputed sprint champion of the East by virtue of its victory over Navy in Saturday's trial, surprised expert observers yesterday. For the Berkeley institution it was the first time since Cagney Ky Ebbright has been in charge of rowing there it failed to win the American Olympic designation. The Bears' crews in 1928 and 1932 extended America's Olympic supremacy.

Tenure started in 1920 by Navy and kept going by Yale in 1924. "We couldn't let 'em have it three times in a row," smiled Ulbrickson, the proud professor of America's title-holding spring and long distance crew. His Huskies triumphed at Foughkepoa last month in the Intercollegiate regatta. "Since the California Bears couldn't win we just had to keep the honors on the Pacific Coast."

While there never was any doubt about their chances in the Huskies' camp before the championship, last supporters among the 10,000 spectators many uneasy moments as they trailed in the wake of the other crews for half the distance, but, as Ulbrickson explained later, it was part of the pre-battle strategy not to shoot their bolt too early.

Penn Takes Lead.
The N. Y. C. A. got the jump at the start as the crews struck a 39-beat. However, Penn forged ahead at the quarter by a quarter length over the Winged Footers, with California third and Washington last. They remained that way for the first 1000 meters, but during the stretch the Huskies slipped down to approximately 36 strokes a minute. Meanwhile, Penn increased its margin to a length, with the Bears and the N. Y. A. C. swapping positions.

Although half way down the course, the stentorian tones of Coxswain Bob Moch could be heard at the finish line, giving the Huskies the word to let 'er out. Don Hume, the curly-haired 172-pound stroke, responded immediately and moved the stroke to 40 a minute.

One by one, the Huskies caught up with and passed N. Y. A. C. and California. With 500 meters to go, they drew level with Penn and finally overhauled the Red and Blues at the start of the last quarter. Penn, which had rowed a beautiful race, tried to make the Huskies' stroke for stroke. They never became ragged in their campaign, but they couldn't rattle down to the powerful and rhythmic stroke of the Huskies.

California's disappointing showing was partly accountable to the Bears' strenuous duel with Penn in Saturday's heat. The Bears pulled up from behind to nip Penn at the finish by 12 feet in 6:07.45. It was the consensus they outrowed themselves in that supreme effort.

Thompson, Weinstock Win

Frank Thompson and Robert Weinstock defeated Wray Brown and Karl Hodge, 6-4, 11-3, in an exhibition men's doubles tennis match at the Westwood Country Club last night. The exhibition was played on the new lighted courts at the club and was the final of a series of Independence day holiday sport events.

Helen Stephens Steps Out Again

Helen Stephens, America's ace sprinter in the women's division, nearing the tape in the semifinal of the Olympic Trials at Providence, Saturday. She went on to win the final, a short time afterward, and set a new record for the event, 11.7. She also won the discus throw and shot put.

the hill. But two were out in the ninth and Ed Heusser quickly ended the game to give Shad his second victory since he rejoined the Cardinals.

A four-run rally in the ninth inning broke a 4-4 tie and gave the Cardinals an 8-4 decision in the opening game. Jesse Haines started and retired after six innings with the score tied, and Heusser, who hurled the seventh and eighth and then retired for a pinch batter, was credited with the victory. The score of the second game was 17 to 7.

Rhem, besides pitching impressively in the nightcap, had the pleasure of driving in the first two Cardinal runs. In the second inning Medwick walked and after Collins popped out, Ogdowski doubled into the crowd in right—there was an overflow gathering of 30,130 persons—Durocher popped over Navy in Saturday's trial, surprised expert observers yesterday.

on Myers' fumble, Medwick scoring, and when Myers threw wild to first and Scarsella recovered and threw wild to the plate, Collins and Ogdowski also scored.

Here's the ninth inning of the first game: Durocher singled to right, Gelbert, after trying twice to sacrifice, singled over second, sending Durocher to third. Mize batted for Heusser and lined to Derringer, who didn't realize he had the ball until Gelbert was safely on his way back to first. Moore popped a single to left, scoring Durocher. Stuart Martin walked, filling the bases. Brennan replaced Derringer. Pepper Martin fouled to Cuyler, Gelbert scoring. Moore moved to third. With Medwick at the plate, Stuart Martin started for second. Lombardi, trying a trick play, threw the ball at Brennan, but the pitcher, crouching on the hill, didn't see it and the ball hit his shoulder and caromed toward third base. Moore scoring and Stuart Martin reaching third. Medwick singled, scoring Stuart Martin.

It was well that it was a good rally, as the Reds scored two in their half.

Most of the fans had left the park in disgust long before the second game ended.

QUALIFYING ROUND FOR PUBLIC PARKS GOLF MEET TOMORROW

The local qualifying round for the national public parks golf tournament will be held tomorrow over the 18-hole course in Forest Park. The round will be 36 holes and the top 100 scorers will qualify for the trip to Farmington, N. J., just outside of New York, to play in the national meet, July 20-25. Any golfer, not connected with a private club, may compete from this district.

The Forest Park Golf Club and the Municipal Athletic Association are the sponsors of this meet and finance the trip of the St. Louis team.

The qualifying round starts tomorrow at 9 o'clock. Entry fee for the event is $2. Entries will be accepted at the tee tomorrow morning.

MT. AUBURN NINE WINS U. CITY MUNY CONTEST

St. Louis started its quest for the second-half championship of the University City Municipal Baseball League by trouncing the Burkes, 6-1, yesterday afternoon at Heman Park. Ed Richards stopped the Burkes with only seven hits while his teammates were making 13.

In the other contest, the Hallrunners and Krogers had an old-fashioned slugfest with the Hallrunners taking the wild game, 16 to 14. The Hallrunners made 16 runs, 14 hits, and three errors, while the Krogers made 14 runs, 11 hits and six errors.

George Sieler Jr., living up to his father's reputation, hit a home run for the Krogers nine, his drive going over the score board in deep left center, one of the longest hits ever made in the park.

RIGGS BEATS MANGIN IN FOUR-SET MATCH

NEW YORK, July 6.—Robert L. Riggs, 18-year-old Los Angeles racket wielder who holds the national junior and clay court tennis titles, won the Nassau Country Club's invitation tournament yesterday by defeating Gregory Mangin, national indoor champion, 9-7, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3.

Riggs and Wayne Sabin of Hollywood, Cal., won the doubles by defeating Mangin and J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., 6-4, 6-2, 6-3.

Begley, Local Star, Gains a Position on Olympic Soccer Team

NEW YORK, July 6.—The Olympic soccer football committee last night announced the selection of 17 players to form the squad which will represent the United States at the international games in Berlin. All but four of the players were chosen from the Philadelphia German Americans, national open champions, and the Brooklyn German Sports Club, national amateur titleholders.

The four "outsiders" selected were Julius Chmielewski of the Trenton (N. J.) Highlanders; John Zywan of the Castle Shannon Club, Pittsburgh; Edward Begley, St. Louis Municipal Association, and Andrew Geyda, Boston Football Club.

The Philadelphia players named for the squad were Robert Benton, Fred Stoll, Alfred Harker, James Crockett, Peter Pietros, Charles Altomasi, Francis Ryan, George Menchik, William Fiedler and Frank Lepkeder. From the Brooklyn Germans were drawn Frank Barttus, Frank Greimert and John Althaus.

In the final tryouts yesterday afternoon at the Grand Stadium in Brooklyn, where, in two matches of one hour each, the Philadelphia Germans, national open champions, defeated the Brooklyn Germans, national amateur champions, by the score of 1 goal to 0 and a mixed team, playing as the Blues, defeated the Yellows, 3 goals to 1.

Fiedler of the Philadelphia Germans drove in the only tally in the first game on a pass by W. McEwan after 16 minutes of play. Two thousand spectators were on hand to cheer on the candidates. Ed Begley of St. Louis played the center-half position in the second match between two mixed teams, which was won by his side—the Blues.

Begley's work throughout was most favorably commented upon by several of the judges. The deft way in which he touched the ball in either direction to feed the forwards was especially noteworthy.

The Blues shot their three goals in the first 30-minute period. Shepley, the outside left, starting the attack at 15 minutes. Chmielewski drove in the second, after which Shepley made it three straight. It was not until the middle of the second half that Drinkworth, inside right for the Yellows, succeeded in getting past the Blues' defense for their only tally.

VAN RYN AND WIFE WIN MATCHES ABROAD

By the Associated Press.
NOORDWIJK, Holland, July 6.—John Van Ryn and Mrs. Van Ryn, of Philadelphia, scored victories for the United States today in the second round of the International tennis series against Holland.

Mrs. Van Ryn defeated Minna Terwindt, 6-1, 6-1. The deft way in which she touched the ball in either direction to feed the forwards was especially noteworthy.

Mrs. Van Ryn and Allison defeated Miss Terwindt and H. Vansoel, 6-8, 7-5, 7-5.

Miss Terwindt and Rollin Couquerque defeated Miss Babcock and Mrs. Van Ryn, 6-1, 6-1. Van Ryn, of Philadelphia, scored victories for the United States today in the second round of the International tennis series against Holland.

Mrs. Van Ryn defeated Minna Terwindt, 6-1, 6-1. The deft way in which she touched the ball in either direction to feed the forwards was especially noteworthy.

The Blues shot their three goals in the first 30-minute period. Shepley, the outside left, starting the attack at 15 minutes. Chmielewski drove in the second, after which Shepley made it three straight. It was not until the middle of the second half that Drinkworth, inside right for the Yellows, succeeded in getting past the Blues' defense for their only tally.

rance, Baton Rouge policeman, isn't getting the usual push behind that 16-pound shot and is some five feet below his top form. Our quartermilers fell a second below their own best performance. Also, it is now certain that Bill Bonthron and Gene Venzke are not up to beating Cunningham, at this time.

Don Lash, our distance runner, was far behind the record in winning the 5000 meters. In the women's Olympic trials at Providence there was only one standout—Helen Stephens. Average performances characterized the efforts of the others.

Other Side of the Story.

THAT'S the bad news side of it—on the other hand the record smashing and otherwise splendid performance of some of the men athletes in the national championships indicates that all is well with the majority of our representatives. The pole vault, the sprints, the quarter and half-mile events, the broad jump, the hurdles, the high jump, appear almost on ice, to judge by Saturday's performances.

The great worry about the coaches now will be to hold the athletes in condition for approximately one month more and have them ready to deliver at their best at Berlin.

In contrast with the strong German team, competing under home conditions, our boys will face all sorts of hazards such as the ocean voyage, which may sicken some of the men, changed food and water conditions and competition before foreign, perhaps hostile crowds.

The War Goes On.

WONDER what's beneath the surface in the matter of the war that is being waged on the camera as an aid to racing judges? Some writers and officials apparently have reached the conclusion that the camera should be thrown out and a return to the placing judges be made universal. There can hardly be any doubt that the mechanical petrification of the finish, if properly executed, is and will be helpful to judges who are in doubt as to whether a dead heat or a winner could be called.

The Maryland Racing Commission made exhaustive tests by the use of a truck, to which a couple of wooden horses' heads were attached on poles in front of the car.

Photos were made with the noses exactly on a line, and then with first one and then the other head advanced six inches. In all cases the photography bore out the facts. Maryland, therefore, will continue the use of the camera.

They might as well go back to hand-timing auto races as abandon the camera as a verifier of racing finishes.

Two Title Fights on One Card.

MADISON Square Garden will be making a new bid for patronage on July 30 when, at Long Island Bowl, Jimmy Johnston will present two championship fights on the same card. The final will see the veteran Tony Canzoneri defending his title against Lou Ambers; the semifinal will bring together Mike Bellosio and Dave Crowley of England in a featherweight "title" fight.

The double-feature idea is good, but the execution is a bit weak, since Bellosio is not accepted as featherweight champion except in England in a featherweight "title" fight.

Mike is a rugged little boy and can knock 'em dead. He may turn out to be the goods, but until he is more widely accepted as titleholder, we'll have to sidestep the championship feature of this contest.

Let's hope Crowley lives up to the best British boxing traditions, for one thing this country surely needs injected into its fighting is a little knowledge of legitimate defense.

As for Canzoneri and Ambers—they met once and Tony made Ambers appear inferior. Tony is older now and perhaps has slowed up. He has kept in condition, however, and his recent fight will prove that he's still "poison."

Los Angeles A. C. Water Polo Team To Go to Berlin

CHICAGO, July 6.—A water polo team which has not been beaten since it was eliminated from the 1923 Olympics, will represent the United States in the international games in Berlin next month.

KEANEY WINS MUNICIPAL TENNIS TITLE, BEATING NORTON

NEW CHAMPION DROPS ONLY 3 GAMES, TAKING 3-SET CONTEST

Drewes and Norton Upset Smith and Parker in Five-Set Doubles Final—Victors Qualify for U. S. Tourney.

By Davison Ober.

New champions were crowned in the twenty-third annual St. Louis Municipal men's tennis championship yesterday afternoon. Frank Keaney is the new men's singles titleholder, while the team of Ted Drewes and Robert Norton won the doubles honors.

Keaney won from Norton, 6-3, 6-0, 6-2 in the final of the singles, while earlier in the afternoon Drewes and Norton defeated the defending champions, Wayne Smith and Ward Parker, in an thrilling doubles final. The score was 6-4, 6-8, 7-2, 6-6, 6-2.

In winning from Norton, Keaney achieved the goal he has been attempting to reach for the past five years. He succeeds Ted Drewes, who held the title for 12 years, but withdrew from the singles play this season.

The singles final was played after the doubles. Norton was naturally tired after five grueling sets but he faced Keaney gamely. Keaney, however, played almost unbeatable tennis. His powerful serve was very effective and his flat forehand drive found their mark quite frequently.

The doubles final was one of the most interesting in recent years. Despite the intense heat, the four players put forth their best efforts for 3 hours and 10 minutes before a decision was reached.

The first three sets were very close, as the score indicates. Drewes and Norton took the first set, 6-4, and lost the next by the same score. Smith and Parker ran up a lead of 5 to 3 in the third set. Drewes and Norton refused to yield, however, and took the set straight for a 6-to-5 lead. Good teamwork and net play enabled them to win the set, 9-7.

Smith and Parker opened strong in the fourth set. The 10-minute rest period after the third set apparently helped them. They won this set, 6-2. Norton did not play quite as well in this set as he did in the first set.

Superior play in the fifth set gave Drewes and Norton the victory. Drewes' play and strategy coupled by Norton's consistent strokes, won the set for them by a 6-to-2 score.

Drewes and Norton qualified along with Keaney for the National Public Parks tennis championship to be played here the week of Aug. 17. Keaney will play in singles, while Drewes and Norton will participate in the doubles. They are also eligible to compete in the singles if they so desire.

Trolley League Leaders Win in 15-Inning Game

The Belleville Stags got their most severe competition of the season yesterday when the Alpen Stars team in the Missouri-Illinois Trolley League, but won out in the fifteenth inning, 6-5. The Stags took a 5-0 lead in the first three innings, scoring four runs in the third after an error by the Alpen Stars.

Lloyd Farley, pitching for the Alpen Stars, held the Stags after the third inning until the fifteenth, not allowing a run for 11 innings, but in the final inning, he weakened and walked Seane, who took second on Campbell's sacrifice and scored on Siemer's single.

Glen Barthelme pitched the last six innings for the Stags and allowed only three hits and no runs in his six innings on the hill.

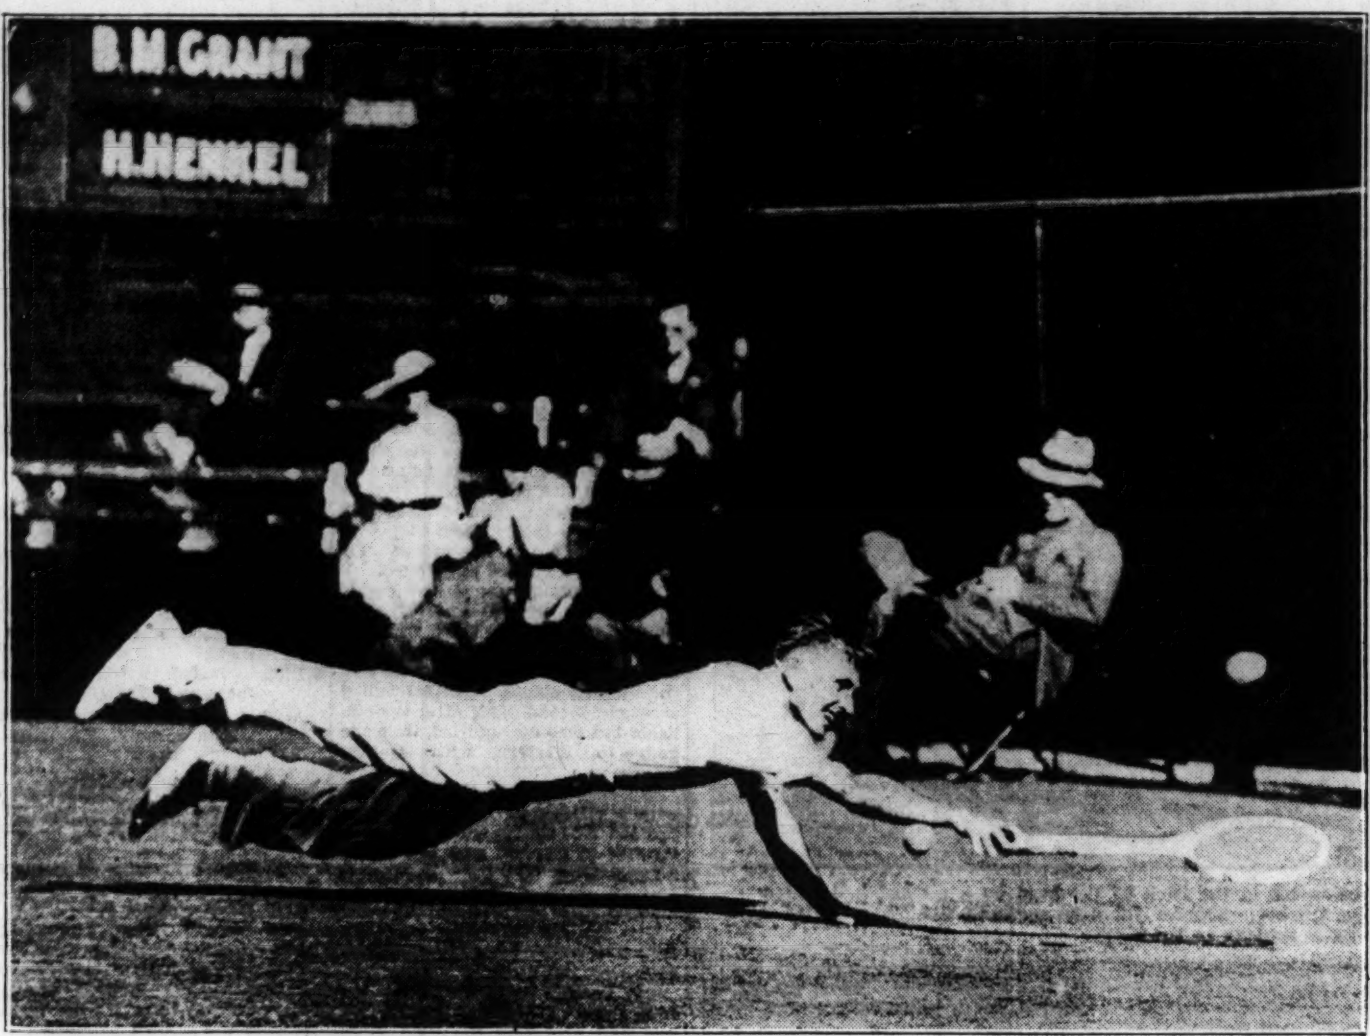

In another league game, the Edgemont A. C. scored three runs in the ninth inning to tie their game with the Hufschmidt, and then tallied another run in the tenth to take the game and second place from the St. Louis nine, 5-4. In the third league contest, Sandalia trimmed Carlyle, 7-0, behind the shut pitching of G. Smith.

FOUR SPECIAL BOXING MATCHES ARE SIGNED

Four special matches are completed for Benny Kessler's amateur boxing show at the Coliseum Friday night, which has drawn 37 entries from amateurs in St. Louis and nearby Illinois. Jack Conway, Tower A. C. lightweight, will meet Jerry Hudspeth and Jimmy Fields and Clarence Jones, two Negro boxers, are also slated for action.

In the other two matches closed last week, Lou Wallach, former A. U. titleholder, and Danny Durso, who is attempting a comeback after a tough opposition in Belleville, will meet. Wallach takes on a "Kid" Mouse, while Durso is to meet Eric Koberg, winner of last winter's Golden Glove crown, in the bantamweight class.

Here's One That Bitsy Didn't Get

Bryan "Bitsy" Grant of Atlanta, Ga., comes a cropper while trying to return one of Heiner Henkel's shots in the tournament at Wimbledon. Bitsy eliminated the German in five sets. He reached the quarterfinals of the tourney, where Fred Perry eliminated him, but not before Grant's wonderful ball retrieving won the hearts of the Wimbledon gallery.

U.S. Olympic Squad Likely To Be Curtailed Because Of $150,000 Fund Shortage

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The specter of curtailed participation in the Olympic games rose again today to plague the American Olympic Committee, only 10 days before the teams were due to sail, and the big task of selecting the competitors still was unfinished.

The final tryouts in three of the principal activities, men's track and field and men's and women's swimming are scheduled for this week. To a large extent the gate receipts from these tryouts may decide how many Americans will compete at Berlin in August.

Each sport is expected to pay its own way, but these three will have the biggest squads and thus need the most money.

Reports of committee heads at a general meeting yesterday showed that only three out of 21 had surpassed their quotas—boxing, modern pentathlon and yachting—and while most of the others were hopeful of raising their totals within the next 10 days the deficit is now nearly $150,000.

Nation-Wide Appeal. As a result the committee laid plans for a nation-wide appeal for funds, ending possibly in a drive on the pier before the S. S. Manhattan sails July 15, carrying the Olympic squads.

In many cases the committees have put it up to the clubs, colleges and other organizations represented to make up the deficits. "We have reached a serious crisis," said Avery Brundage, A. O. C. chairman. "We are short approximately $150,000. We have, I would guess, about $25,000 coming in from various sources, whereas we are in debt another $25,000 for the fencing squad."

The fencing squad probably will be cut from 22 to 14, the men's gymnastic squad may drop three of its members and the pistol shooting team plans to trim off one or two men. Field hockey has a $4000 deficit and no income.

forced to share the Class C honors with Charles Huntington of Eugene, Ore., both having broken or powered 45 birds in 50 shots.

Second place in the handicap event was reserved for J. B. Kuster, M. F. Harman and E. Pleymeyer of Staunton, Ill., all scoring 44. Dr. Penney, the Okoboji "Indian" who received last week his first 100 straight chevron, again grabbed the spotlight when he walked off with the third-place handicap laurels.

Mrs. H. L. Maitland was the only woman shooter to actually compete for the singles honors, although her daughter, Alice, demonstrated fine work with her 12-gauge shotgun by breaking 19 targets in 25 shots.

J. R. Judy and H. L. Maitland tied for the handicap honors in the professional class, while the former pro nosed out Maitland by one point for the singles title with a 49. Both had 45 in the handicap.

The Illinois-Missouri League will hold its shoot next Sunday at Bethalto, Ill.

STEINMANN'S WIN, TAKE FIRST-HALF TITLE IN MUNS HORSESHOE PLAY

The Steinmanns trimmed the last place Budweisers, 13-3 and by the victory took first-half honors in the Municipal Horseshoe League play yesterday afternoon in the Carondelet Division.

The Mrazeks took second place by defeating the Wacker-Heiderichs, 13-3, while the Gordons won the third match from the Spehs by the same score.

Alvin Segbers, Mrazeks, led the individual pitchers yesterday with a 6.00 average. "Lefty" Steinmann of the Steinmanns, was close behind with 6.25.

AMERICA AND JAPAN LIKELY TO BATTLE FOR SWIM HONORS

By Harold (Dutch) Smith.

1932 Olympic Diving Champion and Now Coach of the German Olympic Diving Team.

BERLIN, July 6.—The Olympic swimming stadium here is going to be the scene of many interesting battles during the Olympic games.

Again it looks like a fight between the U. S. A. and Japan for the men's swimming championship.

Both teams are stronger than the Japanese team was in Los Angeles and they are both headed by men that know each other's team perfectly.

Mr. I. Matsuzawa is the head man of the Japanese team and he knows every man on the American team and what he is capable of doing.

Bob Kipphut, American head coach from Yale University, has made many trips to Japan with swimmers and knows the Japanese team like a book.

Both men are very clever in handling their boys and the show should be a great one.

Both teams are so evenly matched that the relay will no doubt decide the championship.

In Los Angeles the Japanese won this event in the world's record time of 8:58.4 which was 20 seconds better than the American world's record.

The winning team here should do around 8:46.0 or better, which is 12.4 better than the 1932 record and 6.2 better than the present world's mark of 8:52.2 held by Japan.

The next great performance should come from the Holland girls. This is where we'll find out if that horse meat really works.

The Dutch girls should win enough events for the 400-meter relay event to put the championship on ice.

Their present record stands at 4:28.8 over this distance, which is 10 full seconds faster than their closest competitors.

However, it will not be an easy victory by any means, for the girls from Denmark are breaking records at every meeting, while Martha Genenger of Germany looks like a sure winner in the 200-meter breast stroke event, and she has switched over to horse meat, too, so those Dutch girls won't have anything on her.

Water polo is the game that thrills them over here and should keep the swimming stadium packed with shouts and cries between the teams.

Argentina Will Take Zbyszko's Purses for Taxes

By the Associated Press.

BUENOS AIRES, July 6.—STANISLAUS ZBYSKO, the aged Polish wrestler who announced his retirement more than 15 years ago but is still plying his trade on Argentine mats, was informed yesterday that the proceeds from his future matches will be seized by the government.

The income tax department, alleging that Zbyszko owes it 1750 pesos—equivalent to about $470—obtained a court order permitting confiscation of his purses.

NEW YORK FOOTBALL GIANTS SCHEDULED TO OPEN SEASON EARLY

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The New York Football Giants will make the earliest start in their history by tackling the Orange Tornadoes in an exhibition game at Orange, N. J., Sept. 1, it was announced today by John V. Mara, president of the eastern champions. In addition to this early game the Giants have also scheduled a contest against the New Rochelle, N. Y., Bulldogs on Sept. 20.

The National League will make an early start in Orange because Coach Steve Owen wants his squad to have a real struggle before clashing with the College All-Stars at the Polo Grounds on Sept. 8.

Gene Rose, All-Southern end at Tennessee; John Starnes, Bucknell quarterback; along with two 235-pound tackles, Jack Hadenof, Arkansas, and Jack Rhodes, Texas Teachers, are newcomers who already have signed up with the Giants.

M. U. CAGE TEAM TO PLAY LOCAL FIVES DESPITE BIG 6 RULE

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBIA, Mo., July 6.—Missouri University's 1936-37 basketball schedule will not be affected by recent action of the Big Six conference looking toward discontinuance of athletic relations with schools not enforcing the one-year residence rule, it was announced here today.

The University Athletic Committee has approved a schedule including four "B" team games to be played with Washington and St. Louis universities, in addition to the regular Big Six schedule.

Being on their home grounds, I would say that they have a fair chance, too, but there are others with the same idea, and the battle will be a hard one.

There are some 15 teams entered, and each team has to play the other, and no two teams shall meet twice. In this round robin play-off if a team has an off day it is just hard luck and means a wait until the 1940 games to try again.

CHICAGO SWEEPS CRICKET SERIES WITH ST. LOUIS

Danny Ryan is the man of the hour for the Chicago Cricket team which visited this city over the week-end to defeat two St. Louis cricket squads. The veteran Ryan, coming to bat with eight wickets down and only 104 runs scored for Chicago to St. Louis' 126 total, in yesterday's team match, was too clever for St. Louis' tired bowlers and was able to stay at bat long enough to score enough runs to win the match for Chicago with a little help from R. Leveridge.

Ryan was hit on the back of the head with a thrown ball shortly after he started his turn at bat, but that didn't bother him. He received a little first aid and then proceeded to pound out several dozens and numerous other runs for a total of 16. He brought the score to 123, and then Leveridge hit over the boundary line for a six to clinch the victory for Chicago.

Until Ryan came to bat, it had appeared that St. Louis would see an even break in the two-day series after losing, 144-70. But for a change in the rules, St. Louis would have won. Usually, a cricket match is based on the score of eleven batters, but because Chicago had brought 12, yesterday's match was decided on the scores of 12. After eleven batters had taken their turns, the score was St. Louis 123, Chicago 121.

A Bradbury of St. Louis was the leading batter yesterday, making 45 runs. And he wasn't out on any error of his own, but on that of his partner who elected to try for a single run on a short hit, and Bradbury was run out on the attempt. C. P. Cummins was next high for St. Louis with 23 runs.

H. Sims continued his fine batting for Chicago by getting 28 runs. E. Barnett made 24, and T. Crompton, 19.

C. Butcher of Chicago did a splendid bit of bowling for Chicago, retiring five batters for a run average of 3.2 per wicket, and bowling three of the batters he retired.

A St. Louis team will go to Chicago for a return match during the Labor Day week-end, and will also play two other matches with Evansville (Ind.) and Milwaukee teams.

Anderson, Discus Champion, Fights A Grippe Attack

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, July 6.—JOHN ANDERSON, discus champion of the 1932 Olympics, fought off an attack of grippe today in the hope that he would be able to leave within two or three days for New York for tryouts for the 1936 Olympic team.

Anderson became ill suddenly Friday and physicians expressed fear he might be suffering from appendicitis. His condition improved so that his doctor said today he hoped Anderson could take part in the tryouts.

Anderson won the Olympic discus throw at Los Angeles in 1932 with a heave of 162 feet and 4 1/2 inches. In regional tryouts at Columbus, June 6, he made a throw of 164 feet and 9 inches. Kenneth Carpenter of Southern California U. won the National A. U. title yesterday with a heave of 166 feet 2 inches.

PERRY SAYS HE MAY QUIT GAME NEXT SEASON

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, July 6.—Fred Perry, who clinched his place as the world's No. 1 tennis player and leader of England's Davis Cup forces by winning the Wimbledon title for the third consecutive time yesterday, indicated last night he may retire after this season.

Loud cries of protest greeted his announcement, "it's possibly my last win," at the annual ball of the Lawn Tennis Association. Then he smilingly explained, "I'm getting old."

Already Olympic Team Member. Consettia Carruthers, sprint winner in the South Atlantic A. A. U., will not try for the Olympics in that event because she already is a member of the U. S. Olympic gymnastic team.

ROLLA GOLFER WINS S. E. MISSOURI TITLE

ARCADIA, Mo., July 6.—J. Brown of Rolla, won the championship class of the Southeast Missouri Amateur Open golf tournament concluded here yesterday with a score of 207, or three under par. H. Alexander of Sikeston was second with 209 and John Phillips of Poplar Bluff, third with 210.

Winners of Class A in order were S. Gardner, St. Louis; E. L. McClintock, Cape Girardeau, and Charles Stivers, Cape Girardeau. Class B winners were L. Sellert, Dexter and B. Harrol, St. Louis. Class C winners were H. Morgan, Dexter; T. Gillis, Poplar Bluff and C. Daily, Arcadia. Cape Girardeau Country Club won the team championship cup. Forty-five players participated.

NAZI MOVE IN FRANCE CITY RUMOR

By the Associated Press.
DANZIG, July 6.—There was more today of imminent danger in connection with demands of the League of Nations for control of Danzig, but the League denied by party leaders. Nazi newspapers issued special editions yesterday from Paris, Berlin, Warsaw on the League's Sunday of Dr. Arthur Kaizer's revision of the League of Nations and the League of Nations. The papers were torn hands of news sellers as they appeared on the streets.

Danzig's Nazi Senate came home today from Geneva call—determined to exterminate the League of Nations. Dr. Arthur Kaizer thumbed his nose at Geneva paper men, gave the League of Nations a snappy and all but demanded to get out of Danzig, ordered democratic opposition to be seized for printing a "d account of his tiff with the League."

His own organ, Voermond, served notice "the supreme opposition parties were demonstrated."

This was generally taken that while there would be no order dissolving opposition—a move in conflict with the League of Nations free city's constitution—a measure would be brought about the same effect.

Danzig Senate President Demand in Berlin

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, July 6.—Sixty of League of Nations called for the free city of Danzig brought to an end quickly. Dr. Arthur Kaizer, president of Danzig Senate, said today.

In an interview with a paper man, Greiser repeated made before the League assembly at Geneva Saturday. Sean Lester, League of Nations mission for the free city, was refused.

"Danzig will refuse to again before the League of Nations if her interests are to be the subject of debate," he was quoted.

He told a representative Voelkischer Beobachter received several telephone London newspapers about German troops were ordered march into Danzig Saturday.

"It just made me laugh commented, 'because I never wanted some such to divert its attention.'"

Not Debate on City Affairs

Greiser, who with Albert young Nazi leader in Danzig sponsored with support control over the territory in his Government would in all other negotiations League except a debate on city's affairs.

German-Polish friends not be disturbed, he asserted. League were to recall its officer charged with supervising the administration. Greiser's declarations, Geneva and Berlin, following the statements of made recently in a "declaration of independence" published in Danzig and Germany.

On June 28 Forster declared League and its high commission in Danzig have nothing to do with settling differences and Poland and their exit the whole has become up to mean the original reestablishment of the free city. Versailles Treaty compromise between Polish demands for and fears of placing a German population under German sovereignty—has since Germany and Poland their national differences.

Greiser's remarks, similar to his speech at Geneva, climaxed by giving the Nazi and thumping his nose at gallery, were received with the controlled news.

Some of the papers, with reports of his speech, handed off German Danzig "plain words by Greiser," history of the Nazi move the free city.

They pointed out that the highest governmental under control of Danzig while Lester had been re-

NAZI MOVE IN FREE

Party Leaders Deny Re-

That High Commissioner Be Removed.

By the Associated Press.
DANZIG, July 6.—There were rumors today of imminent Nazi action in connection with demands that the League of Nations give up control of Danzig, but the reports were denied by party leaders.

Nazi newspapers issued three special editions yesterday with content from Paris, Berlin, Geneva and Warsaw on the League speech Saturday of Dr. Arthur Karl Greiser, in which the Nazi Senate President urged revision of the relations between Danzig and the League.

The papers were torn from the hands of news sellers as soon as they appeared on the streets. Danzig's Nazi Senate President came home today from his starting Geneva call—determined, apparently, to extend his opposition to the League of Nations.

His own organ, Vor Posten, served notice "the superiority of the opposition parties will now be demonstrated."

This was generally taken to mean that while there would be no formal order dissolving opposition parties—a move in conflict with the free city's constitution—administrative measures would be taken to bring about the same effect.

Danzig Senate President Repeats Demand in Berlin.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, July 6.—Sixteen years of League of Nations control over the free city of Danzig must be brought to an end quickly, Dr. Arthur Karl Greiser, president of the Danzig Senate, said today.

In an interview with a Nazi newspaper man, Greiser repeated his demand before the League Assembly at Geneva Saturday that Sean Lester, League High Commissioner for the free territory, be removed.

"Danzig will refuse to appear again before the bar of the League of Nations if her internal affairs are to be the subject of discussion," he was quoted.

He told a representative of the Volkischer Beobachter he had received several telephone calls from London newspapers about a report German troops were ordered to march into Danzig Saturday night.

"It just made me laugh," Greiser commented, "because I knew Geneva wanted some sensation to divert its attention."

No Debate on City Affairs.
Greiser, who with Arthur Forster, young Nazi leader in Danzig, has sponsored the move to end League control over the territory, declared his Government would participate in all other negotiations with the League except a debate on the free city's affairs.

German-Polish friendship would not be disturbed, he asserted, if the League were to recall its Irish officer charged with supervising the seaport's administration.

Greiser's declarations, both in Geneva and Berlin, followed in principle the statements of Forster made recently in a "declaration of independence" published simultaneously in Danzig and Germany.

On June 28 Forster declared: "The League and its high commissioner in Danzig have nothing more to do with settling differences in Danzig and Poland and their existence on the whole has become superfluous."

His declaration was interpreted to mean the original reason for establishment of the free territory—a Versailles Treaty compromise between Polish demands for a seaport and fears of placing an essentially German population under another country's sovereignty—had expired since Germany and Poland settled their national differences.

Greiser's remarks, similar in tone to his speech at Geneva which he climaxed by giving the Nazi salute and thumbing his nose at the press gallery, were received enthusiastically by the controlled newspapers. Some of the papers, which captioned reports of his speech with "hands off German Danzig" and "plain words by Greiser," traced the history of the Nazi movement in the free city.

They pointed out that the Senate, highest governmental body, was under control of Danzig Nazis, while Lester had been relegated to the position of an advisory official. Lester's report to the League last January, it was said, in which he was understood to have urged an inquiry into alleged Nazi violation of the city's constitution, brought the National Socialist influence into the open.

Since then the campaign in the Baltic port, whose population is estimated at 412,000, has grown increasingly vigorous, accompanied by official snubs at Lester and a series of political braids, the reviewing articles said.

Warsaw newspapers headlined reports of Greiser's Geneva speech with "Greiser shows his tongue" and "sensational behavior of Herr Greiser." Political quarters expressed wonder over the possible extension of Poland's conciliatory attitude toward Germany under the direction of Col. Joseph Beck, Foreign Minister.

Poland Thinks Pact Eliminates Apprehension as to Germany.

WARSAW, July 6.—Polish officials were represented today as surprised by the movement in the Free City of Danzig to sever relations with the League of Nations. However, it was said these officials felt the German-Polish non-aggression pact had eliminated Germany as a factor causing worry to Poland.

Poland's neutrality concerning the Danzig Government's disagreements with the League High Commissioner was disturbed by apprehension that Germany might desire to annex Danzig.

Polish newspapers printed editorials warning that Danzig must not attempt to join Germany. Some of them demanded the Polish Government issue a proclamation it would never tolerate Danzig's annexation by Germany.

CHAMBERLAIN THREATENS TO FIRE CLERKS WHO STRIKE

Answers Threat by 16,000 English Civil Servants; Arbitration

LONDON, July 6.—Faced by a threat of a "stay-in" strike of 16,000 civil servants, Sir Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, served notice tonight that clerks who laid down their pens would be dismissed instantly.

A strike of the clerks, who are demanding more pay, would seriously hold up Britain's rearmament program.

"Civil servants are engaged conscientiously in the discharge of duties entrusted to them, and if such a servant indulges in a strike he renders himself liable to instant dismissal," the Chancellor declared in the House of Commons.

Meanwhile officials and workers have accepted an offer to arbitrate. Maximum pay for the general classes, reached usually at about the age of 45, is about $1750 a year, compared with a maximum of $1250 for civil servants in the three defense departments.

COL. KNOX NOTES SWING IN EAST TOWARD G. O. P.

Returns to Chicago from New Hampshire; To Work on Acceptance Speech.

CHICAGO, July 6.—Col. Frank Knox, Republican vice-presidential nominee, said today there had been "unquestionably a tremendous swing in the East to the Republican party." He made this statement as he returned from a two weeks' vacation in Manchester, N. H., where he maintains a summer home and publishes two newspapers.

He declared he felt "just jolly" and that he was returning to the job "full of pep." He said he was going to work immediately on his acceptance speech. Notification ceremonies have been set for July 30 in the Chicago Stadium.

"Never in my experience have I seen a time when the people were so eager to work for the party," Knox said. "Hundreds come to me, saying, 'What can I do to help?' That's going to be profoundly helpful."

HINDENBURG FLIGHT TO BE DISCUSSED IN PARLIAMENT

Air Minister to Be Questioned on Policy of Letting Zeppelin Pass Over Army Camps.

LONDON, July 6.—Flights of the Zeppelin Hindenburg over England will be the subject of parliamentary consideration this week.

Viscount Swinton, Air Secretary, will be asked on Wednesday to explain the Government's policy on allowing foreign aircraft to fly over Great Britain without adhering to "specified routes and at a reasonable altitude."

The Zeppelin yesterday passed over two military camps and a sea-plane base, it was pointed out. Previous flights have included North-east industrial areas.

By the Associated Press.
FRANKFURT-AM-Main, Germany, July 6.—The Hindenburg landed here at 1:27 a. m., today, completing its fourth eastward crossing from the United States.

Six St. Louisans were passengers on the Hindenburg. They were Dr. and Mrs. Curtis Lyter, their daughter, Miss Martha Lyter; Miss Rose Allen Vailier, Reinhold Freytag, the German Consul, and Mrs. Freytag. The Freytags were on their way to their estate at Heidelberg.

MISSIONARIES EVACUATE POSTS IN KWANGSI PROVINCE

Americans Flee from Interior to Wuchow, Due to Fear of New Chinese Civil Warfare.

HONGKONG, July 6.—American and British missionaries fled today from the interior of Kwangsi Province in fear of fresh Chinese internal warfare.

With their position in Kwangsi reported rapidly becoming worse, American missionaries proceeded toward Wuchow, on the Si Kiang River in the eastern section of the province. British missionaries started for Hongkong lest they be stranded in Nanning, in the southwest of the province on the same river.

The population of Nanning was reported panicky and expecting attacks by Nanking (Central Government) planes within a few days. All river shipping has been commandeered to carry war materials.

It remained uncertain whether the Southwest (Kwangsi) Government would be represented at the Nanking conference. French called in an effort to avert hostilities. Canton sources reported further mutinies among the Nanking troops stationed in Kwangsi, and said a body of soldiers was marching to the border to join the South (Canton) forces.

REDS SENTENCED IN GERMANY

19 Given Prison Terms on Charges of Communist Agitation.

DRESDEN, Germany, July 6.—Nineteen persons were sentenced yesterday to prison terms ranging from two to five years for "preparing acts of high treason."

The offenses were stated to consist of surreptitious Communist agitation and distribution of Communist literature.

AUSTRIA ALARMED AT ITALIAN MOVES AT BRENNER PASS

Reports Are That Fascist Forces Are Setting Up Complex Fortifications Along the Border.

By the Associated Press.
VIENNA, July 6.—Reports among Austrian gendarmes and soldiers that Italy is throwing up a complex system of Brenner Pass fortifications caused uneasiness in Austria today.

Yugoslavians were concerned at the same time about Yugoslav artillery and infantry movements near the Italian border, although these were termed routine maneuvers.

The Tyrol was agitated by many rumors, among them the following: That Italian civilians, under officers, are constructing a network of military supply roads, heavy artillery emplacements reached by protected thoroughfares 26 feet wide, strategic bombproof shelters and munitions dumps.

That a camouflaged airdrome has been erected on Sandjochale Peak. That a line of fortifications is being completed 15 miles long and at an average altitude of 8856 feet.

That seven stations for infantry and artillery are being built on open peaks.

Despite Italian assurances that recent frontier military activities are maneuvers, a war psychosis has been developing in Northwestern Yugoslavia.

The Zagreb newspaper Istra recently said persons in the area around Trieste had expressed fears of an Italian-Yugoslav war.

Travelers passing through the region say increasing tension is apparent as one approaches and crosses the Italian line, and that natives wonder excitedly about Italian plans.

Austrians near the Brenner Pass hear—and are agitated by—reports of increasing tension, reported from Italian territory that once belonged to Austria.

Among these are: That between May 20 and June 10, 30 Italian general staff officers conferred at the border town of Gossensass, near Innsbruck, fortifying the strategic Brenner Pass.

That 20 officers gathered in Gossensass in June to form a general commission for determining points about border defense.

That barracks at Gossensass and Sterzing were ordered rebuilt and made ready for use on June 28, and that farmers in the region were instructed to finish harvesting by June 15 because the land was needed for maneuvers.

Persons living in what Austrians still call South Tyrol bring back to Austria relatives details that 20-year-olds across the border are being summoned for military service, that permanent hangars are being built by the Italians, and that 5000 civilians are at work on military roads in the mountains.

Italy Plans New Highways for Troops in North.

By the Associated Press.
ROME, July 6.—Usually well-informed sources today ascribed Austrian and Yugoslavian uneasiness over Italian border preparations to Italy's declared policy of being strong on all Northern frontiers.

Premier Mussolini has warned the rest of Europe that he is prepared for any eventualities and that his Ethiopian campaign did not take Italy out of the ranks of Europe's important fighting powers.

While details of troop placements and other military preparations have not been made public, a recent report of the War Ministry disclosed construction plans for new troops highways in the North.

It is common knowledge, also, that the Government approves the massing of Italian workmen in such industrial centers as Bolzano, to Italianize the Northern frontier.

Nevertheless, doubt was professed concerning any special massing of troops at present in the North.

Hapsburg Pretender Holds Conference in Switzerland.

By the Associated Press.
BASEL, Switzerland, July 6.—Austrian circles said today the Archduke Otto, Hapsburg heir-presumptive, had been "in and out of Switzerland" several times in the last few weeks. He probably will return for further conferences with Legationist leaders in the near future, they stated. He left Wednesday to return to his Belgian home, they added.

BREGENZ, Austria, July 6.—Reports reaching here today said the Archduke Otto had reached Basel, Switzerland, for conferences with Austrian Legationist.

DEPUTIES TAKE UP BLUM'S BILL TO NATIONALIZE ARMS

Measure Backed by French Premier Is Drafted and Handed to Committee in the Chamber.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, July 6.—Premier Blum, under the terms of a bill which came before a Chamber of Deputies committee today, intends to nationalize in whole or in part the war industries of France.

Some 10 factories are expected to pass from private ownership into the hands of the Government under decrees which the Cabinet would be authorized to promulgate.

Among them are the great Schneider arms works at Le Creusot, the Hotchkiss machine gun plant, the Brandt arms factory and that part of the Renault automobile works which makes tanks. Other enterprises which would pass under Government operation include those naval shipyards now privately owned.

Little has been disclosed of the details of the scheme pending promulgation of the decrees. However, Minister of Defense Edouard Daladier has disclosed whole factories will be nationalized only when their arms manufacturing branches are so tied up with their other activities that they cannot be separated.

The Hotchkiss and Renault companies, for instance, manufacture automobiles as well as machine guns and tanks, but their arms factories presumably could be separated from their motor works.

How the Government will satisfy the stockholders is another unsettled problem. It has promised, however, either to buy up stock, perhaps at the average price for the last five years, or to exchange Government securities for the commercial shares.

In any event, the Government has let it be known that henceforth there will be no profit for private individuals in furnishing arms and ammunition to the French army.

Behind the plan lies France's hope to revivify its scheme of international war industry control as a move toward limitation of armaments. Premier Blum has announced he will seek a conference

GREAT BRITAIN DEMANDS ITS NAVY HAVE FREE USE OF DARDANELLES STRAITS

Proposal Made at Reopening of International Conference on Refortification Question Stirs Other Delegates.

By the Associated Press.
MONTREUX, Switzerland, July 6.—Great Britain demanded today unrestricted passage for British warships to the Black Sea as the International Dardanelles Conference resumed its session. The British proposal was embodied in an official document of 24 articles distributed to all delegations at the conference.

Concomitant to the draft of the Turkish proposal, the British demand created a stir among delegates called together to consider a Turkish request to refortify the Straits, officially constituted as the Dardanelles, the Sea of Marmora and the Bosphorus.

Turkey, at the first sessions which were interrupted by the League of Nations assembly meeting, proposed to limit warship tonnage proceeding eastward through the Dardanelles to 14,000 tons at any one time.

Wants Straits Commission.
The British draft also proposed maintenance of some form of a Straits commission, a feature which Turkey eliminated from its four-pointed request because it declared no international supervision was necessary.

The British statement also refused Turkey the right to close the Dardanelles when Turkish diplomats become convinced their nation may be menaced by war.

The British insisted Turkey should submit such a question to the League Council which would decide by a two-thirds vote whether Turkey was menaced.

Great Britain acknowledged rights for passage through the Dardanelles given to Britain as a belligerent would be accorded to other belligerents.

Would Favor England.
Critics of the suggestion remarked this, however, would automatically favor Great Britain because of its naval supremacy.

The British document also proposed an increase in tonnage each nation may send through the Straits from 14,000 to 15,000 tons in peacetime with a maximum of 30,000 tons for all nations which would be raised to 45,000 tons if the size of the Russian fleet were increased.

A plenary session of the conference was called for late today to discuss the British draft.

CHANGE IN SHARECROPPER SYSTEM URGED IN ARKANSAS

Resettlement Administrator Would Reverse Trend Toward Tenancy.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 6.—Declaring that labor trouble between landowners and tenants is caused by the system and not by the principals, T. Roy Reid, regional Resettlement Administration administrator, has suggested a change in the sharecropper system which has existed for decades.

Reid, who also is director of the University of Arkansas college of agriculture extension service, advocates an active Government program to make small farm owners and home owners out of desirable farmers with limited income. He has been active in agricultural work for 23 years, for the past year serving as resettlement director in Arkansas, Mississippi, and Louisiana.

NO CHANCE FOR RIVAL PARTIES IN RUSSIA

Soviet Speaker Says Politics Will Be on Basis of Self-Criticism.

By the Associated Press.
MOSCOW, July 6.—A promise by Joseph Stalin that the Soviet Union would avoid an electoral system under which one party could defeat the Government and take its place was quoted yesterday in a speech by G. K. Ordjonikidze, commissar of heavy industry.

The reference to Stalin's words was deemed by observers to be particularly important in view of the change in electoral procedure provided by Russian's new Constitution, which will establish direct and secret voting for the election of two new legislative chambers.

In addition to the Communist party, social organizations, trade unions and a few other non-political groups will have the right to put forth candidates.

Stalin was quoted as saying that since defeat of the Government by a rival party will not be possible in the Soviet Union, the Bolshevik principle of self-criticism must be developed to the fullest extent.

"Any criticism of our failings must come from ourselves," he added. "The more we develop in this practice, the more quickly we will be able to correct our errors."

Ordjonikidze addressed the Council for Development of Heavy Industry. He announced certain branches of Soviet industry had surpassed the rest of Europe in output and efficiency, but added: "We are still far behind the United States."

Recommending an increased study of American methods, he said the productivity of labor in the United States was double that in the Soviet Union.

SUIT AGAINST NEWTON STEEL

Foreclosure Action on Bonds of Warren Concern.

WARREN, O., July 6.—The Central National Bank of Cleveland, as trustee, filed a foreclosure action in Common Pleas Court today against the Newton Steel Co. on the company's 7 per cent first mortgage gold bonds.

On April 22 the Republic Steel Corporation announced it was contemplating foreclosure on the $3,866,000 outstanding and defaulted bonds of an original issue of $4,000,000. Republic holds all the outstanding bonds. The action asked that the company's Ohio properties be foreclosed for payment. The bonds were issued in 1932 and matured on Jan. 1, 1935.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight for the rights of the people, never tolerate the power of the few over the many, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

Bossism in the United States.

As a reader and an admirer of your editorial page, I have been greatly interested in your consistent policy relative to political "bossism." You have left the impression with me that a political machine can be eliminated by the people if they will use wisely their right of franchise. According to Woodrow Wilson's "Constitutional Government in the United States," the process of taking and keeping party control from boss-ruled political machines is hardly that simple. In this connection, Wilson made the following statement: "The part that party has played in this country has been both beneficial and necessary, and if bosses and secret managers are often undesirable persons, playing their parts for their own benefit and glorification rather than for the public good, they are at least the natural fruits of the tree. It has borne fruit, good and bad, sweet and bitter, wholesome and corrupt, but it is native to our air and practice and can be uprooted only by an entire change of system."

On the same page, a few lines farther on, we find this: "There are two things to be done for which we have supplied no adequate legal or constitutional machinery: there are thousands of officials to be chosen and there are many disconnected parts of government to be brought into co-operation. . . . They (the people) have, under our Constitution and statutes, been assigned the power of filling innumerable elective offices; they are incapable of wielding that power because they have neither the time nor the necessary means of co-operative action; the power has therefore been taken away from them, not by law but by circumstances, and handed over to those who have the time and the inclination to supply the necessary organization; the system of election has been transformed into a system of practically irresponsible appointment to office by private parties—irresponsible because our law has not yet been able to devise any means of making them responsible."

Continuing in the same trend of thought, he wrote: "We have made it necessary that we should have 'bosses' and that they and their tenants should assign officers by appointment, but it is a very difficult and precarious business which they undertake. It is difficult and hazardous not only because it is irregular and only partially protected by law, but also because people look askance at it and often with a sudden disgust turn upon it and break it up, for a little rendering it impossible. The reason for these occasional outbursts of discontent and resentment is evident enough. They come when people happen to realize that under existing party machinery they have virtually no control at all over nominations for office, and that the time and the enthusiasm for details which they devoted to it, or supplant the politicians themselves without forming rival organizations as competent as theirs to keep an eye on the whole complicated process of elections and platforms, without, in short, themselves becoming in their turn professional politicians."

"But their revolt is only fitful and upon occasion, Reform associations arise, committees of 50 or 70 or 100 are formed to set matters right and put government back into the hands of the people. But it is always found that no one can successfully supplant the carefully-devised machinery of professional politicians without taking the same pains that they take, without devoting to the business the time and the enthusiasm for details which they devoted to it, or supplant the politicians themselves without forming rival organizations as competent as theirs to keep an eye on the whole complicated process of elections and platforms, without, in short, themselves becoming in their turn professional politicians."

In the light of these statements, while one can agree with the abstract theory that the power of a political machine may be destroyed, the very practical question arises relative to whom the control of the party management shall be given. A candidate for office may make "bossism" the issue of the campaign. On the surface, his cause may appear good, but, according to Wilson, the control exercised by a political boss may be destroyed permanently only by some other more efficient boss. A party member has to determine whether or not a new party boss will be an improvement on the old one. A boss in whom are combined the qualities of both righteousness and intelligence would be the ideal. But if one must choose between an intelligent leader and a righteous leader, it seems clear that the former would be the choice.

The Radio Nuisance.

GOOD old summer time is here and with it the open season for radios. From early morning until midnight, these nerve-racking instruments hold forth. I'm certainly not a crank and, in the past, have enjoyed my radio as much as anyone. Now, however, it couldn't be heard above the roaring of the others. If only these people would turn their radio dials to a moderate tempo and not try to compete with the person in the next block! On week-ends, of course, one doesn't mind. One expects a certain amount of celebration. But night after night this leads one to feel he is just about teetering on the edge of insanity.

ASHLAND AVENUE.

LAWYERS AND THE PUBLIC.

Laymen of St. Louis have long had a deep interest in efforts to clean up the legal profession in this city. This is a proper public concern. It relates to the welfare of the whole community. Where lawyers are faithful to their trust as agents of the court, the counsel table can be a material aid in bringing about justice. Where they are free to serve selfish and unsocial ends, all society suffers.

It is not unnatural, therefore, that the public which has applauded the action taken against unethical practitioners in the last several years has noticed a change in the degree of punishment. Whereas the practice only recently was to disbar permanently, the policy now would appear to be to suspend temporarily those found guilty of malpractice. This is the way it must look to the man in the street.

A review of the situation is in order. The punishment of lawyers for unethical practice is now on a new basis in Missouri. Prior to Nov. 1, 1934, this responsibility was assumed, when it was assumed at all, by a voluntary organization of lawyers, acting through a grievance committee. Laxity was the rule over the State. The vigilance exercised by the St. Louis Bar Association beginning in 1932 was a heartening exception.

Over a period of approximately two and a half years, the bar association filed disciplinary suits against 23 lawyers. These suits resulted in 15 disbarments and seven suspensions, leaving one case still to be terminated. This was an outstanding achievement, so outstanding, indeed, that it brought the St. Louis Bar Association the St. Louis Award for distinguished service to the community.

The public reasoned, and properly, that this campaign would continue, with increased vigor if anything, under the new rules adopted by the State Supreme Court, following reassertion of its inherent right to regulate the professional conduct of lawyers. What does the record show?

It shows that the disciplinary machinery of the new State Bar authority has, since it became operative at the end of 1934, filed disbarment suits against 10 St. Louis and St. Louis County lawyers, resulting in seven suspensions, two reprimands and but one permanent disbarment. In several instances, recommendations of suspension to the court were approved by representatives of the State Bar authority.

In fairness to those who are operating the new disciplinary machinery, it should be said at this point that the approach to the problem is no longer merely local, but State-wide. The State Bar authority is feeling its way, putting emphasis upon sure punishment rather than severe punishment.

This policy, whatever may have been its warrant in a transition period, needs to have teeth put into it. Let the punishment, by all means, be sure; let it be also of a severity to match the offense. Certainly the offense against society is great when committed by a sworn officer of the courts of law. The infliction of minor penalties—and even suspension for a year or two must be classed as a minor penalty for flagrant betrayal of trust—must, if established as a policy of the lawyers and the courts, result in complete loss of public confidence in the bar's professions of high purpose to rid itself of unfit members.

"OVER THERE."

Everybody was glad to read the other day that the Government had awarded a gold medal to George M. Cohan for that stirring, galloping war song, "Over There." What place it will have in martial ballads cannot be foreseen. It has been omitted from anthologies that have immortalized lesser claimants. But there is no doubt as to the reception accorded its lifting assurance by an anxious day, and there is no doubt as to the place its author occupies, and has long occupied, in the fellowship of good will.

A rare personage is Mr. Cohan. The theater's voice of authority, George Jean Nathan, has pronounced him "America's first actor." Winchell has greeted him as "Mr. Broadway." The profession pays him the homage of reverence and affection. His genius has commanded great audiences for two generations. He belongs to those elect of Chesterton's: "We who found it good to be young shall find it good to be old." The boy who danced and sang his way into the hearts of his countrymen, now in the gray years, still moves us to laughter or tears with a look, a gesture, an inflection. The amazing facts of his generosity have become legends.

Did anyone else except Moliere achieve such a conquest of that far, beguiling world beyond the footlights? He has been his own playwright, and the lyrics and melodies of the musical comedies that enlivened the century's turn flowed from his own head—a head that scarcely knew the training of formal education. With what flag-waving gusto he once proclaimed:

I'm a Yankee Doodle dandy,
A Yankee Doodle do or die;
A real live nephew of my Uncle Sam,
Born on the Fourth of July.

There was rollicking bravura in "Over There," and there was a fine note of solemnity, and there were prophecies events have not fulfilled. It is time that the song of a high-hearted hour were given official recognition.

WILL NON-RECOGNITION ENDURE?

Sanctions against Italy are definitely scuttled in all but formal action, and now another delicate issue arises to plague the League Assembly's deliberations: that of refusal to recognize Italy's conquest of Ethiopia. The spokesmen of England, France and Russia have gone vigorously on record as opposed to recognition. In this, they are supported by the smaller nations, which fear for their own independence if Italy goes scot-free after her successful conquest.

It is heartening, to those who despair of the League's future, to see a movement to withhold, even in this small degree, the aggressor's fruits of victory. The maintenance of non-recognition, however, presents difficulties almost as great as those of maintaining sanctions. Suppose that in a few years, or a few months, these three nations need Italian aid against Germany. Will a policy of non-recognition be maintained under such circumstances if Italy demands its abrogation as the price of assistance?

Even now, the major Powers have some trepidation in urging this policy, for there is the possibility that Mussolini will react by withdrawing from the League and making common cause with Hitler. On the other hand of the dilemma, however, is the possibility that the smaller nations will quit the League if a policy of non-recognition fails to result.

This is not to suggest that non-recognition is not in order. Under the Kellogg pact, and by any ethical view, the robber's title to his loot cannot be upheld, no matter how forcibly he presses his claim.

Indeed, there is every moral ground for continuing sanctions against Italy. But practical considerations led to their abandonment, and it is likely that for the same reason, non-recognition also cannot endure. In the whirlpool of European power politics, the laws of the jungle are rapidly superseding those ideals on which the League was founded.

QUESTIONS THAT DEMAND ANSWERS.

Col. Harold E. Hartney, investigator for the Senate Air Safety Committee, says in a report that the Bureau of Air Commerce is permeated with politics, favoritism and inefficiency. In an earlier report, the bureau was charged with responsibility for the airplane crash at Atlanta, Mo., which killed Senator Bronson Cutting and others. It was alleged that the radio beam out of Kansas City, the radio station at Kirksville, toward which the pilot was headed, and the airway lighting system were not functioning properly. These aids to air travel are operated by the bureau.

Col. Hartney's criticism of the bureau recalls the summary dismissal last year of its superintendent of maintenance, Jay A. Mount. Mount, a Government employe for 15 years, made a tour of the bureau's radio stations following his appointment, and turned in a severely critical report. He found numerous flaws in the radio equipment and operation on which flyers depend for safety, particularly in bad weather. He also testified before the Senate Air Safety Committee and gave it as his opinion that the Cutting crash "was the direct result of improper functioning of aids to air navigation installed and maintained by the Department of Commerce." Shortly thereafter, Mount found himself out of a job.

With air travel increasing every year, the public is intensely concerned in the problem of aviation safety, and several recent major crashes show that there is something rotten in Denmark. Has Col. Hartney put his finger on what is wrong? Was or was not Mount's dismissal highly significant? Is the Bureau of Air Commerce failing to discharge properly the grave responsibility which the Government assumed when it undertook to supply safety aids for aviation? These are questions that demand answers.

But the subject of air safety also includes the attitude of the aviation companies. Why, since the companies are critical of the bureau's safety aids, do they send out planes in weather when pilots have to rely upon such aids? Why was the Sun Racer, which crashed near Uniontown, Pa., last spring, dispatched from Newark in bad weather when it was common talk among pilots that the Pittsburgh radio beams were functioning imperfectly? To what extent are competitive conditions among aviation companies responsible for air deaths?

These questions also demand answers.

FELLOWS IN THRIFT.

Congressman Cochran of St. Louis steps across party lines to approve, in cordial terms, the work of J. R. McCarl as Comptroller-General and to say that "the appointment of his (McCarl's) successor is, in my opinion, the most important appointment President Roosevelt will have to make during his tenure of office."

Mr. McCarl and Mr. Cochran have been actuated by identical motives. They have both realized that public money comes from the private pocketbooks of the people. How much the scrutinizing eye of the Comptroller-General and the vigilance of Chairman Cochran of the House Committee on Expenditures have saved the country in dollars and cents is conjectural, but it runs into hundreds of millions. That is a pretty penny even today.

Here are two public servants who by example and precept have given thrift a place of honor in the New Deal's surge and splurge. Possibly thrift is old-fashioned, but where it is outmoded—by individual or nation—there is woe ahead.

THE PEOPLE VS. "AND/OR."

Another addition has just been made to the long line of court decisions whereby that puzzling pseudo-legal phrase, "and/or," has been declared irrelevant, incompetent and immaterial. There were plenty of good sound precedents before Judge William F. Frank of the Missouri Supreme Court when he confessed, in an opinion the other day: "I do not know what it means." He was standing on firm legal ground when he went on to say: "There is no reason why a statute, contract or other legal document cannot be stated in plain English."

Among his illustrious predecessors was Federal Judge Charles B. Davis, who termed the expression "useless modern language." Another Davis, John W., looked at it from the viewpoint of a learned man who has been Congressman, Solicitor-General and Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary, and pronounced it "a bastard sired of Indolence (or Ignorance) out of Dubiety." Justice Chester A. Fowler of the Wisconsin Supreme Court referred to it as "that befuddling nameless thing, that Janus-faced monstrosity, neither word nor phrase," and much more. The words of Senator Carter Glass are not in the reports, but his sentiments were shown when he ordered the phrase cut out of a resolution before a committee of which he was chairman.

The docket in the case of The People vs. "And/Or" is complete, and the verdict is guilty on every count. Perhaps its addits will take an appeal to the United States Supreme Court. That would be welcome, not only to settle the issue beyond further litigation, but to add to the record new and more forcible denunciations from the practiced pens of the Justices.

RECORD OF THE RAILROADS.

Carrying 445,996,000 passengers for a total of 18 billion passenger-miles without a fatality—that is the safety record of American railroads for 1935, as reported by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Here is safety perfection, as contrasted with the tragic record of automotive transport, which ran up a total of 35,000 fatalities in the same year.

Railroad trains run on schedule and are regulated by automatic signals. Motor traffic has few comparable safeguards. From the standpoint of personnel, comparison is valid, however. Engineers are picked men, carefully trained, of sound judgment, and fully responsible. Automobile drivers too often are irresponsible and erratic. Drivers' licensing systems have done much to weed out the incompetents, but they cannot instill the skill and judgment which has done so much to build the railroads' perfect record. By rigid enforcement of driving regulations, the authorities can do much to build up a sense of responsibility among drivers whereby the wide gulf between the railroad and automobile safety records may be narrowed.

"AND, DEPARTING, LEAVE BEHIND US—"

—From the Washington Post.

Theory vs. Fact in Tariff Pacts

Under new trade law, tariff reductions granted to one country apply to all others as well; critics view this as giving away more than U. S. gains by reciprocal pacts; writer says treaties are so framed as to cover chiefly items which only the contracting nation sends to our market, thus giving only slight benefit to others.

From an Article by Percy W. Bidwell, Professor of Economics, University of Buffalo, in the Yale Review.

IN THE Trade Agreements Act of 1935, Mr. Roosevelt was given wider powers with respect to tariffs than any President had ever enjoyed before him. He can raise or lower any and all tariff duties by one-half of the 1930 rate. The purpose of the act is to expand the market for American exports; reduction of the American tariff is the means by which that end is to be accomplished. Hence, all changes in duties and all restrictions must result from reciprocal agreements with foreign countries in which, supposedly, their concessions to American exports balance our tariff concessions.

The President's bargaining powers are limited by the important proviso that the new duties and other import restrictions "shall apply to articles the growth, production or manufacture of all foreign countries." In other words, the changes are to be "generalized" and not confined in their application solely to the countries with which agreements are made.

Secretary Hull's policy of "generalizing" the reductions has aroused the apprehension, and even the opposition, of some who claim to be in favor of tariff bargaining. They fear that if, under the most-favored-nation clause, all countries are to be permitted to send us their goods at the reduced rates established in the trade agreements, changes in our tariff which seem unimportant may prove quite the opposite. Also, from their point of view, "generalization" is foolishly unnecessary generosity.

The United States appears to be handing out freely favors which foreign countries would not give us in return. The principle of equivalent concessions to American export trade. Furthermore, we could obtain greater concessions from foreign governments in bargaining if our negotiators could promise each one exclusive reductions in tariff duties. Thus far, Secretary Hull has successfully upheld the principle of "equality of treatment." In his view, it is not a "give-away" principle, for the United States demands in return equal treatment, and the act provides that any nation which discriminates against the commerce of the United States shall not be entitled to the benefits of any of the rates lowered by the bargaining method.

In Mr. Hull's view, the United States cannot logically demand equality of treatment from foreign nations unless it adheres to the same policy. He recognizes as one of the basic purposes of the act the removal of the discriminations against American trade found in the tariffs of certain foreign countries, and the prevention of future injustices of this sort. He could make little progress in this direction unless he came into court with clean hands.

more realistic subordinates, to whom the details of bargaining were entrusted. The result is that the reductions in duty offered to each bargaining country have, for the most part, applied only to those commodities which they have supplied exclusively, or practically so, to our markets.

Take the Canadian agreement for illustration. The American tariff duties were cut on imports of Canadian cheddar cheese, apples, fresh strawberries, hay, frozen blueberries, turkeys, lake fish and softwood lumber and timber, all of which in 1934 formed about 99 per cent of our total imports of these commodities. The duty on cattle was also reduced, but only on animals weighing over 700 pounds. Mexican and other cattle ranchers would gladly profit from the new low rates but they all have to pay the export weight less than 700 pounds.

In law, the benefits of all the concessions made to Canada can be claimed by any country excepting Germany. In fact, none of the concessions is worth much to any country except Canada, and this was frankly the intention of our Department of State. An official press release, commenting on the Canadian agreement, emphasized its exclusive character in these words: "Countries other than Canada will obtain relatively little benefit from the reductions in duty made by the United States in this agreement. . . . Canada is overwhelmingly the principal supplier of these articles."

The narrowing of tariff classifications was used frequently and ingeniously in the agreements with Switzerland, Belgium and Sweden as a means of evading the obligation of a thoroughgoing application of the principle of equal treatment. Our bargainers, by the way, didn't invent this ruse. It is "an old Spanish custom," practiced for years in European chancelleries.

In the Belgian agreement, the rate on flax was reduced from 1.5 to 1 cent per pound, but the reduction was made to apply only to flax valued at $340 a ton or more. A glance at the import statistics for 1934 confirms suspicions of its shrewdness. Imports of flax were 1021 tons, with an average value of $67 per ton. Belgian flax (two tons only were imported) was a high-grade product, valued at $282 per ton. The chief supplier was the United Kingdom, whose flax was worth only $80 per ton. There is not much chance of Irish flax coming in at the new low rate.

In the Swedish agreement, the American tariff on pocketknives was lowered, but only "knives with etched steel handles, valued at over $6 per dozen." This new classification limits the concession to Swedish knives. In 1934, the 100-odd countries of the world with which treaties have not yet been concluded sold us dutiable merchandise to the value of $385,900,000. Of this amount, only $25,000,000 worth would have benefited, had the new rates been in effect, by our unconditional most-favored-nation policy. Actually, the treaties are overwhelmingly bi-lateral, conditional and exclusive, in effect. Certainly protectionists' fears of the unconditional policy have so far proved groundless.

No Farewell to Farley

From the New York Herald Tribune.

IT WAS too much to believe that "Sunny Jim" Farley, despite the bigness of his warm Irish heart and the generosity of his spirit, would really consent to relinquish the task of making a clean sweep of the postoffices of the country and creating book-keeping profits for his department, which he began early in 1933.

He entered the Roosevelt Cabinet fired with zeal to reform. A New Deal idealist and dreamer, revolting against the earthy realism of Tammany, he had been drafted by President Roosevelt to take the curse of "politics" off some of the other appointments. Unfortunately for the country, his simple, trusting nature and his political unsophistication made him the tool of unscrupulous politicians who wished to use him for their own ends.

Reluctantly, genial Jim helped the "boys." In righteous horror, he repudiated charges of partisanship in his appointments and insisted that merit governed all his selections—the merit of being good Farley Democrats. He deplored the unscrupulousness of his enemies when they questioned his motives or contradicted his chief. He charged them with being determined to conduct a "dirty" campaign. In fact, his entire attitude was like that of a young Filipino would-be officeholder who wrote that he was "obsessed with a desire to become a public convenience."

Not till very recently did Mr. Roosevelt discover that Mr. Farley had picked up a working knowledge of politics from his evil associates. The discovery must have been a shock—especially in that the President had ordered all officeholders to eschew politics. Had he not himself remarked that he did not know the politics of most of his assistants in Washington?

But to separate jovial James from the manufacture of postage stamps for his friends would have been unkind. To detach him from the chairmanship of the Democratic party might have been unwise. Repeatedly the rumor of an impending separation was heard in Washington. Only the other day, it was printed again here. It now appears that Mr. Roosevelt definitely has not the heart to disappoint "General" Farley by depriving him of his commands—or any part of them. He has, however, evolved a typically Rooseveltian compromise. The public business being far less important during the next four months than politics, the Hon. J. Aloysius is to be given leave of absence from the postoffice. Thus will business not interfere with politics—and yet the new Farley minions in the post-offices will be kept "in line."

BEHIND THE ALIASES.

FEW of us would walk across the street to see New Orleans Times-Picayune. Katherine McMath dance together, not would we bat an eye at the mention of Charles Edward Pratt. However, if told that the couple were known as Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, and that Mr. Pratt usually masked hideously as Boris Karloff, we would feel differently. The new Motion Picture Almanac is out, and in the factual fashion of all almanacs, it discloses that few of the movie notables are known to fame by the names to which they answered in childhood. Frederic March, for instance, used to be little Fred Bickel, whereas Lyle Talbot's father's last name was Hollywood. Likewise was Hootia Delmar born De Los Angeles. The Barrymores are Blythes, the Dietrichs are Leachs, Marion Davies is Doucas, Mary Astor is Langshank. There are hundreds of them, some worse.

THE passing of McCauley was a problem. The law creating a good law, but like all laws, its success on the man named to carry it may be, but it is a good man can make work, but a bad man the best plan in the world. McCauley was a good man was to see that the restrictions placed by Congress on the public spending of money lived up to, and he did. Naturally, he made mistakes at times he was the man in Washington. He was an obstructionist, a superego, and the insolence of authors of these tantrums to get away with such defiance or avoidance of were sworn to execute.

In two immense NRA and WPA in New involving the spending of millions, I never on with Mr. McCauley. On the In the WPA Chinese Comptroller-General would sleep all one night clearance on enormous tures, with which neither was in personal sympathy. Great "Cec-Cec" was to with a problem before. cations began and say,

'THE BOHEMIAN GIRL' IN THE PARK TONIGHT

Balfe Piece Offered As Test to Determine Whether Public Prefers Real Opera.

"The Bohemian Girl," Michael W. Balfe's romantic opera, starring Helen Gleason, Metropolitan Opera soprano, will open at the Municipal Theater tonight as summer's fifth production.

The opera, produced in Forest Park three times previously, in 1919, 1924 and 1929, was included again in this year's repertoire, as an experiment to determine whether opera patrons will attend standard light opera presentations in sufficient number to justify the elaborate preparations and extra cost necessary for this type of performance. The cast was selected for experience and ability in the more difficult forms of music.

Miss Gleason, who will sing the role of Arline, has been a star at the Metropolitan Opera House since her debut there three years ago. Last season she sang principal roles at the Metropolitan in "La Bohème," "Parsifal," "Madame Butterfly" and other operas. She also has sung at La Scala at Milan, in European musical festivals, on the concert stage and radio.

Albert Mahler, young American concert and operatic tenor, will sing Thaddeus. He has appeared in the role on 17 different occasions in the last three years with opera companies at Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Montreal and Quebec.

Benjamin Poppen, basso, will be Devilhoof, a role that he played more than 250 times.

The Gypsy queen will be sung by Zarah Cunniff of the New York musical and dramatic stage, who is appearing for the first time at the Municipal Theater. Others in the cast will be Bertram Peacock, who will play Count Arnheim, and Earle MacVeigh, Inez Harvot and Al Downing.

Among the special features for the presentation of "The Bohemian Girl" will be the Stuart Morgan Dancers, who have been appearing in theaters in this country and Europe. The Municipal Opera's dancing chorus also will be seen in several ballet numbers. The symphonic orchestra will be conducted by George Hirst, who has directed the opera during its presentation by other organizations.

Familiar songs in the opera include "I Dreamt I Dwell in Marble Halls," "Then You'll Remember Me" and "The Heart Bowed Down." With the final performance last night of "Sons of Guns" drawing a crowd of 7600, the total attendance for the week was 60,000.

DR. JAY HARRY BARTO FUNERAL TOMORROW AT 3:30 P. M.

Services to be at 5966 Easton Ave.; Physician Specialized in Surgery.

Funeral services for Dr. Jay Harry Barto, who died Saturday at Missouri Baptist Hospital after an illness of several weeks, will be held tomorrow at 3:30 p. m. at the George L. Pletsch Chapel, 5966 Easton avenue. Cremation will be in Valhalla Crematory.

Dr. Barto, who was 65 years old, was a prominent practicing physician and surgeon in Wallingford, where he had practiced for the last 27 years. Graduated from Washington University Medical School in 1897, Dr. Barto came to St. Louis in 1900 to set up a general practice. In addition to this general practice, Dr. Barto specialized in surgery as a member of the staff of the Missouri Baptist Hospital.

Surviving are his daughter, Mrs. Ruth Witte with whom he resided at 1489 Hodiamont avenue, and a stepson, George Workman, and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Lela Harney.

McCarl Is a Man Who Will be Hard to Replace. Writer Says in Praising Retiring Comptroller-General—Did Fine Job in Curbing Spending.

By GEN. HUGH S. JOHNSON.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The passing of McCarl presents a problem. The law creating his office national plans, its success depended on the man named to administer it. It may be true, but it is true, that a good man can make a bad plan work, but a bad man can't make the best plan in the world work. McCarl was a good man. His job was to see that the rules and regulations placed by Congress on the spending of public money were lived up to, and he did it perfectly. Naturally, he made enemies, and at times he was the most despised man in Washington. He was called an obstructionist, a supreme bureaucrat and the insolvency of office. Without exception, the authors of these tantrums were trying to get away from something in defiance or avoidance of laws they were sworn to execute.

In two immense experiences—NRA and WPA in New York City—involved the spending of hundreds of millions. I never once tangled with Mr. McCarl. On the contrary, in the WPA Chinese puzzle, the comptroller-general worked with intelligence on one night to get me out of a jam, with which neither he nor I was in personal sympathy. The secret of relations with the great "Cee-Gee" was to get to him with a problem before the complications began and say, "I've got to Appointed Pastor at Granite City.

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 6.—Bishop James A. Griffin yesterday announced appointment of the Rev. J. P. Jordan of Tuscola to succeed the late Msgr. D. J. Ryan as pastor of St. Joseph's Church in Granite City. The Rev. James Casey, assistant at Granite City, was named to succeed Father Jordan at Tuscola.

get such and such a result—how can I do it in conformity with the statute?" He never failed to respond to that with all he had to give. The people who bloodied their heads butting them into the stone wall of his integrity were those who went ahead "regardless," hoping to bluff or bamboozle him with a fait accompli.

The problem is to replace him. Of all the candidates I have heard mentioned, none will serve to do more than make his office a rubber stamp—complacent yes-man of the New Dispensation.

McCarl wants to help Harry Byrd reorganize the Government for economy. The offer ought to be accepted. McCarl is, I think, wrong about having emergency stop-gap organizations absorbed into permanent departments. I doubt if he is especially fitted to make recommendations on organizational policy. But he knows more channels of automatic waste and extravagance than any man in Washington. Senator Byrd's own efficiency and saving, and his demonstrated vim and guts, will attend to the policy part.

However, after all the Senator's work on blueprinting a reorganization is done, the principle demonstrated by McCarl's good service will remain—no matter how good it seems, it can succeed only if its administrators are capable. The prospect of getting that kind of service in government seems sadly remote.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR AARON FULLER

Rabbi Isserman, Conducting, Eulogizes Him as Philanthropist and Leader.

A small group of relatives and friends attended funeral services for Aaron Fuller, president of Stix, Baer and Fuller Dry Goods Co., yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. Fuller's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Glaser Jr., 6440 Ellenwood avenue, Clayton.

The services were conducted by Rabbi Ferdinand M. Isserman of Temple Israel who praised Mr. Fuller's business acumen, his philanthropic work and his interest in Judaism. Burial in Mount Sinai Cemetery was private.

Mr. Fuller, who was 78 years old, died Friday of complications resulting from a heart attack in his apartment in the Park Plaza Hotel. He had been in ill health since last August.

"Aaron Fuller's life," said Rabbi Isserman, "testifies to the nobility of Judaism. He did not strive for bigness. Corporations are said to have no souls. That is not true of the one he headed. He every thread of its fabric he wove his love for his neighbor and his faith in mankind which Judaism had taught him was life's supreme values."

"Citizen and patriot, husband and father, merchant, philanthropist and leader—all describe Aaron Fuller. I like best to think of him as a modest personality with a twinkle in his eye, a jest on his tongue, and a smile on his features, who thanked God for his goodness."

Besides his daughter, Mr. Fuller is survived by a son, Leo Fuller, 6444 Ellenwood avenue, Clayton, and five grandchildren.

The Stix, Baer & Fuller store remained closed until noon today out of respect for Mr. Fuller.

DR. S. PARKES CADMAN SERIOUSLY ILL IN HOSPITAL

Physician Says Radio Preacher, 71, Is Suffering from Ruptured Appendix.

By the Associated Press.

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., July 6.—Dr. L. G. Barton said today that the condition of Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, noted radio preacher, was "critical."

Dr. Barton, who is attending the 71-year-old Brooklyn clergyman at the Champlain Valley Hospital, said he was "quite sure" that Dr. Cadman had a ruptured appendix and that an operation would be necessary.

The minister's illness, he explained, was of such duration that "a deferred operation is advisable and we are deferring it from hour to hour until he is able to undergo it."

He said that Dr. Cadman was a strong and vigorous man for his years, but that his condition was serious and a little bit worse today.

Dr. Cadman, who has taken an interest in 1500 persons in the Methodist Church here last night on world peace, fulfilling a lecture engagement. Not until he completed his address did the pastor of the Brooklyn Central Congregational Church seek medical attention.

Then he went to the hospital and Dr. Barton was summoned.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

MISS PEYTON HAWES, daughter of former United States Senator and Mrs. Harry B. Hawes, will be married in Washington at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon to Henderson S. Dunn. The bridegroom who lives in Washington, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Y. Dunn of Lee, Mass.

The ceremony will be performed in St. Mary's Chapel of the National Cathedral by the Rev. William L. Devries, Canon, in the presence of the two families and a few friends, including Mrs. Nathaniel W. Ewing, the bride's godmother.

The bride's father will give her in marriage. She will wear a gown of Filipino pina cloth, purchased when she visited the Philippines with her family last year for the inauguration of President Quezon. The material is woven with silver threads, and is fashioned into a high neck gown with a flat collar and a row of tiny buttons down the front of the bodice. Long sleeves are puffed at the shoulders, and the skirt widens into a flafe. Instead of a veil she will wear a small hat of artificial white flowers high off her forehead, and in lieu of a bouquet will carry her grandmother's prayer book.

Her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Moore, the former Eppes Hawes, Glenhead, L. I., as matron of honor, will wear a green frock of the same material and a medium brimmed hat trimmed with green ribbon. The bridegroom's sister, Miss Barbara Dunn, the only bridesmaid, will wear a similar dress of pale yellow. She and Mrs. Moore will carry daisies. Charles Dohn Rudolph of Winnetka, Ill., will be best man.

Following the ceremony there will be a supper in the apartment of the bride's parents for members of the two families.

After a wedding trip, Mr. Dunn and his bride will live at 6000 Nevada avenue, Washington.

National Labor Board Announces Result of Vote Among Editorial Employees.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The National Labor Relations Board announced yesterday that it had certified the American Newspaper Guild as the "exclusive representative" of editorial employees of the Associated Press in New York City for collective bargaining with the management.

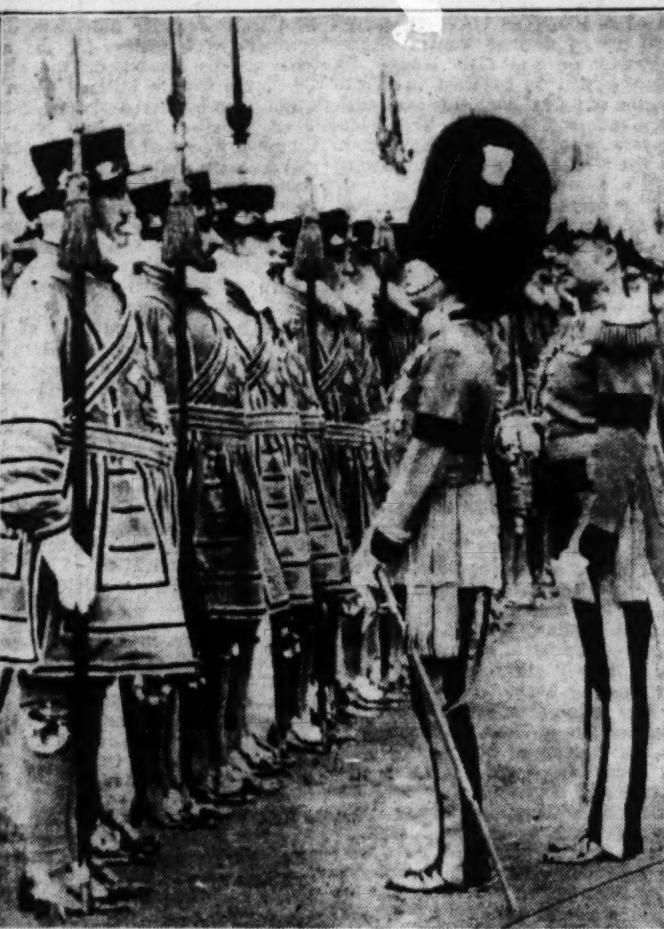

An order of the board's regional director said an election was conducted among the employees by secret ballot between May 25 and May 29, and "a majority of those eligible voted; a majority of those voting, though less than a majority of those eligible, voted for the American Newspaper Guild."

announcement said, "we are following the rule established by the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit in Virginian Railway Co., vs. System Federation No. 40." In that case the court decided that "where a majority of the eligible voted, a majority of those voting, though less than a majority of those eligible, determined the representative." The board added it was in "entire accord" with the reasons set forth by the court in that case, saying:

"The parallel language in the National Labor Relations Act: 'Representatives designated or selected... by the majority of the employees in a unit' differs slightly, but not materially from that in the Railway Labor Act and requires the same construction."

441 VIOLENT DEATHS IN U. S. ON FOURTH OF JULY THIS YEAR

Largest Fatality List Since 1931; Seven Killed by Fireworks, 254 in Auto Accidents.

NEW YORK, July 6.—There were 441 violent deaths in the United States during the week-end celebration of Independence day. It was the largest Fourth of July fatality list since 1931, when the total was 483, and the second largest in nine years.

Fireworks resulted in seven deaths. In 1930 there were 12 deaths attributed to fireworks, in 1928 11, in 1929, 1933 and 1935 seven each, in 1931 six and in 1934 two.

Motor vehicle fatalities numbered 254. Deaths by drowning were listed at 103. Others lost their lives in tavern brawls, airplane crashes, shooting, railroad and other accidents.

The record compared unfavorably with the list of 205 in 1928, 159 in 1929, 178 in 1930, 243 in 1932, 185 in 1933, 178 in 1934 and 216 in 1935, despite widespread appeals for a safe and sane celebration.

YOUTH CONGRESS TO WORK TO FREE ANGELO HERNDON

Delegates at Cleveland Also Vote to Support Anti-War "Strike" in April.

CLEVELAND, O., July 6.—The third annual Youth Congress closed last night with charges of Communist domination and pleas for unity.

The thousand delegates adopted, with slight amendments, the declaration of rights drafted at last year's congress in Detroit. They approved part of a new constitution, leaving action on the rest to the National Council; elected a National Council of 63 members, and approved resolutions to support the American Youth Act, to send a delegate to the World Youth Congress in Geneva, to support the anti-war "strike" next April, to work for the freedom of Angelo Herndon, Negro, who is appealing a sentence in Georgia for inciting to riot, and to condemn Columbia University for its virtual expulsion of Robert Burke, a delegate to the congress.

Delegates from the Young People's Socialist League, the Southern Tenant Farmers' Union and the Young Poole Zion Alliance declined nominations to the National Council.

Program Includes Inspection of Various Roadside Beautification Developments.

The Joint Committee on Roadside Development of the American Association of State Highway Officers and the Highway Research Board opened a three-day meeting at Hotel Statler today, with a program including inspection of various roadside beautification developments in the St. Louis district. The program was arranged by the Civic Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce in co-operation with the Missouri Highway Department. About 100 highway engineers are attending.

Speakers at this morning's session included Roy W. Crum, director of the Highway Research Board, Washington; Hillard Brewster, field horticulturist of the Missouri Highway Department, and H. J. Neale, landscape engineer of the Virginia Department of Highways. The afternoon program included a luncheon in the Pavilion in Forest Park, inspection of the landscaping work along the express highway and visits to the Zoo, Art Museum and the Lindbergh exhibit at Jefferson Memorial.

Following a program of talks and committee reports tomorrow morning, the engineers will visit Grant's farm and see the landscaping work on Highways 66 and 77. Later they will inspect the Henry Shaw Gardenway Association's roadside beautification project near Pacific and the Missouri Botanical Garden's extension at Gray Summit. The meeting will end with a banquet at the Statler Wednesday evening. Thursday and Friday the delegates will be guests of State Highway officials on a tour of the State.

AUTO CRASHES INTO HOUSE; DRIVER FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

Policeman's Theory Is That Man Was Fired on When He Resisted Holdup at Springfield, Ill.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 6.—Neighbors who ran to an automobile last night after it crashed into the house of Howard Dillon found the driver, W. Roy Keller, 35 years old, shot to death.

Policeman George Ford, one of the first to reach the car, advanced the theory that an unsuccessful attempt had been made to rob Keller as he backed his car out of his private garage. He said that Keller apparently resisted the holdup and was shot. His car, in reverse gear, then completed two circles, with the dead man at the wheel, and smashed into Dillon's house. Keller had been shot in the head.

Ford said neighbors saw two youths run from the scene and jump on the running board of an automobile with another man at the wheel.

NEXT N. CAROLINA GOVERNOR

Clyde R. Hoey 55,000 Ahead in Run-Off Primary Returns.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 6.—Clyde R. Hoey is assured of the Democratic nomination for Governor by a 55,000 vote majority over Dr. Ralph W. McDonald, opponent of the sales tax, on unofficial returns from North Carolina's Fourth of July run-off primary.

With reports compiled from 1897 precincts of 1888 the 58-year-old brother-in-law of former Gov. O. Max Gardner had 257,449 votes against 203,103 for his 33-year-old opponent, who resigned a college professorship two years ago to enter politics. Democratic nomination for a State office has been tantamount to election in North Carolina since the beginning of the century.

Two Killed in Auto Races.

SOMERSET, Pa., July 6.—Joseph Ventre, 26 years old, of Altoona, died yesterday, the second victim of a collision of racing automobiles on the Jennertown dirt track. Paul Snyder, 31-year-old driver, from Washington, D. C., and Altoona, was thrown from his speeding car and killed Saturday.

NEW ERA OF 'SOCIALIST HUMANISM' IN RUSSIA

Soviet Leaders Discuss Proposed Constitution on Twelfth Anniversary of Old One.

MOSCOW, July 6.—Government leaders today proclaimed the Soviet Union to be on the threshold of a new era of "Socialist Humanism." The declarations were made in speeches celebrating the twelfth anniversary of the present Russian Constitution.

This soon will be replaced by the new Constitution, which Vyacheslav Molotov, president of the Council of Commissars, told factory workers "opens a new way for every Soviet regardless of what his activity may have been in the past."

President Michael Kalinin, also speaking to workers, said there was no reason to believe adversaries of the Soviet system would be strengthened by granting the vote to priests, former kulaks (land-holding peasants) and former Czarist officials.

Roller Coaster Fatality at Toledo.

TOLEDO, O., July 6.—An unidentified youth was killed yesterday, when he was thrown or leaped from a roller coaster car at an amusement park. There was no money in his pockets or anything to identify him.

NEW DEAL'S SILVER POLICY HARMFUL, PROFESSOR SAYS

$575,000,000 Purchase Program Said to Amount to Direct Inflation.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The Herald Tribune quotes Prof. John Parke Young of Occidental College as concluding, in a report made public by the Foreign Policy Association, that the $575,000,000 silver purchase policy of the "Roosevelt administration has proved 'economically injurious,' and has amounted to direct inflation.

The report attributed to Prof. Young states that since the United States is not a silver standard country the accumulation of silver under authority of the 1934 act serves no more useful purpose than would the buying of any other metal or commodity.

He concludes that it has failed in two of the principal aims cited by its adherents; first, to stabilize the price of silver in world markets, and, second, to increase the purchasing power of the silver standard nations, including China.

Issuance of new silver certificates against purchases of the metal is termed direct inflation of the currency, tending to raise commodity prices because certificate holders have no desire to redeem them in silver.

The conclusion is stated that only small groups of persons who profit from the higher prices of silver have benefited by the program.

395 IN CITY DIE AS THEY AWAIT PENSIONS

Jesse W. Barrett Asks State Commissioner for Information on Delays in Payments

Jesse W. Barrett, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, said in a letter Sunday to Allen M. Thompson, State Old Age Assistance Commissioner, that he had been told 337 deaths had occurred among aged St. Louisans who had applied for State pensions. He was of the opinion that nine-tenths of their applications had not been approved.

Inquiry by a Post-Dispatch reporter at the local Old Age Pension Board showed that 395 pension applicants, whose pension had not been granted, had died. There was no record at the office of deaths of persons who had been given pensions.

Barrett, who told Thompson his letter was intended to obtain information about delays in payment of the pension, not to start a controversy, explained that many needy aged persons had been inquiring of him about their failure to receive funds long after local boards had certified their cases.

He expressed the assumption that "several thousand" aged persons in Missouri had died while awaiting action on their applications. He raised a question as to political aspects of the handling of the pensions.

Reported Figures Cited.

The letter, in part, follows: "A correspondent from Buchanan County states that the local board has sent you 2400 completed applications, and that only 500 of them have been acted on by your office. A correspondent from Warren County states that there have been no certifications made to that county for several months. 'I am told that from St. Louis you have received nearly 5000 investigated and completed applications, but that your office so far has certified for payment only 1079. I am further told that no St. Louis certification has been made since May 26. Something like 10,000 applications were made from St. Louis last September, so it therefore appears that only one in 10 has reached the payment stage. I do not have the figures for Kansas City. Taking the State as a whole, I am informed that the total number of applications was over 85,000, and the number certified for payment so far is only 16,103.

"One might understand slowness of progress, but it is difficult to understand what appears to be the complete cessation of all certifications in certain areas. I cannot believe that they are being withheld until shortly before election. That would be monstrous and inhuman, although no worse than the threat being made every day by those who believe that they will be compelled to starve unless they vote as directed.

"I do know that some politics has entered into the administration of this most humanitarian measure, for I have been shown a letter sent out by the Democratic City Committee of St. Joseph, asking votes from the aged because of the diligent work done for the old age pension. I am also reliably advised that your investigators are required to report in what year the applicant has last voted and in what ward and precinct. I am told the question is printed on the forms supplied to your investigators."

Average Pension $9 a Month.

The average State old-age pension payment in St. Louis has been about $9 a month. The local board has received 10,475 applications for pensions and has investigated 6919 of the applicants, approving 6001 of them so far. Only 1079 certificates, carrying pension grants, have been issued by the State. There have been 428 applications rejected after investigation and 95 transferred to various counties. No pension certificates have been received from the State office since May 27. The local office has 20 clerks and 40 investigators.

Commissioner Thompson announced a week ago that action on applications from some counties had been suspended temporarily by his office "until the assistance program was balanced over the State on contemplation of a revised administration." He said some sections of the State had functioned better than others in carrying out the program, and that pensions had lagged in St. Louis and Kansas City. He declined to discuss a plan under consideration for co-operation by the Federal Government in administering pensions on the ground it was premature.

The State pension law, effective last August, provided a maximum of $30 a month for single persons and $45 for married pairs, who had passed 70 years of age and were without other support. Funds allocated for the pensions, however, have been sufficient to provide only for $7 to $12 a month.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS RALLY

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBIA, Mo., July 6.—Paul Williams, president of the Young Democratic Clubs of Missouri, announced today that Charles M. Eay of St. Louis, Assistant Attorney General of the United States, and Roy McKittick, Attorney-General of Missouri, will speak at the State-wide rally of the organization at Poplar Bluff July 11.

The program for the rally is under the direction of the Butler County unit of the organization and will include band contests and a dance. Virtually all Democratic candidates for State office will be there.

16 HELD IN THEFT OF $2,046,000 WORTH OF BONDS

OFFICERS RECOVER
$200,000 IN NOTES

Bail of Four Prisoners Fixed at $10,000 Each, at Hearing — Two Suspects Are Sought.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Four men who, Federal Agents charge, with 14 others engineered the theft of $2,046,000 worth of securities here, were held in bail of $10,000 today by United States Commissioner Garrett W. Cotter, while a fifth arrested with them over the week-end was held in $7500 bail.

Commissioner Cotter fixed bail after hearing a request by United States Attorney George W. Plann for $25,000 bail each and the defendants' plea for bail of $5000. They waived examination.

The five men—Morris Roiser, David Berman, Moe Sedway, Jack Greenberg, and Benjamin Espy—were seized by Federal men in a roundup here Friday and Saturday, announced yesterday by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Bureau of Investigation, at Washington. Espy was the man to whom $7500 bail was allowed.

Details of the theft. Their arrests brought to 16 the number made since $390,000 worth of Treasury notes were stolen from the securities case of the United States Trust Co., here Dec. 14, 1934, and the theft of $1,456,000 in bonds from the delivery room of C. J. Devlin & Co., of New York on Jan. 28, 1935.

Only a brief announcement was made by Hoover, barely hinting at the aid given the investigators by Pia Ferrari Davico, an Italian beauty, and several notable European figures.

Two other men charged by Federal agents with having participated in the alleged conspiracy have not yet been arrested.

All five defendants were well dressed when they appeared before the Commissioner to protest against the Government's request for $25,000 bail. Their attorney, Moe Polakoff, argued that since the charge was conspiracy alone, with a maximum penalty of three years' imprisonment, the Government's demand was exorbitant.

George W. Plann, United States Attorney, replied that the complaint was only a preliminary one.

Alleged Overt Act. The overt act laid to Roiser, Berman, Sedway and Greenberg was alleged by the complaint to have occurred July 2, 1936, when the four were accused of conferring in a local hotel lobby and conspiring to transport stolen bonds.

Espy and Joe Bedelli, who has not been apprehended, were charged with having transported on Jan. 1, 1936, a $100,000 note from New York to West Palm Beach, Fla.

United States Attorney Plann told the court he had found two $100,000 Treasury notes and had access to six more.

Roiser, who is a material witness in the William Hamm kidnapping case at St. Paul, Minn., when allowed to speak for himself against the Government's bail demand, said: "I am a property owner at St. Paul and I urge you to call up the United States Attorney at St. Paul to verify this."

Fedway, pleading for lower bail, said he had only $2. He said his wife was 18 years old and alone at a hotel "where she is about to become a mother. If I can't raise bond she will die."

II FINED ON THE EAST SIDE
FOR HAVING SLOT MACHINES

10 Men and a Woman Plead Guilty and Are Assessed $100 or $200 Each.

Ten men and a woman pleaded guilty of keeping gambling devices before Justice of the Peace Walter W. Hinderberger in East St. Louis today and were fined $100 or $200 each. They were arrested last week when deputy sheriffs made raids on saloons and restaurants maintaining slot machines.

Those fined $200 were Raymond Brown, North Dupe; Pete Zagrofos, 300 East Broadway, East St. Louis; William Skidits, 321 East Broadway, East St. Louis; Dominic Meseno, North Dupe; Andrew Regis, 338 East Broadway, East St. Louis; and William Pickett, 316 East Broadway, East St. Louis.

Those fined $100 were Mrs. M. Page, 400 East Broadway, East St. Louis; Joseph Hawson, Cahokia; R. H. Muskopf, North Dupe; Louis Stepping, Prairie Dupe; and Loyd McClain, Cahokia.

The slot machine raids were made as the result of a resolution introduced at a meeting of the St. Clair County Board of Supervisors by John B. Gray, calling on the sheriff to "clean up the gambling situation" in the county.

FRISCO-SANTA FE DEAL APPROVED IN REPORT

Special Master Favors Sale of Fort Worth & Rio Grande Line.

A special master's report, recommending that the Federal court approve the proposed sale of the Fort Worth & Rio Grande Railroad by the Frisco system to the Santa Fe, was filed with District Judge Moore today by John T. Harding of Kansas City.

The sale price, on which the Frisco's trustees, James M. Kurn and John G. Lonsdale, have agreed with the Santa Fe officials, is $1,519,325. With this money in its treasury, it is expected that the Frisco will be ready for a reorganization by Dec. 1, the time lately set for presentation of a reorganization plan.

Special Master Harding, who held a hearing on the proposed sale June 2, at the railroad system's offices in the Frisco Building, said in his report to the court that no objections had been offered by any of the parties, and no controversy had been raised over the facts. He therefore recommended that the petition of the trustees be approved, and that they be permitted to make the sale.

The Fort Worth & Rio Grande extends southwest 233 miles from Fort Worth to Menard, Tex. Its stock, all owned by the Frisco, is $2,928,300 outstanding, of an authorized issue of $3,500,000.

LABOR LEADER JOINS BANKER
IN DENOUNCING INFLATION

Matthew Wolf and O. C. Wood, Boston, Declare for Sound Money in Addresses at Virginia U.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., July 6.—Representatives of labor and finance joined in denouncing inflation before the Institute of Public Affairs at the University of Virginia today.

Orrin G. Wood, Boston banker and president of the Investment Bankers' Association, and Matthew Wolf, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, spoke in favor of "sound currency."

"American labor stands unalterably opposed to inflation and completely in favor of sound money," Wolf said.

"The position of labor is genuine and unequivocal on the whole matter of inflation," Wolf continued. "Labor recognizes the basic fallacy of inflation and takes its stand definitely in favor of a program of stable currency."

WOMAN KILLERS IN SOLITARY

Two Spent Anniversary of Chicago Murder Alone.

DWIGHT, Ill., July 6.—Mrs. Elanthe Dunkel and Mrs. Evelyn Smith sat in solitary confinement today to ponder on the first anniversary of the murder of Ervin Lang, son-in-law of Mrs. Dunkel.

Miss Helen M. Hazard, superintendent of the women's reformatory to which the two Chicago women were sentenced to 180 years at hard labor, said the prisoners would be given bread and milk as their only food for the day. The day of solitude was ordered by the trial judge in sentencing the women and is to be repeated on each anniversary of the murder. Lang was strangled and dismembered by Mrs. Smith, after being lured to her apartment by Mrs. Dunkel, who confessed she asked Mrs. Smith to kill him.

Wabash to pay $348,800 in Interest.

An order was issued today by Federal Judge Davis, on petition of the Wabash Railroad receivers, Norman B. Pitcairn and Frank C. Nicodemo Jr., authorizing them to pay $348,800 interest on the second mortgage bonds of the road. This is a semi-annual payment and is due Aug. 1.

ROOSEVELT IN CAPITAL AFTER VIRGINIA VISIT

Some Campaign Planning, Then to Hyde Park, N. Y., and Off to Maine.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Returning to the Capital from a week-end tour of Virginia, President Roosevelt went ahead with a study of campaign plans today before turning north for a vacation.

He left Yorktown last night and boarded the Potomac, which sailed at once for the capital.

Plans for President Roosevelt's vacation trip beginning Saturday and culminating in a visit to the Governor-General of Canada at Quebec about Aug. 1 were taking shape.

James Roosevelt, the President's eldest son, already has chartered the 53-foot schooner-yacht Sewanna for that part of the trip which will take the chief executive on a sailing cruise off the Maine coast, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and ending at Campobello Island, where the President's mother has a summer home. The President is expected to board the boat somewhere near Portland about July 14.

En route to Maine, by a special train, he will stop off at New York City next Saturday morning to dedicate the new Tri-Borough bridge across the East River connecting Manhattan, Queens, and the Bronx. Then he will go to Hyde Park as a guest of the Roosevelt Hotel Club, a non-partisan organization which will celebrate that afternoon its seventh anniversary.

He will leave Hyde Park Sunday or Monday for a point near Portland to board the Sewanna.

The presidential yacht Potomac and probably a destroyer will serve as escort for the Sewanna. The President may shift to the Potomac now and then if more speed is required to take him to good fishing grounds or if he encounters bad weather.

At Williamsburg, old capital of Virginia, Roosevelt attended worship yesterday in the old brick church of Bruton Parish, the church attended by Washington, Jefferson, Monroe, Madison and Patrick Henry. He sat in the carved chair of the British Governors of colonial Virginia and heard the rector, the Rev. Dr. W. A. R. Goodwin, urge his listeners to apply themselves "to the supreme purpose of reviving in this country the old faith of the fathers."

Before going to church, Roosevelt spent half an hour among the ruins of Jamestown. Then he drove to Williamsburg. In the afternoon he went to Yorktown, where Lord Cornwallis surrendered to Gen. Washington.

MANY HOMELESS IN FIRE
ATTRIBUTED TO FIRECRACKER

Loss More Than $500,000 at Remsen, Ia.; Blaze Also at Nearby Town.

REMSEN, Ia., July 6.—Business houses which covered four blocks were in ruins and many persons were homeless here today as the result of Saturday's fire, said to have been caused by a firecracker lighted in a tent near a cafe. The loss was more than $500,000.

Homeless residents were sheltered last night and today in a tent village set up not far from where the town's business district stood. Two National Guard companies, one from Sioux City and the other from Le Mars, stood patrol duty. The local Red Cross chapter arranged to feed homeless victims.

At Oyens, six miles west of here, a block of business houses and several residences were in ruins. The grass fire which spread to the business district Saturday was estimated to have caused a loss of $70,000.

MRS. EDGAR REPEATS DENIAL OF MISCONDUCT

Sticks to Her Story at Trial of Ex-Husband's $300,000
Alienation Suit.

By the Associated Press.

MIAMI, Fla., July 6.—Mrs. Kathryn Crawford Edgar repeated under cross-examination today her denial of improper conduct with Lewis E. Mallory III, defendant in a $300,000 alienation of affections suit instituted by her former husband, James Edgar Jr. She divorced Edgar, heir to a sugar fortune, at Detroit last week.

A defense motion for a mistrial later was denied. With failure of their motion, the defense called Marvin A. Glazier, a night watchman last winter at a hotel where Edgar charges his wife misbehaved with Mallory. Glazier testified that Mrs. Edgar was in the Casino and Mallory absent from his room until 4:30 a. m. on the night Edgar swore he saw them together in Mallory's bedroom. Glazier said another night watchman and a previous witness, William Holstrunk, had solicited his testimony for the trial but Glazier said he retorted: "I can't be bought."

Mrs. Edgar returned to the witness stand after a week-end recess during which she received a mysterious telephone call described by her attorney as an extortion attempt. Police also were told she had been "kidnaped" for several days. The incidents were reported to Circuit Judge W. W. Trammell at the opening of court today, with the jury excluded.

John Murrell, counsel for Mallory, said he believed the telephone call was "an attempt to intimidate a witness," said someone "apparently seeking to embarrass Mrs. Crawford or gain sympathy for her."

Judge Trammell suggested the Court Solicitor and State Attorney be notified of the incidents.

Mrs. Edgar More Composed. Mrs. Edgar, a former actress, appeared more composed than on Friday, when she near collapse after a long session on the stand. She said again that she had never been guilty of misconduct in a Miami Beach hotel room with Mallory, as charged by Edgar and related to the jury last week by members of the hotel staff.

She was questioned closely about whether she was given to falling into windows, with veiled reference to records, not yet in evidence, of St. Francis Hospital, at Miami Beach, where she was a patient last year.

After several non-committal answers, she said: "If anything was said that I jumped out the window, that's Mr. Edgar. Any time he's ever struck me, it's always been to keep me from jumping out a window. Now, I ask you, do I look like the type that would jump out of a window?"

After some argument of counsel with the jury absent, Mrs. Edgar said she once fainted and fell from a second-story window in her apartment at the hotel staff.

Initials on Lighter. Botts brought out that she had been given a cigarette lighter last winter with the initials "K. C. M." on it. She denied that Mallory had given it to her with an expression that he hoped to make those her initials. She said the engraver made "an unfortunate mistake" but that by a coincidence the third initial stood for her maiden name, Moran, so she kept it.

The witness' name is Kathryn Crawford Moran but she was known as an actress before her marriage to Edgar as Kathryn Crawford which she retained as her name while they were married.

"Would you describe the fact that four different people, including your husband, identified you as the woman in Mr. Mallory's hotel rooms, as a coincidence?" Botts continued. Counsel on the other side objected and a debate ensued on the propriety of such questions.

"Do you love Mr. Edgar now?" "I do not."

"When did you cease loving him?" "In February, 1935."

"Now, I believe you testified that when you and your husband and your sister left Miami Beach last winter to return north, you stopped the first night at a hotel in Jacksonville, and you stayed with your husband there. Now will you tell us why, when you were entertaining no affection for him, you lived with him in that manner?" "To avoid argument."

"You deny you were ever at any time in Mr. Mallory's room at the Deauville Hotel?" "I do."

ONE JEW DIES, 100 OTHERS
ILL WITH FOOD POISONING

Jerusalem Police Seeking Cause; Arab Troops at Hebron.

JERUSALEM, July 6.—One Jew died yesterday and more than 100 others were treated at Jerusalem hospitals and clinics for food and fish poisoning. Police are seeking the cause.

An Arab was killed and three others reported wounded last night by British troops, repulsing an attack on the military camp at Hebron.

One Jewish employee of the Public Works Department was injured seriously and two others were hurt slightly by a bomb thrown at them as they were walking near the Damascus gate in Jerusalem. A Government communique said a number of other bombs were thrown in various towns and villages. An Arab was injured seriously in one explosion at Latrun.

SUFFERS SKULL FRACTURE WHEN STRUCK BY AUTO

Driver Says Man Ran Into Path of Car Three Hurt When Machine Hit Traffic Divider.

Henry Geiger, a laborer, suffered fractures of the skull, wrist and ankle when struck by an automobile at Gravois avenue and Salena street last night. He resides at 2317 Salena street.

The driver, Harry R. Block, 1220 Fairview avenue, University City, told police that Geiger ran across the street into the path of his automobile.

Three persons were cut and bruised at 5 a. m. yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding struck a concrete traffic divider in the 1800 block of Gravois avenue. They were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Spoto, 3747 Oregon avenue, and Albert Bonmarito, 1214 North Market street. Spoto was driving and apparently lost control of his machine.

Oscar Schulz, an automobile salesman, 2208 Osage street, and Leonard Kohler of Kimmiswick, were injured Saturday afternoon when the machine Schulz was driving skidded into a ditch. They were taken to Alexian Brothers' Hospital, where Schulz was pronounced suffering from concussion of the brain and internal injuries, and Kohler was treated for lacerations and contusions.

VETERANS TO HONOR MEMORY OF ORIGINAL OF UNCLE SAM

They Will Hold Service at Samuel
Wilson's Grave at Troy, N. Y.,
This Week.

By the Associated Press.

TROY, N. Y., July 6.—Uncle Sam, that long, lean gentleman with the whiskers, traditionally drawn by cartoonists to symbolize the Federal Government, will have the convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars dedicated to his memory. The convention will open Wednesday.

Historians are agreed that Samuel Wilson, who lived and died here, is original of Uncle Sam. Veterans will hold a memorial service at his grave in Oakwood Cemetery.

A great-grandson of Samuel Wilson, Carlton Wood Sheldon of Kansas City, Mo., will attend. Sheldon's mother, Mrs. Helen Marion Brockett, and her daughter, Betty Sheldon Brockett, are the other living descendants of Wilson.

Records show that Samuel Wilson enlisted at the age of 15 as a service boy with the Colonial forces in the Revolutionary War. He supplied the army with meat.

Experience gained during the Revolutionary War led him to go into the meat packing business in Troy. With his brother, the firm of E. and S. Wilson was established in the War of 1812 came along they supplied the troops with meat.

GERMANS BUSY PROVING THEIR ARYAN ANCESTRY

Obstacles in Way of Those of British Descent, Keep Genealogical Society Busy.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, July 6.—Germans of English descent who are required under the Nuremberg decrees to establish their Aryan ancestry back to 1800 are besieging British genealogical organizations, parish churches, record agents, and Somerset House, Registry Office of Wills and Deeds, for help.

Unless the applicant knows the name and parish of his ancestor there are enormous difficulties to be surmounted. Most don't, according to the Society of Genealogists here, a non-profit-making body which has successfully traced ancestors for many Germans.

The period of 1800-1837 presents the greatest obstacles. In 1837 Somerset House set up the civil register, and before 1800 there were no records, and the German may discover that the information which might have proved him an Aryan has disappeared without a trace.

If the ancestor was born after 1837 a birth certificate can be obtained from Somerset House. Then the baptismal and marriage entries in the parish records can be checked. Copies of these satisfy the decree.

MRS. ROOSEVELT VISITS WASHINGTON WPA PROJECTS

Climbs to Top Gallery of Abandoned Church to See Women Sewing.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt today visited local WPA projects and prepared to leave at midnight on a summer vacation. She will go first to the Arthur Daley resettlement project near Reedsville, Va., tomorrow to help in transferring the school there from an experimental basis, supported by private funds to a permanent status as part of the West Virginia school system.

Mrs. Roosevelt visited underground WPA warehouses and climbed to the top gallery of an abandoned church where 1300 women work daily on sewing projects.

She handed out corned beef through the window-counter to which "direct relief" clients go, and there learned the national capital had 6000 unemployed among the 25,000 receiving relief.

Of a maid-traveling project she commented: "The country over these projects are not very popular. Women won't take them if they can be trained for anything else, conditions when they come out are hard. Along with the schools for maids should go another school for employers."

From Arthur Daley, Mrs. Roosevelt will go to New York to visit a girls' camp and open the teachers' course at Columbia University, and then go to summer headquarters at Hyde Park.

GIRL, 15, TRIES TO SAVE CONDEMNED MOTHER

Writes Letter Which Will Be Offered As Evidence in Plea for Retrial.

By the Associated Press.

MINEOLA, N. Y., July 6.—Elvin Edwards, counsel for Mrs. Frances Creighton, awaiting a death sentence in Sing Sing prison, for the killing of Mrs. Ada Applegate, announced today he would seek a new trial for the condemned woman on the basis of a letter he received from Mrs. Creighton's 15-year-old daughter, Ruth.

The letter, as made public by Edwards, said that Everett Applegate, also convicted with Mrs. Creighton, told the daughter he intended to kill his wife so he could marry the girl.

Edwards said his motion for a new trial on the basis of newly discovered evidence would be heard Thursday by County Judge Cortland A. Johnson. The Court postponed the hearing scheduled for today because of a crowded calendar.

Mrs. Creighton and Applegate await electrocution on July 16. A motion for a new trial in Applegate's behalf was denied last week.

In her letter to Edwards, the girl, with whom Applegate admitted having relations, was quoted as saying that Applegate had told her he "would do away with Aunt Ada (Mrs. Applegate) and have me for himself and that he could talk Dad into letting us be married."

The text of the letter as made public by Edwards, former District Attorney of Nassau County, follows:

"Brooklyn, April 11, 1936.

"Dear Mr. Edwards:

"There are some things which I know and have not told anyone, not even Dad.

"I know now it was wrong not to tell you Uncle Es (Applegate) kept saying to me if I talked to anyone at all about him and I and what he told me about Aunt Ada that I would be put in jail. I was afraid to tell my dad and mother.

"When mother came home and got me she said someone was going to ask me questions and if I knew anything I must tell the truth. When I left her the men who questioned me were all strangers. I was afraid of them. I have thought of mother's note and know now I must tell in order to help her. I told some of what Uncle Es said, but did not tell anyone how he himself told me he was going to kill Aunt Ada.

"The night they left for Rochester he told me to be good and wait for him and that when he came back he would do away with Aunt Ada and have me for himself and that he could talk Dad into letting us be married.

"He also said no one would be able to blame him after she died. He told me not to tell anyone anything because then it would all come out about him and I and that both of us would go to jail. I wanted to tell Dad when I saw him but I was afraid to tell him so I thought I would write you and maybe you could help me.

"Sincerely,

"Ruth Jean Creighton."

Death and Murder Trial.

Applegate's 288-pound wife, Ada, 36, died Sept. 27, 1935, but it was not until Oct. 6 that Nassau County authorities announced that she had been poisoned and that her husband, employed by the Nassau County Veterans' Welfare Bureau, was being held on a charge of criminal assaulting Ruth Creighton.

Applegate and Mrs. Creighton were indicted for first degree murder. When arraigned Applegate said he would like to marry Ruth Creighton. The girl was sent to a children's home. Applegate and Mrs. Creighton were convicted by a jury last Jan. 24.

Mrs. Creighton admitted on the witness stand she gave poison to Mrs. Applegate. Applegate denied knowledge of the poison.

'COUNT COVADONGA'S FRIEND'

Maria Rocafort So Replies to Reports of Marriage Plans.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Maria Rocafort said today she and Count Covadonga were good friends, but that "there is a great deal of difference between being in love and being a friend."

She evaded queries about reports that she might be married to the count, in the event his marriage to his Cuban wife is annulled. Flowers which she said were from him were in the apartment where she lives with her mother and sister.

The count, son of former King Alfonso of Spain, was reported seeking an annulment of his marriage; and his wife, the former Edelmira Sampedro, for whom he renounced this claim to the throne, was reported in Havana ready to begin suit for divorce.

ATHLETES IN FATAL CRASH

Woman Killed; Two University of California Crew Members Hurt.

PRINCETON, N. J., July 6.—A Negro woman was killed and two members of the University of California rowing crew were injured today when two automobiles collided in South Brunswick township.

Evaid Swanson, 27 years old, of Turlock, Cal., who rowed No. 3 on the crew in the Olympic finals yesterday, was taken to Princeton Hospital with cuts on the hand. Lawrence Arpen, 20, of Berkeley, stroke of the crew, suffered a slight skull laceration. Their car, driven by Carroll W. Brigham, 21, of Berkeley, struck that of John Taylor of New York City, whose wife, Louise, 36, died of internal injuries at Princeton Hospital.

WOMAN ENVOY BACK TO JOIN CAMPAIGN

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen on 60-Day Leave From Denmark for Campaign.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, American Minister to Denmark, came home yesterday to campaign for the Democratic national ticket and to announce "for the record" that "I am sure of victory for President Roosevelt."

The daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan intends first to take a vacation and then start on a speaking tour.

She answered questions about the Republican presidential candidate and the new party with a smile, and looked out of a cabin window of the motorliner Pilsudski.

Minister to Denmark for a little more than three years, Mrs. Owen observed that President Roosevelt's "good neighbor" policy and "his reciprocal treaties" have produced a helpful reaction in foreign countries. Of Denmark she said:

"Denmark has solved her agricultural problem by farm co-operatives. Denmark is serving as a laboratory for study: the old age pension and unemployment insurance systems are successful.

"It does not minimize her success to say these systems work simpler than they would in the United States."

The woman known as "Madam Minister" to associates spoke cautiously of the possibility of a woman candidate for the vice-presidency in 1940.

"What has sex to do with it?" she said. "Appropriateness of the candidate is what counts. Let us analyze the requirements of the post."

Mrs. Owen, here on a 60-day leave, was smartly gowned in a black matelasse dress with white stringer collar and cuffs and a black turban.

Chash Can Box Robbed.

A cash box containing $92 was stolen Saturday evening from the office of the rectory of St. Alphonsus (Rock) Church, 1118 North Grand boulevard, by an intruder who forced a grilled screen from an office window, reached the money and fled. He escaped from Brother Marcellus, an attaché of the church, who ran after him. Brother Marcellus saw the man run from the house and pursued him to the sidewalk, but the man disappeared in the darkness.

MRS. ALMA KERCKHOFF
WED TO J. LESLIE FLEGLE

Marriage at 3 a. m. at St. Charles Following Saturday Night Dinner Party.

Mrs. Alma Menze Kerckhoff, divorced wife of Daniel C. Kerckhoff, president of the Pevely Dairy Co., and J. Leslie Flegle of New York were married at 3 a. m. yesterday by Justice of the Peace Edward White at St. Charles.

Their engagement to marry in the autumn had been announced last Tuesday. The wedding followed a dinner party given for the two Saturday night at the Glen Echo Country Club by a group of friends. A "Flower at a Party" Among those present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Brickenkamp, 64 Fair Oaks drive; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Baker Jr., Price and Ladue roads; and Mr. and Mrs. William Stubbfield, 200 Jefferson road, Webster Groves.

Flegle and his bride left immediately after the ceremony for an unannounced destination. They were expected to return to St. Louis briefly today, before going on to New York.

Flegle, an executive with J. C. Penney, Inc., is a graduate of Washington University. He left St. Louis 12 years ago. He is the son of J. M. Flegle, 4933 Chippewa street.

Mrs. Kerckhoff, who has been residing at 6147 Lindell drive, obtained a divorce from Kerckhoff in 1925 after last March 13. She received a cash settlement of $130,000 and an allowance of $225 a month for the care of her children, Jeanne, 3, and Robert, 7. On her marriage to Kerckhoff in 1925 she gave up a career as a concert soprano. She had appeared as soloist with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Flegle both gave their age as 36. They are old acquaintances.

ROBBER, FORCED TO DRIVE MEN
DURING TWO OTHER HULDOUPS

East St. Louisan Made to Take Three in Own Auto After Losing $10.

Lee Welshans, 1617 Belmont avenue, East St. Louis, was held up and robbed of $16 in East St. Louis early yesterday by three young men, who then forced him to drive them on a tour of Madison and St. Clair counties, on which they robbed two other persons.

The robbers forced their way into Welshans' automobile when he stopped at Tenth and State streets, took his money, and then had him drive them to Madison, Lebanon, Shiloh, Belleville, and back to East St. Louis. On the outskirts of Belleville, Jesse Douglas, a laborer at Scott Field, was stalled in his car and the robbers stopped and robbed him of $9 and a ring valued at $25.

Back in East St. Louis, they robbed another man, who has not been identified, of $2 near Lakewood Park. The robbers then ordered Welshans to drop them at the east approach of the Municipal Bridge and to drive across the bridge. They fled on foot.

ENGLAND PLANS
AMERICA IN 1937

One of Major Steps in Nation's Bid for Flying Supremacy Base to Be Built at Portsmouth.

By the Associated Press.

PORTSMOUTH, England, July 6.—A new British air hub was in the making tonight while mechanics tuned up the first flying boat of a promised Atlantic fleet.

The actual work of making Langley harbor a combined land and marine base for Empire and trans-Atlantic routes is expected to begin in another month. By this step, the United Kingdom will add to its air power the empire on top of the flying world.

It is a forward step toward the time when a regular schedule of trans-Atlantic plane transport will be an actuality.

Early next year, it is being predicted here, a service to America will be under way, with two American and two British flying boats arriving and departing weekly.

The Portsmouth Town Council has already approved the work for the airport, to be the largest of its kind in the world and to cost close to $6,000,000.

Government financial assistance is practically assured, some of it at least, from the proposed new air navigation bill with its provision for a 50 per cent increase in air subsidies to $7,500,000 yearly.

For Portsmouth the new airport is expected to mean distinction as the air hub of the world. Langley harbor, which has Portsmouth Harbor to the west and Chichester Harbor to the east, would become a large inland lake. Several hundred acres of ground would be prepared for the handling of the planes.

As far as Britain's contribution to trans-Atlantic air travel is concerned, the chief interest now centers in the flying boats which are to make reconnoitering flight routes long.

Secret New Type Carrier Plane.

Progress on the pick-back air plane, a combination in which a "mother" plane will carry on its back a similar long-range seaplane for "launching" at high altitude, is more secret.

Britain's first efforts toward trans-Atlantic service are expected to be directed at Bermuda via the Canary Islands, with the North Atlantic crossing to be attempted later.

Expansion within the Empire air service proper this year is to include substitution of imperial air flying boats for Australian planes from Singapore to Australia; a service between Bermuda and New York also is planned. New link services between the Sudan and West Africa and between Penang and Hongkong are now operating.

Imperial Airways, it has been said by Sir Philip Sassoon, Under-Secretary of State for Air, remain Britain's instrument for the development of Empire air routes, including the North Atlantic.

Two other crews were reported. One, on Trail Creek, 15 miles northwest of Cody, within two miles of Shoshone National Forest. The other was in the Custer National Forest near Absarokee, Mont.

M. W. OF A. HEARING PUT OFF

Suit Against O'Malley to Come Up July 14.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 6.—Federal District Judge Albert L. Reeves today continued until July 14 a hearing on an injunction brought by the Modern Woodmen of America against R. E. O'Malley, State Superintendent of Insurance.

The federal organization asked for the injunction would not decide on a verdict. Charles, 55 years old, and Homer Gipson, 45, both of College Mound, Mo., were plaintiff and defendant, respectively. The previous deadlock jury was discharged March 12.

Charles charged his brother caused his 43-year-old wife, Lulu, to divorce him and become Mrs. Homer Gipson. The case was further complicated when Mrs. Gipson testified that she and the plaintiff were never formally married, although they lived together as man and wife since 1909 and had six children.

In answering her husband's divorce suit recently, Mrs. Stanley asked for permanent alimony of $50,000 and custody of their son, Ethan Bates Stanley II. She charged E. B. Stanley induced his son to abscond with the family suit and that he forced his son to transfer all of his property to him.

Two Handful Boys Drowned.

HANNIBAL, Mo., July 6.—Bobby and Elmer Veal, 11 and 8 years old, respectively, were drowned today in the Mississippi River three miles south of here while swimming with several other boys. Companions of the two were not seen again after they first plunged into the river.

Four Drowned When Auto Plunges in Key Largo Canal.

HOMESTEAD, Fla., July 6.—Four men were drowned yesterday when their automobile which they were riding left the Federal highway about two miles south of here and plunged into the Key Largo Canal. The dead are John William Walton, Frederick Lee Alexander and Daniel Jack Smith, all about 50, of Pompano, Fla., and Robert Doherty, 32, formerly of Calumet, Mich., who had been staying at a fishing camp.

NEW JERSEY ENRANT WINS
NATIONAL SOARING TITLE

Chester J. Decker Flies 146 Miles; Gains Two Trophies and a $500 Cash Prize.

By the Associated Press.

ELMIRA, N. Y., July 6.—Chester J. Decker of Elmira, N. Y., won the national soaring title today under a new merit point system used at the contests here this year for the first time. Decker, with 295 points, was awarded the Charles F. Elmer trophy which goes to the national champion and the Vincent Ibbendix gold trophy and $500 cash prize for the longest distance flight. He flew 146.6 miles to Otisville, Pa., yesterday and was credited with three of the five longest flights of the meet, the others being 135 miles to Waterbury by Henry N. Wightman of Upper Montclair, N. J., and 77 miles to Orson, Pa., by Emerson Mehlhose of Wyandotte, Mich.

Richard C. du Pont of Wilmington, Del., 1934 and 1935 champion, finished with a total of 288 points; Alfred Slater of Los Angeles, Cal., third, with 218; Wightman, fourth, with 200; and Mehlhose, fifth, with 171.

Du Pont won the Robert J. Eaton Memorial prize for longest distance flight, with return to point of launching. He soared to Watkins Glen and back, a total of 36 miles. Mehlhose won the Felix du Pont $500 award and the Warren Eaton Memorial trophy for highest altitude. He reached 4516 feet, breaking the national record of 6224 feet set by du Pont in 1934.

Early next year, it is being predicted here, a service to America will be under way, with two American and two British flying boats arriving and departing weekly.

The Portsmouth Town Council has already approved the work for the airport, to be the largest of its kind in the world and to cost close to $6,000,000.

Government financial assistance is practically assured, some of it at least, from the proposed new air navigation bill with its provision for a 50 per cent increase in air subsidies to $7,500,000 yearly.

For Portsmouth the new airport is expected to mean distinction as the air hub of the world. Langley harbor, which has Portsmouth Harbor to the west and Chichester Harbor to the east, would become a large inland lake. Several hundred acres of ground would be prepared for the handling of the planes.

As far as Britain's contribution to trans-Atlantic air travel is concerned, the chief interest now centers in the flying boats which are to make reconnoitering flight routes long.

Secret New Type Carrier Plane.

Progress on the pick-back air plane, a combination in which a "mother" plane will carry on its back a similar long-range seaplane for "launching" at high altitude, is more secret.

Britain's first efforts toward trans-Atlantic service are expected to be directed at Bermuda via the Canary Islands, with the North Atlantic crossing to be attempted later.

Government Holds Several Hundred Political Gunmen After Series of Raids.

MADRID, July 6.—Police arrested several hundred Fascists and Leftist extremists in a series of raids today after the Government ordered a wholesale roundup of political gunmen. The order followed four days of political-lawlessness in which 192-24 persons were killed and more than 20 wounded.

Failure of employers to accept a proposed compromise in the construction strike kept 100,000 building workers idle today. Government officials studied measures to force acceptance of a plan for settlement of differences.

Among the workers organizations, Syndicalists opposed the Government program while Socialists were favorable to it.

SUGGESTIONS TO U. S. MOTORISTS IN MEXICO

International Highway Has Magnificent Scenery but Few Facilities as Yet.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Motorists traveling to Mexico, D. F., over the recently opened international highway from Laredo, Tex., will find almost perfect stretches of road as well as magnificent scenery.

This link in the proposed gigantic Pan-American highway, which eventually would connect the United States and South America, is a 770-mile route through majestic mountain country, tropical jungles, orange groves, picturesque Indian villages and old cities.

Guard rails have been built on dangerous curves so that a greater degree of safety can be maintained. Numerous curves and grades add hazards to the trip.

The American Trade Commissioner at Mexico, D. F., reports, however, that facilities such as gasoline stations, garages, restaurants and hotels are as yet few and far between on the new highway. The traveler therefore, is advised to acquire supplies at those points where gasoline, oil and water can be obtained.

One suggestion for tourists is to take along some tinned foods, crackers, cheese and the like. Beer and other bottled drinks are easily available at many points along the route. Tourist camps equipped with modern conveniences are being constructed at various points along the new highway.

Additional hotels and restaurants are being built, particularly at Monterrey, Ciudad Victoria, Valles and Tamazunchale. American officials report there is no difficulty in obtaining first-class hotel accommodations at reasonable rates in Mexico, D. F.

The ancient Mexican capital, a seat of civilization long before the dawn of the Christian era, is expected to become a popular objective for thousands of motorists from the United States.

Long before its official opening there was a striking increase in motor vehicle traffic over the new highway. The popularity of this highway has greatly encouraged the Mexican Government in its road building in other sections of the country.

MACHINERY TRADE GAINING, SAYS COMMERCE DEPARTMENT

This Is Declared to Be Sign That U. S. Is Emerging From Depression.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Renewed activity in almost all branches of the machinery trade is cited by the Commerce Department as "among the soundest of indications that the country is in fact emerging from the depression."

Although 1933 is the latest year for which complete statistics on the machinery industries are available, the department says business has improved "vastly" since that time, employment is greater, payrolls larger and the value of commodities produced is higher.

Ranked fifth among the manufacturing industries in 1933, the machinery group employed 500,000 persons that year, paid more than $500,000,000 in wages and produced commodities valued at about $2,000,000,000 the report says.

PREDICTS MUSSOLINI WILL CLAIM ALL AFRICA

Sir Abe Bailey Calls Conquest of Ethiopia Greatest Threat to Britain in Century.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, July 6.—Mussolini's conquest of Ethiopia is "the greatest threat and shock to the British Empire in the last hundred years," Sir Abe Bailey, multi-millionaire South African political leader, declared here recently in an interview.

"The Italian victory is only the first step in a vast new scheme of Roman imperialism in Africa," he said. "It is no use deceiving ourselves. Mussolini has successfully defied Britain and the world. His next move will be to train and arm the millions of fierce Ethiopian warriors he has subdued by bombs and poison gas. Then, when Britain is engaged elsewhere, he will strike first into the Sudan, then into Kenya and eventually claim all of Africa as new Roman Empire."

Now 71 years old, Bailey was a contemporary of the "empire builder," Cecil Rhodes. When Rhodes died it was widely said that his mantle had fallen on Bailey. On hearing this, Bailey observed: "Well, I've always noticed that second-hand clothes never fit."

Leaving his Scottish father's general store when gold was discovered in the Transvaal in the 1880s, Bailey became a millionaire by trading in gold shares before he was 23. His income in 1930 was officially reported at $1,600,000.

"It made it," he said, "by praying—in church and on people."

Bailey sees South Africa as the potential battleground for the next world war.

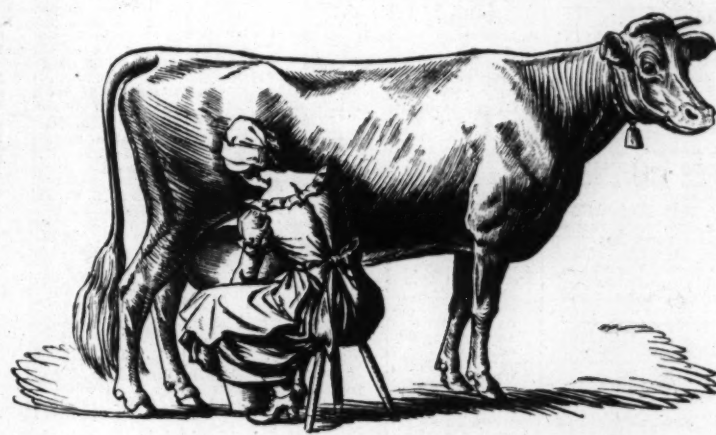

"It will be the frontier between the East and West," he said, "with the Asiatics dominating the world unless the white races, particularly the United States," all stand together.

"America, in her policy of isolation from European affairs, does not seem to realize that the whole world is one today—linked by the tremendous advance of speed and science. The airplane is driving all nations together as back-fence neighbors."

FIVE HELD IN RAID ON STILL

Federal warrants charging violation of Internal Revenue laws have been issued against five men, arrested in raids staged by Federal and county officers near Brighton, Ill. A still and 90 gallons of finished alcohol were confiscated. The vats were dynamited.

The five men under arrest gave their names as Joe Dimkusky, Wilsonville; Leo Jones, Litchfield; Joe Draghi, Wilsonville; Peter Justin, Nokomis, and Jim Jones, no address. They were removed to Edwardsville.

In Ancient Nile Mud.
England Keeps Ready.
Let the Dead Sleep.
Murder Starts Early.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

DECLINING on her side, her body covered with gold, gold necklaces on her neck and on the ground nearby, archeologists discovered the well-preserved body of an Egyptian princess whose father, the Pharaoh Chephren, built the second biggest pyramid; it was his brother, Cheops, who built the biggest.

Those pyramids were tombs for kings, and searchers found the princess in one of them. The Nile mud seeping into the tomb had helped to preserve her.

That princess, living 5000 years ago, could tell an interesting story for the movies. She "built herself a small pyramid with stones given to her by her many lovers." Where do you suppose she is now? In some strange Egyptian heaven, perhaps, with all those admirers around her.

England, alarmed by European war threats, issues an official "white paper" explaining why.

"The relation of our own armed forces to those of other great Powers should be maintained at a figure high enough to enable us to exercise our influence and authority in international affairs."

Unfortunately for all plans, the airplane in the hands of a desperate nation might upset all national "authority," just as a pistol in the hands of a desperate man upsets individual and police authority.

One bullet will stretch individual authority in the dust; 1000 airplanes attacking the heart of a great city might cause national "authority" to end in demoralization.

England's new defense increase will be largely in her air force; that was nation knows that the real "ocean" in future wars will be the ocean of the air.

In a desert of Southeastern Utah, men and women, belonging to the cult of "Truth Seekers," were gathered around the body of Mrs. Edith Dahal, who died more than a year ago. You read about it, perhaps. Mrs. Ogden, leader of the "Truth Seekers," prayed over the body, which appeared marvelously preserved. The "Truth Seekers" believe they will bring the woman back to life, but the pathetic fact is that it would not in the least matter, if they did.

The important thing is to improve the condition of 1,800,000,000 actually living on the earth. For one, safely out of it, to be brought back would be unimportant, in these days, and perhaps cruel.

America holds the world's "murder championship" for all kinds of murders, at all ages—quantity, quality, variety, volume.

A New Jersey boy, 16 years old, was sentenced to death.

In Wisconsin, a Coroner reports that little David Holl, 2 months old, was killed by two boys 4 and 3 years of age.

They each held one hand of the younger one, and dropped it on the floor. It cried and would not stop. Then, one of the small boys explained, "we pounded him." These youngest "killers" puzzle the law. You can't "try" a 4-year-old child.

Police in Westchester County, near New York City, raiding a magnificent mansion, found a well-organized gambling establishment. According to the police, this is one of the "institutions typical of modern crime methods, one of a gambling house chain" owned in Chicago and operated from there. The police say the gambling house operators moved North at the end of the Miami season.

What ought to interest the fools that do the betting is the fact that when $100,000 changes hands nightly, the gambling house keeps $12,000 profit. A 12 per cent "rake off" on every bet will soon eat up your capital.

CHINESE COUNTERFEITERS SEIZED IN AMERICAN'S HOME

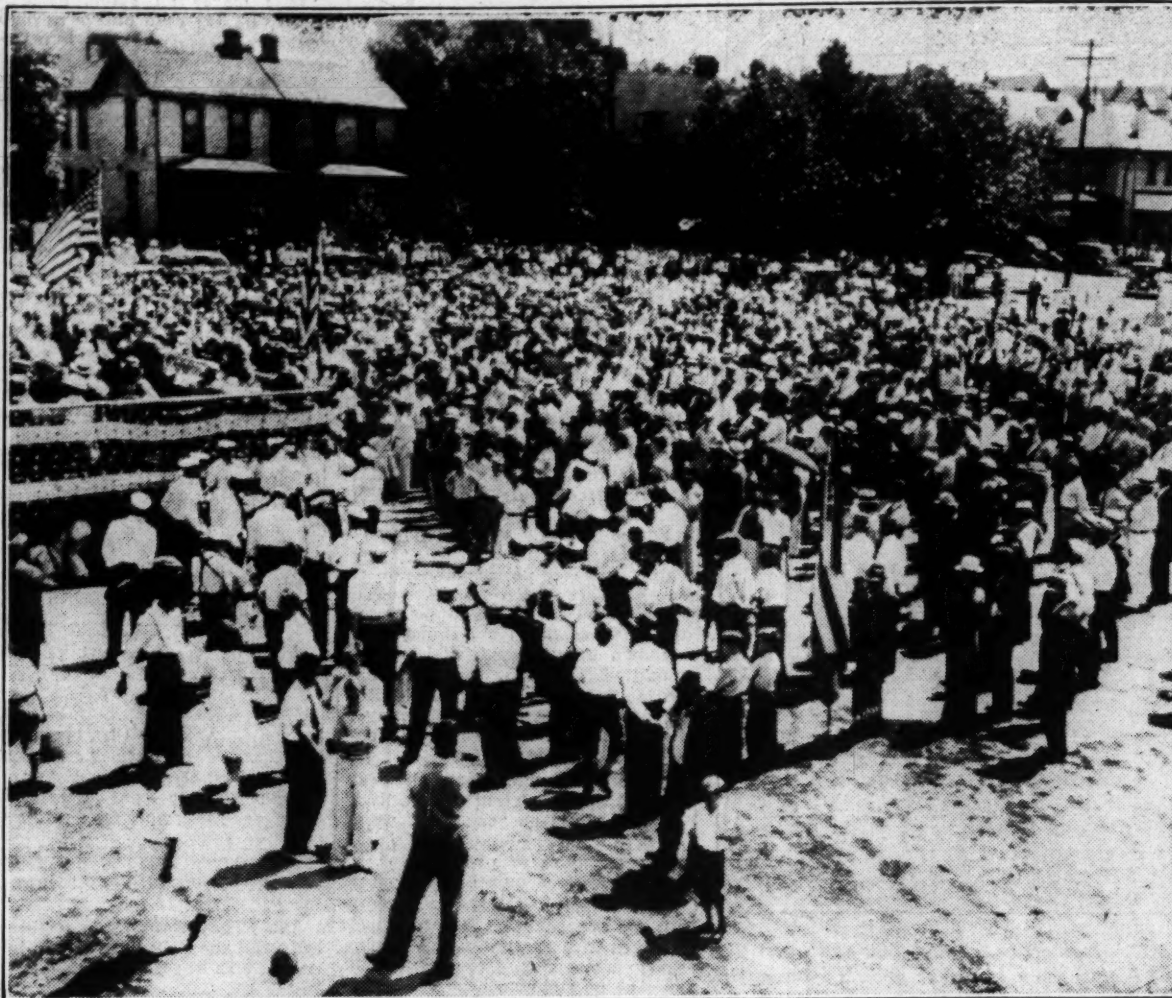

Ten Men Accused of Using Army Officer's Peiping House for Operations.

PEIPING, July 6.—Ten Chinese were arrested today on a charge of counterfeiting at the home of Col. Isaac Newell, United States Army officer and former military attaché, who is on vacation in the United States.

Police said the Chinese were using the Newell home as a manufacturing base for thousands of bogus banknotes of Hopei Province. Their leader was said by police to be Col. Newell's former No. 1 houseboy.

No Americans were in the house. Roy Chapman Andrews, the explorer, who had been spending his left for New York with his bride recently.

THE DEUCE HELPS

By Ely Culbertson

THE universal feeling among bridge players about low cards seems to be that they are dirty little weeds in an otherwise lovely garden. Not being strong on horticulture I am not prepared to discuss weeds with authority, but I would not be at all surprised to learn that they serve a useful purpose. I know that low cards often are life savers at the bridge table, fulfilling a multiplicity of duties.

Some of the finest plays I have seen depended entirely on the presence of a deuce or three in the hand. The mere fact that most players hold these cards in cold contempt does not detract from their intrinsic worth. What could East have done in today's hand without a certain deuce?

South, dealer.

♣ J 10 9 2

The bidding:

South West North East
1 club Pass 1 spade Pass
2 hearts Pass 2 diamonds Pass
3 no trump Pass Pass
West made the orthodox opening of his fourth highest heart; East's queen was allowed to hold, and declarer won the heart return with the ace. The jack of diamonds next was led and finessed. East properly holding up his king.

Another diamond was led to dummy's queen and, this time, East won, returning his last heart. Declarer won and decided to sound out the club situation. He led the ace, king, and queen, and had East played automatically to those three cards his goose would have been cooked! He would have been caught flat-footed with a fourth round club winner. Declarer would have put him on lead with a club and he could not possibly have exited from his hand without giving dummy, with its three winning diamonds, the lead. Foreseeing this danger East deliberately jettisoned his club stopper by following with high clubs instead of the deuce! By so doing he established declarer's fourth and fifth clubs, but that was inconsequential, inasmuch as the total number of tricks that declarer could win thus were limited to eight. Because there was nothing else to do, declarer cashed his clubs and then led up to dummy's spade king. He was not greatly surprised (considering East's club unblock) when West put up the jack and the king lost to the ace in East's hand. A spade return to West's queen clinched victory for the defenders.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: My right hand opponent, not vulnerable, opened the bidding as dealer with a bid of four spades. I was vulnerable, and my hand was:

♠ 6 2 ♠ A 3 ♠ A 6 ♠ 10 9 7 6

I doubled. The bidder's partner redoubled and the contract was made with an overtrick. My partner was critical of my double. Was I wrong?

Answer: No, you were not wrong. Your double was quite justified. Obviously, your opponents must have had extraordinarily "fitting" hands. Possibly your partner, who also must have had a "freak hand" should have taken out the double.

ORGANIZATION IN THE HOME

Suggestions for Promoting Order With Household Articles

An attractive linen and blanket closet.

By Elizabeth Boykin.

LAW and order in closets is a very fine idea and most of the time we're all for it. Even though we do like to go on a radical bender once in a while and throw our things around in good revolutionary fashion.

Besides the new closet gadgets have quite won our heart. There are hat racks that practically tilt our hat for us and shoe trees that all but tie our shoe strings. But we're most devoted to hangers that are velvet covered so that our sheer dresses won't slither off on the floor. We like a few of those luxurious padded and satin covered hangers too because they hold our coats and sweaters without leaving their marks on the shoulders.

And the closet boxes! We adore them... flowered or satin or ribbon bowed. And drawer cabinets galore... and the extra shelf cupboards that go in stray corners to hold fluttery bits of this or that.

The stores are very nice indeed to ladies these days in thinking up so many ways of making life pleasanter and house keeping easier.

Our personal dream is to have a closet big enough for a dressing table, and set of drawers for underwear and stockings. Then we could do all of our dressing and fixing and throwing around without disrupting the bedroom. This doesn't take such a large closet either if the dressing table is made of a shelf on the wall. The mirror can be hung on the door and the shelf can have a railing around it so that a lady's bottles and boxes won't slide off when the door is opened and shut.

We saw a closet that we longed for the other day in delphinium and geranium pink. The walls were covered in delphinium blue quilted satin and it had a stand up dressing table (this is a good idea for a busy person). It was made of a narrow high tier of drawers, painted geranium pink, with a small mirror above it. In the drawers were individual places for everything from ribbons to rouge.

At either side were tall narrow sloping shelves for slippers. A side wall was divided with a partition, one section having a row at the usual height for street length clothes and the other section having a much higher rod where longer trailing dresses could hang without wishing the floor. Both sections have shelves above and some compartments with small doors where special things can be tucked away.

A small bench and a full length mirror completed this closet to our heart's delight. The cabinets, hangers and garment bags were geranium pink—the hat boxes were blue with pink bows atop them. The floor was covered in a black linoleum.

The nicest closet we've seen for a bachelor is huge and even had a telephone in it! Which seems like a very logical idea. It also has a compartment just about the right size for golf bag and clubs, along with a high mirror, a good light and drawers for his odds and ends. For his coats there were extra heavy curved shoulder hangers to hold them in shape and for his trousers clamp hangers to avoid the wrinkles caused by hanging the trousers over a bar. Very debonair in coloring, too—black, red and silver, which sounds just slightly devilish.

But, the cynics remind us, anybody could work out something clever with a closet all to himself or herself and such a galaxy of gadgets to choose from. The problem is to do as well with a closet that two people must share, particularly a man and wife who have different types of things to keep there.

WE've seen a very successful closet of this kind, too. In it the space was divided in half—his territory on one side, hers on the other. His rod was on the right of the door, hers on the left. In the center of the back wall a narrow tier of shelves divided off that space. This tier reached from the floor to the upper shelves and was sectioned to hold umbrellas, tennis rackets, golf clubs, canes and other awkward things. On the floor under the rods, on either side, were low layers of drawers... a useful way to use up space that is usually wasted. The inside of the door held shoe bags, the top half for her, the lower half for him. As for the colors—this is more of a problem since you have to have something not too ladylike and not masculine. This couple compromised on a color scheme that was rather smart—beige, brown and jade. The linoleum floor, walls, shelves and doors were all in beige... her garment bags and hangers were jade, his brown... her boxes and drawers and hat stands were jade, his brown. The shelves were all edged in brown and jade combination ruffling, and one shoe bag was brown and the other was jade.

For children, the main thing is to bring the rod for hangers and the shelves down in reach. That's easily done—a handy husband or a neighborhood carpenter can do the bit of carpentering necessary to accomplish that. Then you, madame, can have shelves in the top part for storage of household things that accumulate in the best of families. After the closet is in use, study it and fill in empty spaces with those useful drawer sections that come in versatile sizes to fill up odd corners. (This applies to grown-up closets too). Red and white is a popular color combination for a very young, closet... make garment bags out of peppermint striped material... cover the clothes hangers in peppermint stripes and wrap the metal crook that it hangs by with red and white ribbon alternating like a stick of peppermint candy. Cover the floor with red and white diagonal striped linoleum (made with inlaid pieces). Paint the walls white, and the door and shelves red. Have the drawer cupboards and shoe bags in red. There are cute little toy hat racks that will add jaunty touches too. In planning a child's closet, be sure to provide special places for skates, ball bats, and the like if you want your younger generation to grow up to be as neat as you'd like to be yourself. Built in cabinets are usually best for this purpose.

Special closets for special purposes are a great boon to the lady who likes to keep a well organized household. A bridge closet with compartments for bridge tables to slide into, and places for cards and scores and the like is grand. So is a closet for flower holders, candles, candlesticks, scissors and all the oddments you need for arranging the table or composing a vase of flowers. A linen closet is taken for granted—have glass shelves if possible.

But don't misunderstand us. We aren't recommending efficient closets as a panacea for deliberate or natural-born untidiness. But they do help a lot, even if you're not naturally neat, and if you are, they're a joy indeed. Personally we're not neat by nature, but we always get vicarious pleasure out of implements of neatness in doing well. Then realizes it falls flat.

She wonders, when you are "half-way-acquainted," do you sign a note "Very truly yours"? The ending that fills the bill is "Sincerely yours." Should she sign her name "Helen Jones Green," or "Mrs. Henry Green"? The former, of course, "Mrs. Henry Green" in parentheses in lower left corner if her married name may not be remembered.

Helen needs a handy guide such as our 32-page booklet of practical lessons about letters. Sample letters, vocabulary, what to write about, entertainingly discussed.

Home Dressmaking

If you are obliged to use your dining room table for the purpose of cutting out your clothes patterns, it is wise to first cover it with the asbestos pad. This will prevent the surface of the table from becoming scratched by scissors, pins, etc.

The "One-Way" In Opposition To Many Ways

"No Human Being Can Be Perfectly Safe or Sure in Life."

By Elsie Robinson

"WHY," says he, "can't you be consistent?"

"You claim to be a philosopher, and to know all the answers. Yet one day you give one kind of advice, and the next directly opposite. One day you say to be quiet—and the next to get busy. One day you say to fight your wrongs—and the next to bear them."

"What's the big idea? Why don't you tell us the one right way to live on every side, a top bluffing and write a cooking column instead?"

You're wrong, Elsie Robinson brother. I don't claim to be a philosopher nor to know all the answers. I merely claim to be Awful Example No. 1, and to pass on tips gleaned from my own bum guesses and painful penalties. And my general information is as cockeyed and limited as any common citizen's—maybe more so. But I DO know one thing—

Neither I nor anyone else can tell you the "one right way to live." For there is no "one right way."

There is no absolute, one hundred per cent standard of goodness. No fool-proof moral code.

Truth has a thousand faces, a million approaches. Righteousness changes with every day, every man, every emergency. The thing that may be as right as heaven for you to do today may be as wrong as hell for you to do tomorrow.

You're not just an isolated individual breaking your lone way through the wilderness, son. You're one of a vast crowd... a crowd of the living, the dead and those yet to be born... surrounding you to the shadow of the past, endlessly into the mists of the future. And you must keep faith with all those living, dead and unborn spirits as well as with your own desire.

You cannot do just what you wish or need in this human life. You are not free. You carry the torch from those who have laid it down, to those who must pick it up, and for those who march now by its light. And each step you make must be shaped to fit their necessity as well as your own.

"Just one right way"—what a lot of time and energy we waste looking for that one right way, and what a snap life would be if we could find it! And perhaps somewhere it exists—for clams or carrots. But it does not exist anywhere for a Man. There is no one right way for a Man. Man must learn all the ways, suffer all the consequences, in payment for the privilege of his humanity.

Why do I say "go slow" one day, "go fast" the next? Why do I say, "fight"—and in the same breath "be resigned?"

I don't say these things, brother. I just report them. It's Life that says them. Life says to every human being—

"You are a man. It is a great thing to be a Man—the greatest, highest honor that has ever happened to any living thing—the widest opportunity that has ever been granted. But it is also a fearful and a dangerous thing. You cannot be a Man—you cannot be the tops of the animal kingdom—and get off easily."

"You must pay for your superior endowment, for your proud but terrible gift of mind and soul. You must give up the sluggish existence the lesser creatures know, and face the hazards of the gods—in whose ranks you now belong. You can no longer be a carrot or a clam. You're a Man now, and you've got to keep guessing and keep going."

That's what life says to every human being. That is why no human being can ever be Perfectly Safe—Perfectly Safe. That's why there can be no One Right Way of Living. If you want to be a Man—you've got to keep guessing and keep going.

Cheese Custard

Try this recipe and bake in buttered custard cups instead of a pie shell. Put two cups cottage cheese through a fine sieve and add the yolks of two eggs, a pinch of salt, one-half cup cream or rich milk, sugar to taste. Beat well. Pour into cups and sprinkle the tops with either cinnamon or nutmeg. Bake in a slow oven until firm when tested with a silver knife.

Bad Temper Of Children In Morning

It Usually Means Fatigue and Need of Something to Lift Spirits.

By Angelo Patri

HENRY sat down at the breakfast table yawning. "I don't want burnt toast. You know I can't eat it when it is burned."

"I don't see why I can't have toast without its being burned as black as my shoes."

"Why, Henry, that toast is not burned."

"Well, it is for me, that's all. Give me some cereal. Maybe I can eat that. Isn't there any orange juice?"

"Yesterday you said you did not want any orange juice so I cooked the prunes for you instead."

"Prunes. Prunes. PRUNES. Gee, if there is one thing I hate it is PRUNES."

"Now that is enough, Henry. You've said plenty to last for the day. Eat your breakfast or leave it alone. And one thing more, I'm not going to serve you another breakfast until you can come to the table and eat like a gentleman."

"Oh, all right, all right. If I say the least little thing you jump me. I was only saying—"

This happens almost every morning with Henry. He gets down to breakfast feeling like a bear with a sore head and he makes the house like a bear den before he gets into school. By noon he feels fine. He is smiling and cheerful and has forgotten his grouchy of the morning completely. He is surprised to find his mother silent and stern. "Now what did I do?" he asks.

NOTHING that his mother can do seems to help much. She makes him get to bed early enough to insure a good, long sleep. The longer he sleeps the more he feels like a bear. He just feels that way, he explains. When he gets started for the day he feels better. That's how he is, he cheerfully explains.

If you have a breakfast grouchy in the house try giving him a glass of orange juice, or warm milk, as he rises, before he leaves his bed. These cross children are usually adolescents. They seem to have to overcome some sort of weight upon their bodies and spirits. They are in a stage of growth where fatigue poisons are likely to make trouble. It may be that some of this morning difficulty is caused by some such process.

Anyway we have found that giving them a glass of fruit juice, a glass of warm milk, a cup of hot tea, not too strong, and served with sugar and lemon, helps a great deal.

In the first place they are pleased and loved by his attention. They feel that their difficulties have been recognized and met. That gives them a lift of spirit. They feel lighter all over and getting out of bed is not such a task after all. They get downstairs in better mood. It would be graceless indeed to growl at people who had been so solicitous of one's welfare as to serve them the very first thing in the morning.

Bad temper early in the morning is an indication of poor health somewhere. It usually means fatigue. Try the morning cure and see how it works for your particular patient.

IF YOU ASK MY OPINION

By Martha Carr

Dear Mrs. Carr: I AM a girl 13 years old. I don't want advice, but would appreciate your kindness. I will please print this in your paper. Some foolish person has dog out on the corner of a larger and Pennsylvania dog surely proved more loyal than the person who turned him out. All right long that dog carefully surveyed every corner as if searching for a reward. If people who want to be kind to dogs would realize that their dogs would suffer for that purpose, there would be half as many dogs suffering as there are. Thank you very much. A DOG L

I agree with you that who would turn an animal on a highway to starve or not only has little human sympathy, but shows a lack of intelligence. The humane society would be just as much needed, since that anyone can rant of it.

Dear Martha Carr: I SHOULD like to say a word to the young ex-convicts who appeared in your paper. I feel like a stranger at the turn of his life recently. You I was a very young child when I was sent to prison. I went to visit him and he soon got the parole and went to a job. He had learned a profit so he found a job in this prison sentence was the adjoining state, so he explained his lack of difficulty in a job. However, it was easy as may sound, but it was influence went toward helping us.

There were many trying to be faced even after the secured. My father was under suspicion, as is true today, he is a trustful man. However, my father did not deny it if anyone front him.

Now comes the problem. Should I tell my fore marriage, or should I chance of his never finding out.

All I have to say young ex-convict has a life ahead of him and he has to get used to the life he has inflicted upon him. He must go around feeling himself not good, nor by any means he return to vice; he must learn to take it and even pan out in the end.

There is here a question which only you can decide. But, I would be far better young man than to a fortunate situation a would be hard for him. You will have to face him at some time, sure of that. However, in such a situation, I believe that you would revealing the unfortunate your father's life. Certainly, less closely identified family, could have a to this knowledge.

Dear Mrs. Carr: My husband is a man who I cannot find a way to pay well (we have a large family). I am a housekeeper. My husband is a man who I cannot find a way to pay well (we have a large family). The Private Papers of a Cub Reporter.

One of the speediest ways for a New Yorker to wear out his welcome in the movie center is to offer one of those lists of best ten. And so this department's list follows: Olivia De Havilland (the cutest gal in town) . . . 2: Virginia Bruce (the prettiest blonde) . . . 3: Betty Furness (the second prettiest blonde) . . . 4: Gail Patrick (the prettiest brunette) . . . 5: Kay Francis (most chic) . . . 6: Carol Lombard (most legs) . . . 7: Ginger Rogers (most graceful ballroom dancer) . . . 8: Eleanor Powell (most unsophisticated) . . . 9: Alice Joyce (most lovely) and 10: Joan Crawford (the most—most).

One of the gazettes published the much-discussed interview that Marlene Dietrich gave to Sheila Graham, and then repudiated. . . In it Miss Dietrich was quoted as saying that American men weren't so hot. That she hasn't met any American men who had culture, charm, etc.

This served to inspire the newest retort proper read in a long time. . . We don't recall exactly, but E. V. Durling said something like this "Miss Dietrich certainly is entitled to her opinion of American men, but so are we to ours of Miss Dietrich. The public, no doubt, would be surprised no little to see a news photo of Miss Dietrich dining, dancing, walking or motoring with her husband, instead of so many of our American men."

Adam and Eve dropped. La Dietrich, incidentally, wears top lights for fingerlings. . . Betty Furness wears a piece of millinery that reminds you of Ted Lewis' well-known battered old top hat. . . When Franchot Tone leaves and returns to the table (at which Joan Crawford and Barbara Stanwyck are also seated) Robert Taylor stands up politely. . . Taylor is rated as the town's all-around nice boy—by the people who matter. . . Anita Colby (Counihan to Broadway's crowd) is set for "Count Peter." She will play the role of a high class bad girl—which is only half correct. . . The only thing bad about her is that she is so good. . . Heard almost everywhere you go: "You mean to say you don't know him? Why, he makes 5 Gs a week."

One of the movie producers has a neat way of finding out whether applicants for jobs have had stage or screen experience. . . George W. Hillman's trick is a simple test in his office. He tells the aspirant to pick up his telephone and speak to. . . If the mouthpiece is held below the chin—he gets the okay. . . But if he holds it in front of his face, it's no deal. The reason: No actor likes anything like his face.

George Jean Nathan, the boy who poses as a dramatic critic, went to see a cinema the other evening. He took a doll with him. On the way in she asked him to buy her some chocolate bars that came wrapped in crinkly paper. Nathan stood aghast at the suggestion. . . "Why shouldn't I have them?" she pouted. . . "Because," snapped Nathan, "I'm a light sleeper."

I WRITE AS I PLEASE

The Soviet Begins to Take an Important Part in International Affairs—a Trip to Genoa.

CHAPTER SIX

I RETURNED to Paris at the end of January, 1932, after spending five months in the Soviet Union. By this time certain definite ideas about Russia had begun to form in my mind. When I first went there at the end of August, my only instructions from New York were to report the facts as I saw them, but to avoid quoting statements of Soviet spokesmen or newspapers, unless in the form of direct interviews given to foreign correspondents by Commissars or other leaders, "because we do not want to make the New York Times a vehicle for Bolshevik propaganda." So great was the fear of the Red Bogy in orthodox America, despite the belief it shared with the rest of the non-Soviet world that N. E. P. meant return to a modified form of Capitalism.

During the first two or three months I had been too busy reporting the famine and the fantastic phenomena of Soviet life to pay much attention to politics, but I tried from the outset "to learn over backwards" in being fair to the Bolsheviks rather than allow my own prejudices or those of my paper and its readers to influence my work. The New York office was evidently satisfied because I received a raise in salary at the end of the year, without my asking for it, and the message, "Henceforth you may quote Soviet newspapers or spokesmen, but be careful to make it clear that you are quoting, not expressing your own opinion."

This appeared simple, but I sometimes found that the copy-readers in New York had added the words, "it is thought here" in parenthesis to my dispatches, in order to dissociate me and by consequence the New York Times from responsibility for views expressed. With this minor exception my copy was never altered or cut in New York, which as every foreign correspondent knows is as rare a privilege as it is encouraging to the writer. I particularly appreciated this treatment from the New York Times because much of my copy contained facts and statements about Soviet progress that were both startling and unwelcome from a capitalist viewpoint. I soon found that the course of life in Russia was so remote from American habit and comprehension that a great deal of explanation was required, which led no less an authority than Heywood Brown to charge me with "writing editorials from Moscow disguised as news dispatches."

I still believe that interpretation of news is quite different from editorial writing and that I had no alternative. It is better, no doubt, for a foreign correspondent to stick to the facts as far as he can and allow the interpretation to be provided editorially by his home office, but if the latter lacks sufficient information, as was the case about Russia in the early 1920's, it is, I think, the duty of the correspondent to fill the gap where he can.

I stayed in Paris until April to replace the regular correspondent of the New York Times, Edwin James, who was covering the Genoa Conference. It was now clear that I could have a permanent position in Moscow if I wanted it; I decided that I did, for three reasons. First, I wished to be independent and have a job of my own. Second, I could see that work in the Soviet Union would be highly specialized and that a careful study of Bolshevik mentality and methods would be as essential as a knowledge of the Russian language.

fireplace in one of the smaller rooms, which made a pleasant study, and had a bedroom and bathroom, in addition, as well as a kitchen with a separate entrance.

I owed much to that fireplace during those early years in Moscow; it was almost the only one in the city and made a great appeal to foreign hearts irrespective of the political chords to which they thrilled. It attracted my colleagues and the A. R. A. men and Englishmen from two opposite camps, the diplomatic Mission and Communists from the Lux Hotel, which was less than a quarter of a mile from my apartment. The members of the Mission were required to know Russian perfectly and had all been diplomats, soldiers or business men in Russia during or prior to the war. They were naturally hostile to the Bolsheviks on account of what had happened to them and their friends during the early days of the revolution, which most of them had actively opposed. I soon found that although I was on good terms with the members of the British Mission as individuals I was forced to question the justice and acumen of their political views. There was a most level-headed Scotchman named Peters, far less violent in his prejudice than most of his colleagues, who marshaled facts and figures in the spring of 1922 to prove that the Soviet transportation system must soon collapse utterly, not only because the rails and rolling stock were falling to pieces but because the sleepers were so rotten that nothing save the frozen water in which they were saturated held them together. Peters failed to take into account Dierhinsky's energy and the terror of his name, although that is another story which will come later.

It is rather strange that two years before in Riga I had been associated with exactly the same type of English and other foreigner as was represented by the British Mission in Moscow without ever feeling inclined to doubt their judgment or ask whether there was not something to be said for the Bolshevik side also. Perhaps it was that William Bolitho had taught me in the interval to think for myself or merely that the facts of the last two years spoke louder for the Bolsheviks than words. In any event I gradually found that the glib prophecies of Soviet downfall, which were made every day in foreign circles in Moscow, began to rouse my antagonism rather than acquiescence. Moreover it was tiresome to be treated like a new boy at school by these old Russian hands with their incessant "Well, of course you don't know this country yet. A man who's been here a year or two and learned some Russian you will think quite differently." They were quite impervious to any of my arguments, the only effect of which was to create the impression that I was tinged with pink myself.

Unknown in Life Essential To Humanity

By The Rev. J. F. Newton

THE manager of a London bus company had a bright idea, and it made a big hit in his business. Knowing that people are attracted by the unknown, he organized a service of "Mystery Tours."

So, instead of advertising a tour to the Trossachs, or to Oxford, or down in Devon, or some other place, he kept his route to himself, and people filled his buses to find out where he was going.

When they asked him, "Where are you going to take us today?" he said, "Ah, ha! That is a secret. Come and find out." And it worked—it saved people all the bother of making up their minds.

Besides, they had the added zest of wondering where he was going, and which route he would take. They could guess, speculate, and even bet, on the hidden route, and the journey was full of surprise.

Life is like that, too. It is a mystery tour from beginning to end. We do not know where we are going. Nor do we know how long the journey will be. Still less do we know what will befall us.

Of course we know the direction, and that life will end in death—if death be an end! But we do not know what a single day may bring us, much less what tomorrow may have in store.

If it were otherwise; if we did know what is to happen to us and when, life would be an unbearable bore. George Eliot has a story about how dull life would be if we knew the future.

One of the terrible things about our machine age is that it makes life a deadening routine. It robs our days of adventure, mystery, zest, and surprise—it kills something in us.

Here lies the fascination of gambling, so a man of science told us. It is a craze, a madness with us today, because life is such a grind that its glory is gone—its sense of mystery faded.

"Waste no breath on me," says a dying soldier in a Galsworthy story; "you cannot help. Who knows? I am adventuring." Yes, we may rob life of mystery, but death is the great Mystery Tour! (Copyright, 1936.)

Peach Conserve

Six cups peeled peaches (seeded).

Six cups sugar.

Three tablespoons lemon juice.

Mix ingredients and boil 10 minutes, lower fire and simmer until mixture "jells." Stir frequently with wooden spoon. Pour into sterilized glasses and when cool, seal with melted paraffin.

An Invisible Darn

Nothing will darn the tear in the wool dress like ravellings from the material. If you have patches from the dress, by all means ravel out enough thread or silk to use for darning. If you have no patches, perhaps you can spare enough thread from underneath the hem for this job. It will be well worth the effort.

Happy Home

I'm mighty proud of my wife. Keeps the house spick and span yet her hands—they look like a queen's!

LUKE S. MULLIN

My husband is sweet to say that. I've a secret that keeps my hands nice—Lux for dishes. It's a real beauty care!

MRS. MULLIN

KEEP your hands lovely with gentle Lux. Has no harmful alkali—turns dishwashing into a beauty treatment. Costs less than 1¢ a day.

Satin Styles For evening glaze satins are all the rage. They come in the frosty colors of summer sherberts, formal enough for any occasion, cool enough for the sultriest nights in town. They look new, luxurious and a step ahead of the mode.

TOMORROW'S HOROSCOPE

For Tuesday, July 7.

EARLY thought, decisions and actions look best today. Afternoon is good for creative activities in art, literature, music and mechanics—same during the afternoon till and including Saturday this week; make them count big.

The Developing Horoscope.

In every horoscope is evidence of strength which its owner has not yet put to use. This is because the possibilities for expansion of human consciousness are unlimited even this entire life being but one of many stages in the soul's development. No horoscope has ever been read to a conclusion. No man can see all it contains for it constantly means more as we live it.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead is emotional with stimulation to share, form alliances, make new friends, cultivate past matters, persons, erase enemies if any from Dec. 29. Danger: now to Aug. 31 and Dec. 1 1936 to Jan. 22 1937.

Wednesday.

Avoid faulty judgment; socially favorable in evening.

Take Care of the Weaknesses

The housewife who is stronger in some ways than others will be wise to study these points and arrange her work in a way to help her through the day without getting so tired. If her feet are a weak point, she will stop for a while during each hour and do some darning or sewing. If her eyes are poor, she will sandwich in some cleaning between her sewing and reading. She will soon find her days are not so hard if she goes about it in a scientific way.

Animals Leave For Camping Trip With Hopes High

By Mary Graham Bonney

JELLY BEAR, Honey Bear, Jupiter and Blacky Bear and Cub Chubby, Christopher Columbus Crow, Sweet Face, the lamb, Rip, the dog, Mr. and Mrs. Quack Duck and the other ducks, and Top Notch, the rooster, were all going off for a camping trip.

They wanted to give the little gnome-like man, Willy Nilly, a chance to attend to his sticking-out pointed ears. In fact, Top Notch had heard Grandma and Grandpa Grouchy Galump say that if Willy Nilly only had time he could see a man they knew who would fix his ears, so that they would be quite perfect.

"Now," said Willy Nilly, as he saw them making ready, "don't camp too far away from Pudding Muddle."

"We'll always be near enough so that Christopher can fly back and forth with messages. He won't bother you at all at first, but after a little while he'll want to see that you are getting on all right."

"And I'll want to know how all of you are faring," smiled Willy Nilly.

"Just wait a few minutes and I'll fix up some sandwiches for you to take along," he added.

"We'll be delaying you," said Top Notch.

"It won't take me more than a half a jiffy," said Willy Nilly.

So they sat down in front of his house and waited. Soon the sandwiches were ready, and Willy Nilly gave Jelly Bear an old rug to carry in case any of them needed it, although the nights were certainly warm enough.

There has been a national effort to reduce the number of highway accidents by closing some of the highways. What this country needs on holidays are more detours that don't go anywhere.

Drivers were drinking Saturday because the Liberty Bell rang 160 years ago. That's when they gave George III the gong.

Drinking in 1936 is rather late for something that happened in 1776. But our chauffeurs will drink to anything anywhere, provided somebody was hurt at the time.
